LATE NEWS from the State and Nation

SAYS HAUPTMANN JURY "DULLARDS"

New York, Feb. 26.—Edward J. Reilly, the ruddy "bull of Brooklyn," today staged a dress rehearsal of his campaign for "justice" for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, incidental in raising a defense fund to press an appeal from the carpenter's conviction of murdering the Lindbergh baby.

Today's outburst by the chief defense counsel was directed largely at the jury to which he had, in his summation, addressed far more honeyed words.

Instead of men and women "with good common sense, horse sense, David Harum sense," the jury today became dullards "with tremendous appetites" who were unable to reason together because they had eaten too much.

THREE MOTHERS ARE CONVICTED

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 26.—Mothers of three of Texas' most notorious desperadoes were under jail sentences tonight, convicted by the federal government in its campaign to wipe out crime by punishing persons who give aid to outlaws.

The three mothers, Mrs. Cumie Barrow, Mrs. Emma Parker and Mrs. Steve Hamilton Davis, were sentenced to 30 days in jail for aiding Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker in their flight from the law. That flight ended when Clyde and Bonnie were killed by police last May.

Mrs. Davis is the mother of Raymond Hamilton, who advanced to the rank of the Southwest's most hunted bad man after the deaths of Clyde Barrow and Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd.

MEASURE IS VOTED DOWN

Raleigh, Feb. 26.—All hope of anti-sales taxers that the McDonald-Lumpkin substitute measure might be adopted in committee went glimmering today when the joint finance committee, in executive session, voted down an amendment by Representative Lumpkin of Franklin to strike out the sales tax from the revenue bill.

After the meeting, Representative McDonald told the United Press this move had been made in order to clear the atmosphere and help expedite the revenue bill through committee. When it reaches the floor, he said, all sections of the sales tax substitute will be offered as amendments.

ARGUE MERITS OF LIQUOR BILL

Durham, Feb. 26.—Two citizens of Raleigh, a lawyer and a newspaperman, took opposite sides here tonight in a discussion of the Hill liquor control bill.

Cale K. Burgess, lawyer and head of the United Dry Forces of North Carolina, opposed the measure before a meeting of the Durham Citizens' Council. Tom Bost, newspaperman, represented the "liberal dries" advocating the Hill bill.

Bost branded prohibition as "un-Christian and un-American," because he believed temperance has been steadily on the down grade since prohibition's arrival.

JOBS BILL FIGHT DELAYS ACTIVITY

Washington, Feb. 26.—Organized labor leaders summoned hastily into a secret conference here late today agreed to fight to the end for the prevailing wage amendment to the $4,880,000,000 jobs bill despite vigorous opposition from the White House.

The action further widened the breach between the unionists and President Roosevelt which began with the extension of the automobile code over objections of labor.

Postpone March Term of Surry Civil Court

No March term of Surry county civil court will be held this year, it having been decided by the bar association at their last meeting to use the last week of the April term of criminal court for civil cases.

In recent months the criminal calendar has not taken up the court's allotted time and it is certain the criminal calendar in April will not take over a week at the most, thus leaving the second week free for civil actions.

NEW FURNITURE CO. TO OPEN IN FORMER VENEER PLANT HERE

Will Manufacture Four-Poster Beds and Odd Tables

GOUGH PRESIDENT

The building which formerly housed the Elkin Veneer company, has been rented for the manufacture of four-poster beds and odd tables by the Carolina Furniture Manufacturers, Inc., a new firm incorporated here by W. S. Gough, L. P. Hicks, Knox McKee and Ted Brown.

Mr. Gough will head the firm as president and Mr. Hicks, who will be in active management, will serve as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Hicks has had several years experience in the business.

Necessary machinery for the manufacture of furniture is now being installed, and operation is expected to begin within a short while.

WILLIAM F. REECE IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Prominent Jonesville Man Dies Following Long Illness

William Franklin Reece, 76, widely known and prominent citizen of Jonesville, passed away at his home Saturday morning, following a five year period of ill health. Until his decline in health he had been an employee of Chatham Manufacturing company for nearly a quarter of a century. He was a charter member of the Jonesville Baptist church and served as a deacon in the church as long as his health permitted.

Funeral services were conducted from the Jonesville Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Revs. D. G. Reece, Bradley Mathis and Kelly. Interment was in the town cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Lee Evridge Reece, six daughters and two sons: Mrs. Walter Wright, Yadkinville; Mrs. W. M. Mayberry, Mrs. Clyde Shugart, Mrs. Talmage Blackburn and Edgar Reece of Jonesville; Mrs. Horace Feinster and William Reece, Jr., Winston-Salem, and Mrs. William Hudspeth, of Elkin. One brother, John Reece, of Liberty Center, Indiana. 23 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

JUNIORS HOLD MEET AT N. WILKESBORO

All Councils of This District Represented; Initiation Program

Celebrating the occasion of Washington's birthday Friday, Juniors from all councils in this district gathered at the lodge hall at North Wilkesboro for a district class initiation program.

There was an attendance of 120 members at the meeting at which 14 members were initiated. Juniors representing North Wilkesboro, Elkin, Copeland, New Hope, Clingman and Ronda Councils.

The meeting was opened by Bradley Dancy, counselor of the North Wilkesboro chapter. W. K. Sturdivant, district deputy, delivered an address of welcome to which response was made by S. O. Maguire, of Elkin.

