JOHNSON SAYS MUCH | Weatherman Predicts OF $136,109.95 MAY NOT BE RECOVERED

TAXPAYER TO PAY

Treasurer's Report Shows Approximately Eightv Loans

MANY ARE GOOD

A total of $136,109.94 of Yadkin county's sinking fund, money reserved to pay off bonds when they become due, has been loaned out to 80 firms and individuals over a period of about 10 years, it is shown in the records in the office of Charles M. Johnson, director of local government, submitted by T. R. Eaton, clerk in the Bank of Yadkin, county treasurer, as of July 1. Of this amount, $110,746.73 has been loaned on real estate mortgages; $ 10,093.00 on collateral notes and $15,270.21 on personal notes.

According to a statement made by Mr. Johnson Sunday, "Yadkin county's sinking funds are in about in the state, proportionally, in relation to loans on real estate that are larger than the assessed valuation of the property, or on collateral or personal notes which are not sufficient security to protect the

Mr. Johnson further said that "Yadkin's sinking funds are generally well protected, but it appears that about one-third of the entire amount of the loans have been made to real estate firms or members of these firms. Apparently, some of these loans were made on insufficient security and the interest has

Fair Weather Today After Lengthy Rain

With the weatherman predicting fair weather for today and milder temperatures prevailing, summer appears to have made a temporary comeback against the advance forces of winter which for the past several days have held undisputed sway.

The cool, rainy spell, although not pleasant, brought joy and happiness to local fuel merchants as more than one Elkin chimney was seen to spout curling wisps of smoke.

Rabbit Show Will Be Staged In Main Exhibition Hall

TO PRESENT PLAY

All is in readiness for the opening here tonight of Elkin's first community fair, it was learned learned Wednesday from C. G. Armfield, secretary, and prospects are bright for a highly successful event. McNeer's warehouse, which will serve as the main exhibition hall. has already assumed, at this writing, a busy hum of activity as farmers and others interested in the fair arrange their exhibits.

In addition to the farm and home exhibits, a number of private hibits have been arranged, but these will not be eligible for prizes.

One of the many interesting features of the fair is the rabbit show which will be staged by the Progressive Rabbit Breeders' association, and will occupy the south side of the main exhibition hall and will not be housed in a separate building, as was announced last week. This will mark the second show staged by the local association, and than the last one which was held on the day of the Masonic picnic. A handsome bedroom suite, donated by the Elkin Furniture company, which will be given as first prize in the live-at-home division, is now on display in the show window of Reich-Hayes-Boren, local furniture dealer. A large number of allwool, best grade Chatham blankets, donated as prizes by the Chatham Manufacturing company, may be seen in the Sydnor-Spainhour show window.

As the main feature of tonight's program, the Lucy Hanes Chatham club of Elkin and Winston-Salem will stage a play "Miss Oliver's Dol-The cast will be made up of

TAKE FIELD FRIDAY

Starting Players Have Not Yet Been Announced By Hood

Although as yet hardly accustomed to the feel of a uniform, the Elkin high school football team will swing into action here Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock against a strong Mountain Park Institute team, to do or die for dear old Elkin. Officially named "Buckin Elks", in keeping with the habits of the elk, the traditions of the town, and the qualities of football players, as suggested by Charlie Brewer and accepted by the athletic council upon recommendation of Superintendent Walter R. Schaff, the local aggregation, even though as yet unseasoned, is expected to put up a good fight.

Coach A. C. Hood, busy for the past several weeks in whipping the boys into shape for their first gridiron battle, has as yet made no announcement of the starting line-up. He will have a squad of 22 on the field.

Considerable interest in football has been aroused here since the team was organized and a good crowd of home folks, as well as a large number of backers of the op posing team, frem Mountain Park, are expected to be present.

The game Friday, which will be played at Chatham Park, is one of the main features of the Elkin Community Fair program.

Mesdames R. G. Smith, W. W. Whitaker, George Royall, H. P. Graham and Mason Lillard attended an inspirationl meeting of the Mt. Airy district of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church in Dobson Friday afternoon.
