Miss Catherine Wellborn Wed to Joseph Ralph Reece in Beautiful Ceremony

A wedding of unusual beauty and dignity was solemnized in the First Presbyterian church in this city Tuesday afternoon, December 27, at five-thirty, when Miss Catherine Cannon Wellborn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Revere Wellborn, of this city, became the bride of Joseph Ralph Reece, of Tallahassee and Charlotte, with Rev. C. W. Robinson, of North Wilkesboro, former pastor of the bride, officiating, using the beautiful ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church.

The church was a scene of loveliness with a background of pine and cedar, lighted with myriads of white cathedral candles and tall candelabras.

Prior to the ceremony, while the wedding guests were assembling, Miss Johansie Frances Turner, of Jefferson, Georgia, rendered a beautiful program of nuptial music. Accompanied by Miss Turner, Mrs. E. G. Click sang "O Promise Me" (DeKoven) and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" (Victor Herbert). During the ceremony Miss Turner played "Trumeri" (Schumann) and "To A Wild Rose" (McDowell). The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used as a processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional.

As the strains of the bridal chorus heralded the approach of the wedding party the ushers, Milton Klavans and Richard H. Isley, of Charlotte, Ben Reeves of Sparta and Sam Maguire of Elkin, advanced to the altar. Next came the dame of honor, Mrs. J. Shields Hoffman, of Charlotte, sister of the bridegroom, dressed in a handsome gown of permer velvet, with a small white satin turban and long white gloves. She carried an arm bouquet of premier roses. Miss Bessie Lee Wellborn, only sister of the bride, was maid of honor, she was gowned in white satin, with a sash of premier velvet, wearing a close turban of white satin and long white gloves. Her bouquet was also of premier roses.

The lovely little flower girls, Ann Weedon Harris and Peggy Jean Chatham, preceded the bride to the altar and opened the altar gates. They were dressed in short white organdy dresses, ruffled to the hem and carried nosegays of old fashioned flowers.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her petite blonde beauty was never more charming than in her close fitting gown of ivory satin, which fell full length to the floor in a court train in the back. Her veil was of soft tulle, fashioned in a coronet and outlined in seed pearls, falling softly over the length of her train. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and swansonias.

She was met at the altar by the bridegroom, attended by his best man, Jack Han, of Charlotte.

The bride is the older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Wellborn and is one of Elkin's most popular and attractive young women. She was graduated with honors from Agness Scott College, Decatur, Georgia, with the class of 1932, and prior to that time traveled extensively here and abroad.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reece, now of Biscoe, and is a native of Charlotte. He holds a position with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, with headquarters at Tallahassee, Florida.

Immediately after the reception Dr. and Mrs. Wellborn entertained at a reception at their home on Bridge street, having as their guests the members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left on their honeymoon to the coastal sections of Florida, at the end of which, they will be at home in Tallahassee. For traveling Mrs. Reece wore a becoming suit of beet root red tweed, with a seal skin cape and accessories of black.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptive preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.
