Mason Lillard Class to Meet Monday

The Mason Lillard-Bible Class of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Joe Bivins on Gwyn Avenue, Monday evening, May 21 at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bivins Honor Junior High School Class

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bivins entertained at an enjoyable picnic at their home on Gwyn Avenue Friday evening, honoring the members of the Junior class of the local school, of which their son, Joe Gwyn, is a member. Miss Josephine Paul, room teacher of the class, was a special guest.

Wieners were roasted over an open fire on the grounds back of the home and served with a picnic supper.

Outdoor games were played following the supper. About thirty-three members of the class enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Bivins' hospitality.

Seniors Honored at Supper

Miss Kathleen Reece and Herbert Graham, Jr., members of the Senior

Class of the local high school honored their classmates at an informal supper at the home of the latter on Gwyn Avenue Tuesday evening prior to the graduating exercises at the local school. They were assisted in entertaining by their mothers, Mesdames W. F. Reece and H. P. Graham.

In the living room lavender iris were used as decorations and bowls of roses were used in the dining room. A beautifully appointed buffet supper was served.

Guests were members of the class and the high school faculty.

Hugh Holcomb, Jr., Honors Teachers at Supper

Hugh Holcomb, Jr., entertained at a delightful buffet supper at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Holcomb on West Main street, Saturday evening, honoring the teachers of the school faculty who were his instructors during the past year.

The guests were greeted at the door by the young host and his father and directed to the dining room where Mrs. Holcomb, mother of the host, assisted by Mrs. E. W. Fox, served a beautifully-appointed buffet supper. Lovely spring flowers and soft candlelight made a pretty setting for the affair.

Guests were: Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Fox, Mrs. Walter R. Schaff, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Harris, Miss Ruth

Eads, Miss Betty Harris, Miss Betty Allen, Miss Mary Dwight Turner, Garland Johnson and Carl Crews.

Seniors and Faculty Entertained by Abernethy's Pharmacy

Members of the Senior Class of the local school were entertained by Abernethy's Pharmacy following the Class Day exercises Monday evening. Banana splits, punch, candy and cakes were served the guests and they drew for prizes. Miss Mary Etta Laffoon won a box of stationery and Henry Woodruff won a gold pencil. Guests were limited to members of the class and their advisor, Miss Sarah McCracken.

On Wednesday morning the faculty of Elkin and North Elkin schools were paid a farewell courtesy at the close of their final teachers meeting when they were entertained at the drug store. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Edworth Harris Entertains Thursday Club

Mrs. Edworth Harris entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Book Club at a delightful meeting at her home on West Main street Thursday afternoon. Games and contests were enjoyed. In drawing for the club prize Mrs. Fred Colhard received a lovely piece of pottery. Routine business and the exchange and discussion of club books featured the business meeting.

During a pleasant social hour the hostess served a beautifully appointed collation in two courses. A color scheme of yellow and green was accentuated in the appointments of the plates.

Members present were: Mesdames G. P. Dockery, Worth Graham, H. C. Salmons, Mason Lillard, W. R. Wellborn, F. W. Graham, J. L. Hall, W.

W. Whitaker, George Royall and Fred Colhard. Mesdames T. A. Leeper and E. A. Harris were special guests.

Jonesville W. M. U. Meets Wednesday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Jonesville Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. W. E. Triplett, on Front street, Wednesday evening with Misses Mildred Ingram and Marion Stafford as associate hostesses. Miss Ingram, president of the society, presided over the meeting and conducted the devotionals and also had charge of the program, which dealt with a study of educational work of the denomination on the mission fields in Brazil. She was assisted in the program by Mrs. O. E. Boles, Miss Iris Minnish, Miss Catherine Boles and Miss Weeta Elliot. Special music was a feature of the program.

During a pleasant social hour the hostesses served a tempting refreshment course to the fifteen members present.

Mrs. R. C. Freeman Entertains Wednesday Study Club

Members of the Wednesday Afternoon Study Club were entertained in the regular monthly meeting Wednesday by Mrs. R. C. Freeman at her home on Church street. Mrs. C. H. Brewer was in charge of the program, presenting an interesting study of Queen Elizabeth. Mrs. Brewer told of the background of the famous English queen and Mrs. Fred Neaves continued with a further description of her history. Mrs. Brewer concluded with a discussion of the Elizabethan era, particularly stressing the literary strides made during her reign. Mrs. C. G. Armfield gave current events of interest.

At the conclusion of the program a tempting refreshment course was served the following members: Mesdames Harry L. Johnson, Errol Hayes, Marion Allen, R. B. Harrell, C. H. Brewer, C. G. Armfield, Fletcher Harris, W. B. Lentz, Fred Neaves and Hugh Royall.

Mrs. Spainhour is Two-Four Club Hostess Thursday

Mrs. Eugene Spainhour delightfully entertained the members of the Two-Four Bridge club and several additional guests at a bridge-luncheon at Hotel Elkin Thursday. A beautifully appointed luncheon was served in the main dining room upon the arrival of the guests at one o'clock. Lovely spring flowers in pastel shades were used as a centerpiece for the table.

Following the luncheon the guests were invited to Mrs. Spainhour's suite, where bridge was played at two tables. Mrs. W. J. Bason, of North Wilkesboro, won the visitors' prize and Mrs. E. C. Grier received the club prize at the conclusion of the play.

Club members present were: Mrs. Harry L. Johnson, Mrs. Albert Bryan, Miss Maude Greenwood, Mrs. E. C. Grier and Mrs. Spainhour. Additional guests were: Mesdames W. J. Bason and Carl Coffey of North Wilkesboro and Mrs. Thomas Roth.

Mrs. James Honored at Tea by Mesdames Whitaker and Hayes

Complimenting Mrs. Earl C. James, a recent bride, Mesdames W. W. Whitaker and Errol Hayes entertained at an informal tea at the home of the former on Church street Friday afternoon. A color scheme of green and white was effected in the living rooms and hall with bowls of syringa and lilies-of-the-valley. In the dining room the same color note was accentuated. The tea table was covered with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a mound of lily-of-the-valley, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Green candles in crystal holders were used on either end of the table.

The guests were greeted at the door by an informal receiving line composed of the hostesses and the honoree. Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt directed the guests to the dining room where Mesdames R. B. Harrell and Alden Hunt served sandwiches and Mrs. George Royall served tea.

Mesdames Whitaker and Hayes presented the honoree with an exquisite shoulder corsage of lily-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots.

About thirty-five guests called during the afternoon.
