Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gwyn Entertain Thursday Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gwyn entertained the members of the Thursday evening Bridge Club and several additional guests at their home on Gwyn Avenue Thursday evening. Three tables were placed for the games and Christmas place cards and tallies marked the places of the players.

Mr. and Mrs. James Poindexter scored highest in the progressions and were given a lovely pewter cream and sugar set.

At the conclusion of the games a tempting refreshment course was served.

Miss Bell Hostess to O. B. H. Club

Miss Clara Bell delightfully entertained the members of the O. B. H. Club at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Royall, on Church street Thursday evening. Beautiful Christmas decorations added a festive note to the living room. In a Christmas contest Miss Ruth Eads received a box of handkerchiefs for scoring highest.

At the conclusion of the games fruit cake and coffee was served the following guests: Misses Bettie Allen, Blanche Dixon, Ophelia Paul, Mary Hendren, Ruth Eads, Ola Angell, Emma Cooke, Margaret Lillard, Ned Ball, Maude Greenwood and Elizabeth Turner.

Miss Wellborn Honored at Dinner

One of the loveliest courtesies paid Miss Catherine Wellborn, whose wedding will be solemnized next week, was on Wednesday evening when Mrs. Lucy Poindexter Cundiff entertained at a dinner party at her home on Bridge street.

The lovely table was decorated with evergreens and lighted candles and a beautifully appointed three course dinner was served.

Covers were placed for the following guests: Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Wellborn, father and mother of the bride-elect, Miss Wellborn, honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wellborn of Independence, Virginia, Mrs. Lucy Cundiff and W. R. Wellborn, Jr.

Mrs. Cundiff presented Miss Wellborn with a needlepoint footstool cover as guest of honor.

Mrs. G. P. Dockery Hostess to Book Club

Mrs. G. P. Dockery was a charming hostess on Thursday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Thursday Book Club at her home on Bridge street. The program was omitted for the afternoon and the entire session devoted to the final business of the year and the discussion of the club books. Mrs. Worth Graham was fortunate in cutting for the club prize and was given lovely linen handkerchiefs.

The attractive home was arranged with Christmas decorations and the Christmas motif was accentuated in the refreshments, which were served in two beautifully appointed courses.

The following club members enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Dockery: Mesdames W. W. Whitaker, H. H. Barker, F. W. Graham, George Royall, Worth Graham, W. N. Sherrill, Edworth Harris and H. C. Salmons.

Misses Lillard and Smith Entertain for Bride-Elect

One of the loveliest parties honoring Miss Catherine Wellborn, bride-elect of Tuesday, next, was on Thursday afternoon, when Misses Margaret Lillard and Mary Robinson Smith entertained at the home of Miss Lillard on Gwyn Avenue.

Evergreens intermingled with red berries and crimson candles, suggestive of the Yuletide, were used in the reception rooms. Delightful games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon. Miss Virginia Miller received a lovely souvenir for being most proficient in the games and Miss Wellborn was given a beautiful crystal bridge set as guest of honor.

The Christmas motif was further accentuated in the delicious two course collation served the following guests: Miss Wellborn, guest of honor; her mother, Mrs. W. R. Wellborn; Miss Mary Virginia Barker, Miss Sarah Click, Miss Ruth Gwyn, Miss Edith Neaves, Miss Ruth Eads, Mrs. Thomas Roth, Mrs. Edwin Harris, Miss Olivia Abernethy, Miss Virginia Miller, Miss Sarah McCracken and Miss Josephine Paul.

Wednesday Study Club Meets with Mrs. Whitaker

Mrs. Lorene Snow Whitaker was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Study Club at the final meeting of the year, at her home on Circle Court Wednesday afternoon.

The election of officers and the plans for the new year book, together with the discussion of the new club books completed a most interesting business meeting. It was decided to make a study of the artists, musicians and writers of North Carolina during the coming year. It was also decided that the club provide for some needy family during the holiday season.

The following officers were named for the coming year: president, Mrs. Chas. Brewer; vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Beeson and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harry L. Johnson.

A salad course and individual plum puddings were served the guests and favors were holly baskets filled with nuts.

The following club members were present: Mesdames Chas. H. Brewer, Hugh Royall, Marion Allen, Roy Harrell, Harry L. Johnson, Chas. G. Armfield, Fletcher Harris and J. H. Beeson.

Miss Wellborn Feted by Miss Maude Greenwood

Miss Maude Greenwood was hostess at a delightful party at her home on Bridge street Wednesday afternoon, complimenting Miss Catherine Wellborn, bride-elect.

Lighted Christmas trees and evergreens were used in the reception room and living room, where four tables were placed for bridge and two for rook. The places of the players were designated by bridge place cards and a miniature, doll bride marked the place of the honor guest.

Mrs. Errol Hayes scored highest at bridge and was given a double deck of cards. Mrs. Eugene Spainhour was given Christmas cards as runner-up. Mrs. W. W. Whitaker was given a tray for scoring highest in rook and Mrs. E. F. McNeer received a sewing basket for runner-up. Miss Wellborn was given a lovely linen bridge set, embroidered in cut work. A salad course with fruit cake and coffee was served when the cards were removed.

Mrs. Harris Entertains Club

A pretty courtesy was paid Miss Catherine Wellborn, bride-elect, on Thursday evening, when Mrs. Edwin Harris was hostess to the members of the Eight of Clubs-Bridge Club and several additional guests at her home on Bridge street, with Miss Wellborn as guest of honor.

Three tables were placed for the games, a colorful setting of red and green, suggestive of the Yuletide, making an attractive background for the players. Miss Virginia Miller scored highest in the progressions and was given an attractive souvenir. Miss Wellborn's gift was a lovely luncheon set.

A salad course with accessories was served at the conclusion of several interesting games. The guest list included Miss Wellborn, guest of honor; Miss Mary Robinson Smith, Miss Virginia Miller, Miss Ruth Gwyn, Mrs. Thomas Roth, Miss Josephine Paul, Mrs. Clyde Eller, Mrs. J. N. Freeman, Mrs. Jones Holcomb, Mrs. Jayne Hall Robinson and Miss Anna Atkinson.

Mason Lillard Bible Class Guests of Mrs. Graham

The Mason Lillard Bible Class of the Methodist church, met at the home of Mrs. H. P. Graham, on Gwyn Avenue Monday evening, with eight members present. The devotionals and program were in charge of Mrs. Jones Holcomb and Mrs. Graham retiring president, presided over the meeting.

During the business hour plans were discussed for the class to observe the annual custom of selecting some needy family in the community to help during the Christmas season. They also pledged a contribution to the fund to assist in a Christmas tree for the Primary and Junior departments of the Sunday school.

The report from the nominating committee for class officers for the coming year was as follows: president, Mrs. H. C. Salmons; vice-president, Mrs. D. C. Martin; treasurer, Miss Ned Ball, and secretary, Mrs. Harry L. Johnson.

The program opened with the story of the beautiful old Christmas carol, "Silent Night," by Mrs. Marion Allen. This was followed by the song as a trio by Mesdames Fred Colhard, H. P. Graham and E. E. Brown. A medley of carols concluded the program.

During a pleasant social hour fruits and home-made candy were served.
