Dobson, May 17.—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin Harris a son, May 8th. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jarvis a son, May 4th.

Miss Thelma Huddleston, of Raleigh, is a guest for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. White.

Miss Pearl Michael, of Kernersville, was a recent visitor here among friends. She is a former teacher in the Dobson school.

The commencement for the Dobson school came to a close Wednesday evening. The enrollment was the largest in the history of the school. The continued growth and expansion of the Dobson school during the past two years is largely credited to the initiative and executive capacity of Prof. M. G. Stanley, who has been principal during that time. His re-election for the third consecutive term and also the reelection of his staff of teachers is termed fitting recognition of efficiency and progress. The school faces the prospect of another fine year. The outstanding feature of the commencement program was the literary address delivered by Hon. A. J. Maxwell, of Raleigh. Mr. Maxwell was presented by Attorney J. N. Freeman of Elkin. The commencement program proper began last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. W. McFall, well-known divine of Mt. Airy. The opening of commencement was attended by a tremendous throng and large crowds filled the auditorium each day and night. Members of the Senior class receiving diplomas, which were delivered by Attorney A. D. Folger, included the following: Thelma Nance, Empress Snow, Dovie Moore, Stella Cave, Wheeler Bowers, Spofford Cave, Claude White, Woodrow Sprinkle, Jim Whittington, Chas. Coe, Susie Burch, Eva Hudson, Elsie Edwards, Hazelle Martin, Ila Marion, Floyd Kidd, Cecil Folger, Pauline Haymore and Culmer Jackson. The commencement Marshals were: Jim Folger, chief; Marie Comer, Geneva Wilson, Elizabeth Freeman and Neal Cockerman.

A banquet was given by the members of the Dobson Woman's Club Thursday evening at the Brady Hotel, with forty members attending, bringing to a climax the activities of another fiscal year with installation of new officers. Receiving at the door in the reception hall were Mesdames A. D. Folger, W. E. Hancock, F. F. Riggs, G. E. Mock, W. W. Ashburn and Misses Emma Comer, Elizabeth Norman and Eva Hancock. Mrs. W. E. Reid received the guests at the dining room door and directed them to the beautifully-appointed table which bore as its centerpiece a large ebony bowl holding lovely calendulas and fern on either side of which were glowing gold candles in ebony holders. Gracing each end of the table were smaller ebony bowls of calendulas. A trailing evergreen with dainty sweet ellissium extended from the centerpiece to either end of the long table ending with a cluster of colorful ragged robin. The President, Mrs. A. D. Folger, presided. A delicious three-course dinner was served and a delightful program followed. Reports of the State convention, held in Winston-Salem, were given by the delegates. Mesdames M. A. Lewis and John Lewellyn entertained the club with a vocal duet, accompanied at the piano by Miss Georgia Fulk. Spicy talks were made by Mesdames W. E. Hancock, G. E. Mock, W. W. Ashburn, F. F. Riggs and Misses Eva Hancock and Elizabeth Norman, the retiring and incoming vice-presidents, secretaries and treasurers. During the evening a beautiful piano solo was rendered by Miss Georgia Fulk. Mrs. A. D. Folger was presented a basket of beautiful roses by the club, the other retiring officers receiving dainty lingerie gifts. Mrs. Folger was also presented a lovely set of sterling silver bread and butter knives, a gift from the Council, as a token of her faithful and untiring services. Chief among the high lights of the evening were the inspiration addresses given by Mrs. A. D. Folger, retiring president, and Miss Emma Comer, incoming president. Two main objectives for the ensuing year, outlined by Miss Comer, were that of obtaining a club house and a library.

Miss Glivar
WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles' Nervine which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.
