CHEAP LIVING
No need for anybody sidling up to me—to insist that the highest priced food is the best. It isn't, it's often the other way around. Some of the most important things—we couldn't live without—cost us nothing whatever!

Sunshine and air cost nothing, yet what would we do without them? And water—free, or costs next to nothing. Walking—saves car fare, and is excellent for health. Smiles cost nothing. The simplest foods are not only cheapest but BEST. One of my contemporaries says "sleep is a whole lot cheaper than whoopee; the real health program is not expensive—it's the flub-dubs that drain away the hard-earned dime."

How true he speaks—you can prove it out on yourself. Listen—a good hash, well-made, from cheaper cuts of meat—it fills all the inclinations for a meat-diet. Don't make it out of stale, waste leavings—make it fresh and good.

Dry bread is quite as good in soup as are crackers. May be more nutritious. And soup if made well, is fine as a pre-dinner appetizer. I can visualize a ten-cent meal!

Part of the year, in the country, beans may be had for the gathering; fresh vegetables and fruits—the country abounds in them. Cabbage, next to being given away. Liver—even dignified to the place of a valuable blood-making medicine! I direct some of my patients to eat raw turnips, raw cabbage, raw lettuce, young onions—and almost any variety of raw fruit and berries. Get your Vitamin-D from sunshine—and be independent of broadcasting fakirs.

Oh, the call for old-fashioned horse-sense in living! Horse-sense doesn't cost anything either—and is mighty close to being a treasure in itself to its possessor. Wish I had more of it.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME
You and I are a part of this great government "of, for and by the people." For over forty-years I have been a humble servant of my fellowman. My fidelity to my trust is of record. Questions of the day concern my people—such items as have relation to their health and even moral welfare. It is my duty to work for human betterment as long as I am able. The matter of "Prohibition" is at this time of writing, bordering on bewilderment and chaos. For some years we physicians have been doing our best to aid in stamping out an evil. While we were struggling to obey the law, the illicit distiller and racketeer have walked around the legitimate use of alcoholics, and have supplied the drinking world with seventy-five cent whisky, and have reaped fortunes for themselves, challenging Uncle Sam's drastic income tax law itself.

One of my patients—an aged man with pneumonia said, "hell, I ain't going to pay a druggist three dollars for a pint of whisky when I can buy just as good for a dollar!"

Now comes newspaper reports that physicians may prescribe alcoholic stimulant for medical use, in quantity and frequency as they see fit; even to a ninety days supply, if it seems to be indicated for treatment! That means, I imagine, a prescription for a gallon of whisky under certain conditions—for instance some chronic disease!

Well—I'm not going by newspaper reports. Uncle Sam will have to notify me before I make any drastic changes—and I shall not run into a wholesale business of prescribing a three months supply of whisky, law or no law. I try to obey the higher law of TEMPERANCE, SOBRIETY, RIGHT LIVING!

FORD....
THIRTY YEARS OF REAL LEADERSHIP

This marks the thirtieth anniversary of the FORD MOTOR COMPANY. Thirty years ago there was born, in a little frame shed, the company that revolutionized the motor car industry and placed the automobile within reach of the pocketbooks of the masses.

FORD has never failed to improve where chances of improvement has been shown. TODAY, as in the beginning, FORD builds the finest automobile in its price class to be found. This has always been the policy of the FORD MOTOR COMPANY. Because of this policy, and because FORD CARS are built on a principle, FORD can point with pride to the following statistics:

(The entire industry has built approximately 37,000,000 cars—Ford accounting for 57 per cent of the cars manufactured.)

In 30 Years FORD Has Built Over
21,000,000 CARS

In 30 years (figured on the basis of 365 days) there are

15,768,000 MINUTES

This shows an approximate sale of

ONE CAR EVERY 40 SECONDS

No other car manufacturer can show a record of sales such as this!

There is a reason for the popularity of the New Ford V-8. We can demonstrate this reason!
