

NEW GAME LAW FOR THE STATE

Farmers of North Carolina May Now Merge Their Acres And Charge For Hunting Privileges

The following measure designed "to provide better hunting in North Carolina and to give landowners in the state revenue therefrom" has been passed by both houses without amendment:

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. To amend Chapter 51, Public Laws of North Carolina, Session 1927, by adding the following section between Sections 33 and 34: Section 33 (a). Privately owned public hunting grounds. In order to improve hunting, to open to the public lands well stocked with game, and to give landowners some income through game protection and propagation, the State of North Carolina through the Department of Conservation and Development, is authorized to recognize, list, and assist the owners in protecting their lands which are a part of public hunting grounds organized under this section of the North Carolina Game Law, subject to the following conditions, stipulations, and such rules as the Conservation Board may adopt for the regulation of said hunting grounds:

(1) The minimum area recognized under this act is three thousand (3,000) acres.

(2) Owners of lands included in a hunting ground formed under this act must organize, adopt rules and regulations for the operation of said hunting ground, and be recognized by the Department of Conservation and Development before such hunting grounds are put into operation under this act.

(3) The Department of Conservation and Development will list and assist in advertising such public hunting grounds as are formed under this act, subject to such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the board from time to time, and in accordance with the North Carolina Game Law and this act. The Department of Conservation and Development will furnish as cost to the owner of public hunting grounds posters to be used in posting such lands. Posters to state that the lands are posted under this section of the North Carolina Game Law, and in case of withdrawal of recognition by the Department such posters shall be removed from the lands affected within ten days after notice to owner or owners.

(4) Owners of public hunting grounds shall require of such and every hunter the prescribed hunting licenses as set forth elsewhere in the North Carolina Game Law.

(5) The owners of public hunting grounds may require of each and every hunter a per day rate for hunting, rates to be approved by the Department of Conservation and Development, said rates not to exceed four dollars ($4.00). In addition to charges for the privilege of shooting game, landowners may charge a dog hire when landowners furnish dogs, dogs to be furnished only by request of the hunter.

(6) When any group of owners of a public hunting ground organized under this act decide to promote the hunting of certain kinds of game, said kinds of game and for stocking to be propagated in game breeding plants recognized and operated under the game and other laws of North Carolina, the owners shall be permitted to charge hunters such fees and rates as are approved by the Board of Conservation and Development.

(7) No hunter is allowed to quit the hunting grounds at the end of the day's or part of a day's hunting without seeing the authority who gave him permission to hunt on said hunting grounds and paying all accounts due said authority.

(8) No construction or interpretation shall be put on this section or any part thereof as to permit the sale of dead game killed in accordance with this act, abrogate the bag limits, time of hunting, open and closed seasons as prescribed elsewhere in the North Carolina Game Law.

(9) No person shall hunt or discharge firearms upon any public hunting grounds organized under this section without being accompanied by one of the landowners or a personal representative of one of the landowners, or after securing, on the day of the hunt or day preceding the hunt, written permission to hunt under the authority of this act, said written permission to bear the name in full, age, and address of the hunter, under the penalty of being fined in the courts, upon conviction, not less than $25.00 for each and every offense.

(10) When hunting grounds on any part thereof, organized and operated under this act, are used for purposes not consistent with the Federal, State, and local laws, the Department of Conservation and Development shall withdraw recognition from the use of such part thereof, as are deemed advisable and report the cause to the proper civic officials.

Frank Martin, son of John Martin, of near Hamptonville, was struck by an automobile Sunday night, April 12th, at about 11:30 o'clock, the car being driven by "Doc" Holloman of Brooks Cross Roads, and the accident occurring near the former Hens postoffice, in Yadkin county.

Martin, who was walking along the highway, was knocked into unconsciousness by the impact of the car, the door handle striking his shoulder and dislocating it. Physicians who attended him fear that he will suffer permanent injury, it is said.

Holloman stated that young Martin was in an apparent drunken condition, and staggering as he walked along the highway, which, perhaps accounts for his being hit. Holloman is said to have used profanity freely, and this was directed at Martin, whom Holloman threatened to take to jail, it is said. Holloman is operator of a filling station at Brooks Cross Roads.
