ELKIN, N. C. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1920

NO. 31.

TO SEE A NEW ERA IN POLITICAL LIFE

NOMINEES OF BOTH POLITICAL PARTIES ARE GOING TO BE HARD PRESED.

WOMEN TO KNOCK OUT "RINGS"

Attorney General Manning Rules that Winning Candidates on 10th Hour Ticket can not be Counted Out Battleground.

The entrance of women into the political life of North Carolina means that both Republican and Democratic nominees for county offices in some sections of the state are going to be hard pressed in the November elections, it reports reaching Raleigh a day before voting opens.

There is going to be a wholesale repudiation of "rings" in some counties where for years the "ring" is charged with having its own way in the selection of candidates. This is particularly true in counties of eastern North Carolina, as the story is told by suffrage advocates. And John Palmer, of Winston, is authority for the statement that such a condition exists in Warren county where the women voters, tired unto death of the "ring" domination, have set about with determination to wipe the slate clean and begin anew.

Already three first-class voters have come from Attorney General Manning to the legislature of placing in their ballot ticket is the running after naming candidates in mass meeting. The attorney general is quoted as telling the ladies that the people cannot be disregarded. If the election hour ticket carries over both documents there is no way under the power of counting its candidates out.

The author of the story, for years a suffrage advocate and who has tasted defeat in more than one political fight because of his progressive ideas, thinks that the women generally will vote as their fathers before them, but also believes that there is an element over the state that will not be held in check.

Improving Cotton Mill.
The textiles and alterations to Pollock Hall at State College are going forward rapidly, and it is hoped that the millwork on the second floor of the building, where most of the work is being done, will be ready for use early in September.

Faculty of Van Atta.
The State College of Agriculture and Mechanic announces a faculty of 15 for the department of machine engineering. Prof. L. L. Vaughan heads the department vice H. E. Rutherford, who resigned during the summer to enter the contracting business.

First Woman to Register.
Probably the first woman to register in North Carolina is Mrs. Mabel Aycock of Rock Spring Township, Wayne county. She was standing a meeting in her community August 26, when the news was announced of general Oliver's proclamation of the 9th amendment to the federal constitution. The local registrar was at present, and Mrs. Aycock registered for the special school election which is now in full blast.

Good Work of Auditor's Office.
Within two days after the general assembly had ratified the revenue bill the former, made in quadruplicate for 25 separate corporations, to fit their franchise taxes under the regulation had been printed and sent in the hands of the auditor. The work was done in the state auditor's office without any additional assistance.

Opening of School for Blind.
Under the supervision of Director General G. E. Lapham the first arrangements are being made for the opening of the State School for the blind September 20. Many new members have been added to the faculty, and the teaching staff as before is to be divided into the three main groups.

State Census Figures.
Washington, (Special)—The Census Bureau has issued population figures for North Carolina counties:

Orange County, 17,486; increase, 2.4%.

Hanover County, 41,147; increase, 2.3%; 1,003 or 2.1 per cent.

Surry County, 42,818; increase, 2.3%; 948 or 2.2 per cent.

Henderson County, 19,548; increase, 2.3%; 435 or 2.2 per cent; Hendersonville, 8,339.

Twist Granted Free Pardon.
Charles B. Pirie, of Union county, who was a capital punishment after conviction of first degree murder, as the companion of the death sentence by Governor W. W. Kirkland, for his imprisonment, goes free after ten years of service in the State Prison.

Pirie was granted his clemency because no representations from leading citizens of that county, who say that circumstances have left the condition in the country that Pirie committed the crime, where great agents must be citizens. Although the annual session of the General Assembly of North Carolina was called upon to do important things, aside from the special work of submitting amendments to the State constitution relating to suffrage and taxation, only two matters especially relating to the State Department of Insurance were acted upon.

The revenue bill, designed to lessen taxes for the counties and cities, increased franchises and license taxes all along the line, for State purposes. In this way the fees for all local insurance agents were raised from one to three dollars, and the fee for special agents, and organizers were increased from three to five dollars. To this latter class was attached this important section: "and no license shall issue to any person who is not a resident of the State of North Carolina and who has not been a bona fide resident for at least two years prior to the date when such application for license is filed with the insurance department." Deputy Insurance Commissioner Wade, pronounces this a most valuable aid to the department in clearing the State of professional long-distance stock sellers, who come under the provisions of the "blue sky" law. He expresses gratification that already several cities in the State are arranging for their boards to scrutinize and examine these concerns before they sell stock.

"You're too well dressed to be going around with a few dimes in your pocket," the robber remarked.

"Well, you're doing the searching," Toler replied. "You've got all I carry."

The robber then searched Toler more closely and finally found a secret pocket in a sleeve of Toler's coat in which Toler carried a purse and $5.

After extracting the cash the robber loaded the empty purse back to Toler as he remarked:

"Put that back in the kick and next time don't try to cheat on honest men."

Today the Toler home is desolate

The manufacturer of rum here was granted a permit to do so.
