

WEARERS OF GRAY IN REUNION AT WINSTON

Bent and Slow, 150 Confederates Gather for Their 23rd Annual Reunion; May Be Last

Winston-Salem, Sept. 23.—The wearers of gray descended on Winston-Salem from all sections of the state today to attend the 23rd annual reunion of the North Carolina division of the United Confederacy which got under way at the Robert E. Lee hotel tonight.

More than 150 veterans, bent of form and slow of step, but with hearts aglow with memories, had registered late today. Others are expected tomorrow morning and the indications are that the total attendance for the reunion will reach 200.

The session tonight was devoted entirely to the inaugural ceremonies. Major H. P. Watson, commander of Norfleet camp, Winston-Salem, called the meeting to order and after several musical selections had been heard, Mayor George W. Coan, delivered a brief address in which he generously welcomed the heroes of the Confederacy to the city.

Other addresses of welcome were delivered by Mrs. W. O. Spencer, president of the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and C. M. Norfleet, representing the Winston-Salem camp of Sons of Confederate Veterans. J. G. Berrier, of Charlotte, and Major C. J. Kuester responded to the welcome addresses.

The first business session will be held tomorrow at 9:30 o'clock. Committees will be appointed at that time. Major General W. A. Smith, of Ansonville, commander of the North Carolina division, will be escorted to the chair and will preside over the session.

Tomorrow afternoon a parade

Regular war-time gas is being used to kill rats on Riker's Island, New York, and the same method is effective against gophers, woodchucks and other burrowing rodents.

J. W. BAILEY ATTENDS CHURCH SERVICE HERE

Hears Rev. Eph Whisenhunt, Pastor of Baptist Church, On Sunday Evening.

While even the closest friends of Hon. J. W. Bailey were unaware of his presence in the city, the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate quietly and unassumingly took his seat in the congregation of the First Baptist church and heard the splendid sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. Eph Whisenhunt, Sunday evening. Returning to his hotel, he spent the night and quietly made his way to Sparta on Monday, where he was scheduled to deliver an address. His speaking tour called for a speech at West Jefferson on Tuesday, and at Elkin last night, where he addressed the citizens of Elkin.

In view of the fact that The Tribune went to press early in order to reach the rural sections with the announcement of the farmers' celebration and program, it was impossible to get Mr. Bailey's speech in time for publication this week.

will be held and the veterans will be taken on a sight seeing tour of the city. The officers will be elected Thursday morning.

The veterans began arriving in Winston-Salem early today. Committees appointed by the local camp of sons of veterans and the U. D. C. met the heroes and are seeing to it that their stay here is an enjoyable one.

Although no decision has been reached and will not be reached before the session Thursday, it is not improbable that this will be the last state reunion. The lines are growing thinner every year and many of the veterans who have taken active part in these get-togethers are feeble and it may be decided to discontinue the annual reunions. However, the proposal may find opposition when it is brought up for discussion.

The oldest veteran here for the gathering is Rev. Stanley May, of Yadkin county. He is more than 95 years of age. There are a number of delegates who have passed the age of 90.

ONE MAN INJURED WHEN CAR SKIDDED

Driving On Highway 26 North of State Road During Rains Of the Week-End

Two gentlemen from Mount Airy, Messrs. Wall and Beamer, came near being involved in a serious accident last Saturday when the car in which they were riding skidded on the wet highway north of State Road.

The car became unmanageable and left the road, turning side-wise and stopping with the rear end against a telephone pole. Considerable damage was done to the rear of the car, but the bumpers proved to be a great protection.

Mr. Wall suffered a wrenched back, but it is not thought to be of a serious nature, and after a few hours spent in Elkin the gentlemen returned to the Granite City. Mr. Beamer escaped uninjured, and drove the car on the return journey to their homes.
