Starting Monday the rallying cry of the NRA blue eagle will be heard throughout the land.

And in Elkin, as in every other city, town and village of the country, a campaign will be launched to enlist every employer to fly the blue eagle and every consumer to sign the co-operation pledge:

"I will cooperate in re-employment by supporting and patronizing employers and workers who are members of NRA."

To consumers signing the pledge will be given a blue eagle sticker similar to those displayed by ployers with the exception that the word "Consumer," appears instead of the word "Member" as contained on the employer insignia.

IN STRONG ADDRESS

Describing the prohibition question as "not a political but a moral question which is, will be, and always has confronted the people North Carolina and the nation," Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of the United States Federal court, Friday afternoon in a speech at the Elkin Methodist church conceded the repeal of the 18th amendment but urged that every citizen opposed to repeal, go to the polls and register their opposition.

Judge Hayes, who was introduced to a sizeable audience of which women were in the majority, by Professor Z. H. Dixon, registered his lifelong opposition to legalized - liquor and forecast that today's crime wave and bootlegger activities would become worse instead of better, under the legalized plan.

However, regardless of his opposition and those who think with him on the subject, he stated that in his belief the 18th amendment is going to be repealed regarless of which way the election in this state goes and intimated that a large wet majority in North Carolina is pos-

In discussing the breakdown of the enforcement laws under prohibition the jurist stated that enforcement officials are but human and that it is just as possible to get officers who are crooked as it is to find crooked men in other walks of life. But as to the prohibition law in itself, he said he believed it would have worked had it had the proper cooperation on the part of those entrusted with its enforcement and on the part of the citizens.

ALL IN READINESS FOR PICNIC HERE: EXPECT BIG CROWD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Entertaining Program Has Been Planned For The Day

BOWIE TO SPEAK

All is in readiness and a record crowd is expected to attend the Surry-Yadkin-Wilkes Masonic picnic to be held here today, it was announced Wednesday afternoon by Joe O. Bivins, pienic chairman.

In addition to the main events of the day—a speech by Tam C. Bowie, of West Jefferson, and a concert by the singing class of the Orphanage-many other interesting features are on program.

Judge Bowie, it was announced, will speak at 11 o'clock, following which will come the picnic dinner. In the afternoon a baseball game between the Wilkes Wild Tigers and the Elkin League team will staged at Riverside Park, beginning at 3 o'clock. A morning game between the Elkin League and Hanes Hosiery mill will be staged at o'clock- As an added attraction for the afternoon a battle royal between seven colored boys will be staged just before the afternoon game.

Lee's riding devices, which are a yearly feature of the picnic, arrived Sunday to furnish amusement to the picnic crowd. The devices include a merry-go-round, ferris wheel and chair-o-swing. They will remain here through Saturday night, being located on the vacant ot on Main street just opposite the Baptist church.

Although the subject of Judge Bowie's speech has not-been announced, it is thought probable that some mention of the state sales tax may be made. Judge Bowie, member of the recent legislature as representative from Ashe county, is an able speaker and everyone urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear him.

All Elkin stores, with the exception of drug stores and other establishments dealing in ice cream and soft drinks, are to be closed from 10 a. m. until 3 o'clock.
