Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Collins of Dobson, N. C., announce the marriage of their daughter, Victoria, to Eddie Badgett, of Mount Airy, on June 23, 1933.

Mrs. Graham Entertains At Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. Hardin Graham entertained at a charming bridge-luncheon at her home on Terrace Avenue Thursday, with four tables in play. A profusion of summer flowers were used throughout the rooms and made a pretty background for the tables. Upon the arrival of the guests at 1 o'clock a beautifully appointed course luncheon was served. Bridge was played during the afternoon. Mrs. Conrad Hock scored highest during the games and was given a lovely prize.

Miss Norma Cawthon Entertains Eight of Clubs Friday Afternoon

Miss Norma Cawthon entertained the members of the Eight of Clubs Bridge Club and several additional guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Roth, on Terrace Avenue Friday afternoon, with two tables in play. The high score prize went to Miss Olivia Abernethy, of Hickory, who was a special guest of the club.

Tempting refreshments were served late in the afternoon to the following guests: Mrs. Edwin Harris, Mrs. Thomas Roth, Mrs. Clyde Eller, Mrs. Hugh Parks, Mrs. Chas. Calhoun, Miss Sarah Click, Miss Olivia Abernethy and Mrs. John W. Reich, of Washington, D. C.

Intermediate G. A. Meets With Miss Harris

The Intermediate Girls' Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Fannie Sue Harris on West Main street, with twelve members present.

The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by the devotional period in charge of Miss Hoyland Harris and the Lord's prayer, repeated in unison.

The program was under the direction of Miss Fannie Sue Harris, assisted by Misses Deon Lowery, Catherine Sprinkle and Virginia Lawrence.

During a social hour at the conclusion of the meeting the hostess served tempting refreshments.

Mrs. E. C. Grier Entertained Two-Four Bridge Club at Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. E. C. Grier entertained at a most delightful morning party followed by a luncheon Friday at her home on Bridge street, having as her guests members of the Two-Four Bridge Club and sufficient guests to complete two tables. In the enthusiastic bridge games Mrs. R. G. Smith received the high score award. At the conclusion of the play a charmingly appointed luncheon was served from small tables in the living room. A profusion of summer flowers were used in decorations of the home.

Club members present were: Miss Maude Greenwood, Mrs. Eugene Spainhour, Mrs. R. G. Smith and Mrs. Harry L. Johnson. Additional guests were: Mesdames Hardin Graham, Richard Chatham, Carl Poindexter and Thomas Roth.

Mrs. Colhard Entertains Book Club Members at Luncheon

Mrs. Fred Colhard entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Book Club and two additional guests at a beautifully appointed luncheon at her home on Gwyn Avenue Thursday. Upon the arrival of the guests a three-course luncheon was served from small tables in the living room. Colorful summer flowers were used as centerpieces for the tables and elsewhere in the living room.

The usual program was dispensed with, the meeting being of a social nature, except for the exchange and discussion of club books.

Members present were: Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Mrs. George Royall, Mrs. Mason Lillard, Mrs. G. P. Dockery, Mrs. F. W. Graham and Mrs. W. R. Wellborn. Additional guests were Mrs. Knox McKee and Mrs. J. G. Abernethy.

Mrs. Hayes Honors Sister At Delightful Afternoon Party

Complimenting her sister, Mrs. Hoy Moose, of Mount Pleasant, Mrs. Errol Hayes entertained at a delightful bridge party at her home on Church street Wednesday afternoon, with seven tables in play. The home was artistically decorated with a profusion of mixed garden flowers. In the bridge progression, Mrs. Carl Poindexter made the highest score and was given a lovely prize. Mrs. Walter R. Schaff received the runner-up award. Mrs. Moose, the honor guest was given a wooden salad bowl and Mrs. Hugh Parks, a recent bride, received a lovely remembrance.

When the cards were removed a pretty appointed collation in two courses was served. Additional guests for the refreshment hour were Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, mother of the hostess and honoree and Mrs. George Royall.

Mrs. Eller Honors Sister and Bride At Parties

Complimenting her sister, Mrs. William Andrews, of Shelby, Mrs. Clyde Eller entertained at a delightful party at her home on Bridge street Tuesday afternoon. Lovely gladioli were used in the artistic decorations of the home. Two tables were placed for bridge. In the games Miss Norma Cawthon made the highest score and was awarded an attractive prize. Mrs. Andrews received a lovely gift as guest of honor.

Those making up the tables were: Mrs. Thomas Roth, Miss Norma Cawthon, Mrs. Edwin Harris, Mrs. Richard Chatham, Miss Edith Neaves, Miss Ruth Atkinson, Mrs. Hugh Royall and Mrs. Andrews. Additional guests for the refreshment hour were Miss Susan Biggs, Miss Mary Virginia Barker and Mrs. Harry, Barker, Jr.

Mrs. Eller was hostess again on Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Hugh Parks, a recent bride. Two tables were again in play, and were composed of Mrs. Gwyn, the honor guest, Mrs. Charles Ashby, Miss Sarah Click, Miss Frances Chatham, Miss Frances Grier, Mrs. Anna Harris Shugart, Mrs. Claude Farrell and Mrs. John W. Reich, of Washington, D. C. Additional guests for tea were Miss Margaret Lillard, Miss Carolyn Lillard and Mrs. William Andrews, of Shelby.

