

LOOKING BACKWARD 12 YEARS

Interesting items from Tribune files of 12 years ago this week.

The body of a well-developed pig, having two bodies with eight feet and legs and only one head, is being preserved in alcohol and can be seen in a show case at B. S. Call's store. The pig was among a litter born on Mr. Ed Cockerham's farm last week and was secured and brought in by Dr. Wellborn.

Mr. Miles Royall returned to Winston-Salem yesterday, after spending a day or two here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Royall.

Dr. C. G. Bryant and Bangham Benton, of Jonesville, left Monday for Hot Springs, Ark.

Bryant will enter the army and navy hospital for a three-months' treatment for rheumatism. Mr. Benton will take similar treatment in a private hospital at that noted health resort.

Mrs. Edson Peck, of Bristol, Tenn., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. S. Currier at her home on Main street, West Elkin.

Mr. N. W. Tharp and Messrs. Eubanks and Nance, of Monroe, spent a day or two in Elkin this week with friends.

Married, April 4, Dr. Ira S. Gambill and Miss Nancy Gentry. Rev. Grant Cothran officiating. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the family being present. We extend congratulations. Also Mr. Armfield Bauguess and Miss Mamie Hanks were married April 10.

Mrs. J. S. Roth returned Friday from Winston-Salem, where she had her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kennickel.

Wednesday morning was real cold with a heavy frost, which, we guess, killed what peaches were left from last week's cold snap.

Mrs. A. V. Weeden, of Blowing Rock, is visiting her son-in-law, Mr. C. G. Armfield, at his home on Gwyn Avenue.

SWAN CREEK NEWS

There were only 126 in Sunday school last Sunday. Seems like we are dragging a little, but probably it will pick up in the near future.

Cool Springs News

What have you heard this week about the Sunday School and other things of importance? We had 133 present for Sunday School yesterday.

Twelve visitors were with us, among them being Mr. J. E. Benge, Thurmond, Mrs. Geo. Darnell of this church, lovingly known as "Aunt Mat." We were proud to have Mrs. Darnell as a visitor in our class. Mrs. Loto Carter of Shoaly Branch was present, being the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Carter.

Rev. I. W. Vestal filled his regular appointment here yesterday, and spoke to a good crowd, despite the unfavorable weather. Rev. Vestal preached a splendid sermon, and appointed delegates to attend the S. S. convention next Sunday.

The Children's Day has been postponed because of the illness of our choir director and the infant daughter of Mrs. Paul Newman. Mr. Wall will furnish the musical part of the program and Mrs. Newman was appointed to help arrange the other parts. However, we hope that we may give the program shortly.

Farmers are going forward with their work as though the depression was not known in this little corner of the world, for farmers as a class haven't been so used to high wages and frequent paydays, so they still work preparing land for spring planting, although tobacco will not be a heavy crop. Farms in general are in better condition than they were five years ago, as a pretty extensive program of soil improvement has been going on for about that length of time. Clover fields are green now, and many acres of lespedeza, thought to have been killed by the cold are showing signs of a crop yet to be.

Hold Funeral Services For Mrs. Kazzie Jones

Funeral rites for Mrs. Kazzie Jones, 83, of near Jonesville, who died Sunday at her home after an illness of about three weeks, were held Monday morning at 11 o'clock from Swaim's Baptist church by Rev. Richard Day. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The deceased was a member of Pleasant Grove Baptist church, Wilkes county. She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Mrs. W. L. Swaim, Mrs. Davis Macemore and Mrs. Wesley Benge, of Jonesville; Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, of Yadkinville; Mrs. Henry Redding, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Henry Roughton and Mrs. Amanda Smith, of Virginia; Mrs. S. Vanhoy, of Raleigh; and J. C. Swaim, of Statesville. One half-sister, Mrs. Asbury Blackburn, also survives.

The heart of the average adult is five inches long, three and one-half inches broad, and two and one-half inches thick.
