Five and 10 cent stores will open at 8:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m. the first five days of the week. On Saturday they will open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 9:00 p. m.

Drug stores will open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 11:00 p. m. each week day, including Saturdays. On Sunday regular hours of from 2:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. will be observed.

Produce houses will open at 8:00 a. m. and close at 5:00 p. m. each week day, including Saturdays.

The new hours became effective Tuesday morning as the stores obtained and displayed their blue eagle insigna, reproduced above.

In adopting the new hours, no employer is to work any clerk more than eight hours in any one day nor more than 40 hours per week with the exception of grocery stores, which are allowed 48 hours.

When the new codes were being worked out at a meeting of local merchants it was decided that the half holiday on Wednesday afternoons, which has been in effect for several weeks, be discontinued due to the shorter working hours. Hereafter all stores will remain open on Wednesday afternoon.

Stockholders' Meeting Is Called For Tuesday Night

The Bank of Elkin will open not later than August 15, and possibly a few days earlier provided no unforeseen obstacles arise. It was learned Wednesday morning from Cleve Llewellyn, of Dobson, who will be in complete charge.

Mr. Llewellyn, who was in Elkin on business concerning the bank, stated that he hoped everything would be in readiness to open the institution before the 15th but was not in position to say definitely. He also announced that a meeting of stockholders will be held Tuesday night for the purpose of electing bank officials.

It was stated in last week's Tribune that the bank was expected to open by August 1. However, it was learned later that due to Mr. Llewellyn's connection with the bank at Dobson it was impossible for him to arrange for the opening here in such a short length of time.

ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Herschel Richardson Bids For Life With Intoxication Plea

ALLEN AIDS STATE

Claiming drunkenness as his sole defense for the cowardly shooting of Martin Hinshaw at a Traphill swimming pool early in June, Herschel Richardson, young married man of the Traphill section of Wilkes county, went on trial for his life in Wilkes superior court Monday afternoon.

Accompanied by his wife, Richardson was said to have shown little interest in the proceedings as the task of selecting a jury was begun early Monday morning, but gave way to nervousness as the actual trial got under way. The jury was chosen from a special venire of 75 men.

Testimony in the case thus far has disclosed that Richardson had no motive for shooting young Hinshaw, the defendant claiming he committed the deed while intoxicated.

The trouble which led to the shooting was said to have started when a number of local people were throwing water on one another at a spring. It was said Richardson ap-

ONE-MAN STORES MAY FLY EAGLE

However, Must First Sign Agreement To Get Insigna

Owners of small stores who tend their shops by themselves and have no employees have been granted permission to display the NRA sign of the blue eagle.

Many of the shopkeepers had feared that they might be placed at a disadvantage in competing with larger establishments which had come under the voluntary re-employment agreement and were displaying the emblem.

In order to obtain the blue eagle, however, the one-man stores must sign the agreement the same as stores with many clerks.

The minimum wage and maximum hour provisions of course will not apply in such cases, as the storekeeper has no employees. Other sections of the agreement, such as the pledge to refrain from profiteering, will be binding.

Those who as yet have not secured their blue eagle insigna have but to sign the agreement and compliance slip and carry them to the local postoffice. The agreement must be mailed and the compliance slip given to the postmaster, whereupon the poster insigna, stickers, etc., may be obtained.

NORTH WILKESBORO KIWANIANS BACKING PROPOSED HIGHWAY

Elkin Kiwanians Join With Others In Inter-Club Meet

A GOOD PROGRAM

Local Kiwanians, as well as Kiwanians from the Lenoir and Morganton clubs, met at North Wilkesboro Friday night as the guests of the North Wilkesboro Kiwanis club.

Although the program, made up of contributions from each of the four clubs, was entertaining from beginning to end, the most important matter to be taken up was roads, the four clubs going on record unanimously as favoring what was referred to as the shortest route between Winston-Salem and Asheville. The clubs voted to recommend to E. B. Jeffress, chairman of the state highway commission, that the link between Elkin and North Wilkesboro be constructed and that the section between Lenoir and Morganton be straightened.

Speakers of the evening included W. M. Allen, of Elkin, J. T. Pritchett, of Lenoir, and Judge G. V. Cowper, of Kinston, who is presiding over the special term of Wilkes county criminal court.

On the Elkin part of the program Walter R. Schaff, secretary, introduced W. M. Allen, who spoke on "Cooperation," and who during the course of his talk presented the North Wilkesboro club with a cartoon depicting a country gentleman attempting to traverse the present North Wilkesboro-Elkin road in a buggy drawn by a mule. Both mule and buggy were drawn as having mired up until only their upper halves were visible.

In a short talk, H. F. Laffoon, president of the Elkin club, apologized for the small attendance of local members, saying that due to the depression only a few of the club could afford to make the long trip by Brooks Cross Roads.

The road project from Elkin to North Wilkesboro was enthusiastically endorsed, as was the project from Lenoir to Morganton. As a result resolutions were drawn up and forwarded to highway authorities, explaining the position of Wilkes relative to road projects and stating that North Wilkesboro did not want any neighboring city to think that she had been indifferent to any project which appeared to be needed.

The all-day program was featured by song services by choirs, quartets and singing groups from different sections of the county and those adjoining.

A basket dinner was served on the grounds at noon.

To Our Subscribers

The Tribune is extending an unusual opportunity for those who would attend the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago. To those who obtain 55 yearly subscriptions to the paper, old or new, we are standing the cost of a trip to Chicago free to them. There are a number now working to this end, and we are asking our subscribers to look at the labels on their paper, and if they are behind, give these deserving young men and women the benefit of the credit that will go with a year's payment. In fairness to all we cannot divert any subscription money that comes to the office direct.

We are sure you who are taking the paper will want it continued when your time is up, and you will be doing a double favor by paying promptly when approached by one of these workers for the trip to Chicago. We are sure they will appreciate the courtesy, and you will be contributing, at no extra cost to yourself, to an educational trip that many of them cannot afford to make otherwise.