Miss Harvison Smith Honors Visitors at Dinner Party

Honoring Miss Sarah Reich of Greensboro and Miss Kathleen Wampler of Galax, Va., who are house guests of Mrs. Joe Bivins, Miss Harvison Smith, chaperoned by her grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Smith, entertained at a delightful dinner party at Hotel Elkin Wednesday evening. The lovely dinner table was centered with a bouquet of Shasta daisies and baby's breath. Each of the honorees was presented with a lovely gift, which was adorned with a bouquet of old-fashioned flowers.

Following the dinner the guests were entertained at a theatre party.

Cool Springs News

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Myers spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Worth Tulbert at their home in Elkin.

Mrs. J. P. Harris has returned from a two weeks' visit to her daughters, Mrs. Leonard Hanes at State Road, and Mrs. Byrd Jefferson at Thurmond.

Of interest to friends here was the marriage of Mrs. Martha Luffman to Houston Couch, both of this community. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride, with Rev. Johnny Luffman officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Tucker, Miss Ruby Adams, Miss Bessie Cockerham and Mrs. Coon Smith spent a short time recently in Fries, Va., and Sparta, N. C., where they were guests of friends.

A revival will begin here soon, the date to be announced later.

Jail Break In Yadkin Is Narrowly Averted

Yadkinville, June 26.—(Special)—A wholesale jail delivery was narrowly averted here Thursday night, June 14, about nine o'clock when prisoners were about ready to depart the jail on French leave.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the getaway, but Jailer Vestal was onto the racket and was watching. He had overheard some talk between the jail inmates about "how lonesome the jail would soon be" where they planned to go, etc. But it didn't work.

They had pried some bars loose and reached the hallways of the jail tied some sheets together to climb down on and were ready to go. Jim Cain, awaiting trial for highway robbery was the first to make the start. He climbed out a window, or most of the way out and was preparing to take the sheet rope down when jailer Vestal fired in his direction three times and turned a highpowered flashlight on him. He went back through the window at a much faster gait than he went out, and when Mr. Vestal reached the cell block he was terribly white and too scared to talk.

NEGRO'S WIFE, CHILDREN, HENS AND TURKEYS DISAPPEAR
Oklahoma City, June 23.—Hiram Ingram, negro, went to town for groceries.

He returned three hours later, he told Deputy Sheriff George Catron, to find his wife, two children, 25 baby chicks, eight young turkeys, four hens, three fryers, the bedding and "all my clothes" gone.

"No suh," Hiram added, "we nevah had no trouble. Just an average run o' quarrelin."

SURRY STREAMS NOT SANITARY

Doctor Disapproves Water for Swimmers; Explains Test

Mount Airy, N. C., June 23.—Dr. N. T. Ennett, Surry county health officer, in announcing partial results today of an examination of the water in streams and lakes used for swimming in this vicinity, which has been carried on for the past three weeks by the health officer and Edwin P. Hale, sanitary inspector, stated that there was danger of typhoid in all the water examined so far. Samples of water were taken from various places including Lovell's Creek at Laurel Bluff, and the Ararat River, near the quarry bridge.

Dr. Ennett stated that state laboratory reports found colon bacilli indicating bowel discharge in all the specimens and also found the presence of staphylococci, bacteria which cause boils and ear infections. He wished to stress the fact that the actual typhoid fever germs were not found in the water as was published here yesterday, but that the presence of the colon bacilli indicated the danger of typhoid and made the water unsafe for bathing. He also said that the survey had no connection with the city's supply of drinking water, which comes from a private watershed and is purified by a modern filter plant and chlorinating system.

Reports on specimens from a number of lakes and feeder streams for local pools were expected sometime next week.

Prevent Chick Disease By Proper Sanitation

Although no cure has been found for chick coccidiosis, a particularly destructive disease, it may be prevented when proper sanitation steps are taken, says H. C. Gauger, instructor in poultry science at State College.

The parasites which cause the disease are usually present wherever there is any poultry, but older birds sometimes harbor the parasites without suffering any serious ill effects. It is the chick between four and 12 weeks of age that suffer most.

Infection starts when a chick eats the microscopic eggs of the parasite. The eggs break open in the intestines of the chicks and release myriads of living bodies which attack the mucus membranes.

Infected chicks are weak, listless, and droopy. The appetite is gone and they huddle in groups as though they are cold. There is usually a whitish, watery dropping which has a tendency to paste up the fluff around the tail. Infected chicks soon die.

Chicks should not be allowed to eat the parasite's eggs, says Gauger. The brooder houses should be kept sanitary and every precaution taken to keep the eggs from being tracked into the houses from other places.

Infected chicks should be removed immediately from the flock and killed and either burned or buried deeply. The litter and sand in brooder houses should be changed every other day or oftener. Only fresh, clean material should be used for litter.

While the chicks are in the brooder house, the runways should be prepared by spading or plowing the soil so as to turn the infected top soil under. If this is impracticable, the chicks should be restricted to a limited area which can be covered with sand or gravel, or they should be confined to an outdoor, wire-floor sun porch until 10 or 12 weeks old.

Ice Cream Supper

There will be an ice cream supper Saturday night, June 30, at the old Jack Ray place, 8 miles south of Elkin.

Entertainment will consist of music by Tremin Cheeks, and dancing.

THANK YOU

Last week, in order to show our appreciation for the fine patronage accorded us since our opening a few months ago and in order to better acquaint the public with the real values to be found at our store, we staged two days of spectacular values in groceries and meats. Naturally, we expected a response to these great values, but nothing like the response accorded us. We were delighted! And now, in appreciation, we can think of nothing better than to say to each and every one who visited us—THANK YOU!
