ENVOYS SEEK TO FIND A PLAN TO PREVENT WAR.

Washington, April 28.—The Mexican crisis now is centering on the issue between those seeking around for a pacific settlement through the aid of the Latin American diplomats and those who regard a resort to arms as an inevitable consequence of what has occurred.

The envoys of Chile, Argentina and Brazil held conferences all while the military and navy forces of the United States, continue their preparation for any eventualities. The arrival of General Funston with a brigade of five thousand troops at Vera Cruz was the chief military development of the day.

Chief interest centered in the meeting of the envoys at the Argentina legation. The meetings were secret and no announcements were made of the results of the deliberations, which largely are in the nature of general survey and conferences with the best informed men of both sides to develop an avenue of approach toward a satisfactory middle ground.

President Wilson held a meeting of his cabinet. The Colorado situation, however, was the chief topic discussed, although the Mexican question continued in progress. Care was taken to make no announcement embarrassing to the efforts of the South American diplomats. It is understood that neither side has submitted formal conditions and that neither has been asked concerning concessions.

The report at the European diplomatic quarters was that a provisional commission form of government should be planned for Mexico. This was not confirmed by those familiar with the conferences, who announced that such reports were wholly speculative at the present stage of the negotiations or might be calculated to embarrass their efforts. Another report said that the envoys might visit Mexico City and talk with Huerta.

General Funston, arriving at Vera Cruz, found waiting an order for the army to relieve the navy of its duties ashore.

REBELS WONT MIDDLE.

El Paso, April 28.—Villa and Carranza reached an agreement that the rebels will remain mere spectators of the controversy between the United States and Huerta until the rebel territory is invaded, according to Mexican newspapers arriving here from Chihuahua tonight.

AMERICANS KILLED.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—An unconfirmed report was received here today to the effect that six Americans had been taken from the jail at Cordoba and killed; also that an American was executed

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION POSTPONED.

The Thirty-first Annual State Convention of the North Carolina Sunday School Association which was to have been held in Winston-Salem, May 5-7, has been postponed until September, the exact date to be announced later.

For a number of years the Executive Committee has had under consideration the advisability of changing the Convention from the spring until the fall since all the township and county conventions are being held during the spring and summer months. It seems best to make the change this year on account of several conflicts, and near conflicts, with other meetings in the other parts of the state, together with several other interruptions.

DEATHS

MRS. HOLCOMB

Mrs. Cloe Elizabeth Holcomb, wife of the late D. M. Holcomb, of Boonville, route, died last Friday evening, April 24th, after an illness lasting two weeks. Heart trouble claimed her as a victim. She was 71 years of age.

Mrs. Holcomb's maiden name was Gross, daughter of Mr. Moses Gross. She was married 53 years ago to D. M. Holcomb, and to this union were born 8 children, seven of whom survive: J. M. Holcomb, of Jonesville; C. E. Holcomb, of Elkin; Sant, A. C., and D. Holcomb, of Boonville; Mrs. Dollie McCall, of Oskaloosa, Iowa. Dr. P. M. Holcomb died about 8 years ago.

Mrs. Holcomb had been a member of the Baptist church for 50 years or more, and was a good, kind hearted, christian woman, and loved by the entire community, and by a host of people throughout the surrounding country, and will be sadly missed in the home and community.

The funeral services were conducted from Swain's church Sunday by Rev. J. N. Binkley, pastor of the church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Swain's church cemetery, in the presence of a host of sorrowing friends and relatives.

The bereaved have the tenderest sympathy of the Tribune.

MRS. CARLTON

At the ripe old age of more than one hundred years, Mrs. Elizabeth Carlton, of near Marler, died Monday, and was buried at Swain's church Tuesday. She was, perhaps, Yadkin county's oldest woman. The direct cause of her death was not learned, but it is presumed that her advanced age and general disability linked together to claim her to her reward above. She was a good woman, and much beloved.

WILEY LYONS

At the ripe old age of 84 years, Mr. Wiley Lyons, of Harp, Wilkes county, died April 21st, and was buried Wednesday following. Paralysis and old age is assigned as the cause of his death. The funeral services were held at the church, by Rev. G. M. Burcham. In the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives, the remains were interred in the family burying ground, to await the resurrection.

He joined the church 25 years ago, and since has lived a most honorable and upright life, and his straight walk has been the guide for many. Mr. Lyons was a good and kind hearted man, and in his death the home loses a devoted husband, the church a loyal member, and the community one of its most honored citizens. The kindest sympathy of our people is with the bereaved in this sad hour.