County Home Inmate Dies From Exposure

Yadkinville, Feb. 22.—Bob Parks, 80-year-old colored inmate of the Yadkin county poor house, died from hunger and exposure during one of the bad days about February 14th, after prizing the bars from his window and escaping during the night.

Parks was received at the county institution January 25, from Jonesville, his mind almost entirely gone. He had been locked in the strong house until the cold weather, when he asked to be left in a warmer part of the home, which was granted after the window had been barred and doors locked for the night. He had escaped into the rain and cold by breaking out and wandered aimlessly for several hours until found by the keeper, J. H. P. Shore, and some help he had summoned. He died soon after being found.

Here and There With the News Camera

SCHOOL ENROLLS IN N.C. DEBATING UNION

Four Students Chosen to Represent Elkin High In Contest

Elkin high school has enrolled in the North Carolina High School Debating Union in the triangular debates. The query under discussion this year is: Resolved, That the United States should adopt the policy of extending Federal aid to general public education.

Preliminaries were held Monday to determine what students would represent Elkin this year. The judges awarded the decision to Charles Neaves, Lesbia Graham, Regina Meed, and Emalene Neaves. Coach Hood, Mrs. E. C. James and R. B. Blackwelder acted as judges.

Secretary Rankin, of the High School Debating Union, has placed Elkin, Wilkesboro, and Mt. Airy together. The school that wins both the affirmative and negative sides of the question is eligible to go to Chapel Hill for the finals which are to be held on April 11 and 12. The preliminaries, however, will be held on the afternoon of March 22. The public is cordially invited.

Commissioners Would Refund Indebtedness

A bill was introduced in the North Carolina Senate Friday to authorize and empower the commissioners of Surry county to adjust, fund and refund the bonded indebtedness of the county, and was sent to the committee on finance. The bill authorizes the commissioners to issue $1,350,000 refunding bonds at an interest rate not to exceed 4 1/4 per cent., and also authorizes a tax levy for debt service to yield $90,000 annually, specifying that the remainder, after paying the interest, be put into a sinking fund for the payment of bonds at maturity.

KIWANIANS PLAN "WELCOME" SIGNS

To Ask State Highway Commission To Erect Safety Signal

Various subjects of public interest were discussed Friday night at the meeting of the Elkin Kiwanis club at Hotel Elkin, chief among which was the move to have the state highway commission erect a safety signal at the intersection of Gwyn Avenue and Market street at the entrance of the new bridge.

One death has already occurred at this intersection since Market street extension was opened a few months ago, and it represents a daily traffic hazard without a warning signal of some kind to notify motorists unfamiliar with the street, of the danger.

Determining the cost of erecting "Welcome" signs on all leading highways coming into Elkin was left to the board of directors. The club is planning such signs, to also bear

MANY CASES TRIED IN SUPERIOR COURT

Hemric Gets 3 Years In Two Cases; Harding Is Presiding

Yadkinville, Feb. 27.—(Special)—Superior court for the trial of criminal cases opened here Monday morning at ten o'clock with Judge W. F. Harding of Charlotte on the bench. Soon after convening of court the selection of a grand jury was completed and Mr. Wiley E. Dobbins of Yadkinville was chosen as foreman. John Swaim is officer in charge of the grand jury.

Judge Harding delivered a masterful charge to the jurors, reminding them of the fundamental principals of peace and progress and pointing out that all our progress and advancement has been made as a result of sound laws and their enforcement. Without these, Judge Harding pointed out, civilization could not continue to progress as in the past, and the violation of each or any law was a step in the wrong direction.

Judge Harding emphasized the dangers of fast or reckless driving on the highways, which causes so many unnecessary deaths and injuries in our state. Drinking and drunkenness also came in for their share of the charge as well as the selling and making of intoxicating drinks, and he instructed the jury to go after all violators of this kind, whether they be "one gallus fellows" or those higher up who continually violate the law by encouragement.

GETS INSTRUCTIONS ABOUT 'BABY BONDS'

Bonds of Small Denominations to Go On Sale March 1st

Detailed instructions regarding the sale of the new "Baby Bonds," which will be available to the public March 1st, have been received by the Elkin postoffice.

"United States Savings Bonds" is the name given the bonds by the Treasury and Post Office departments. The bonds will be issued in denominations of $25, $50, $500 and $1,000 maturity values. They will be in registered form only. They are to mature in ten years from the first day of the month in which they are sold, and will bear interest at 2.9 per cent. Sale prices will be $18.75, $37.50, $75.00 and $750.00 for the respective denominations.

The bonds may be redeemed at their accrued value at any time after 60 days from the date of issue. Postal savings accounts may also be converted into these securities with no loss of interest.

It is generally believed that the "Baby Bonds" will appeal to the average citizen as an investment, as they are tax free, and will be issued in denominations well within the reach of the small investor.

"MARCH TO CHURCH DURING MARCH" IS PLEA OF CHURCHES

Designate Next Month As Month of Church Attendance

IS SPECIAL EFFORT

Uniting in an appeal to everyone to make March a month of church attendance, local churches are co-operating in an effort to get every person, whether a member of a church or a non-member, to attend the church of his or her choice each Sunday.

As a slogan, which is being presented to the public in individual advertisements and a full page co-operative ad this week, "March to Church During March," has been chosen. The invitation to attend church is also being repeated in the editorial columns of this issue of The Tribune.

Not only is the church appeal being directed to adults, but to young and old, rich and poor alike. Church members who have been lax in attending services of their various churches are urged to again resume regular attendance. People who are not affiliated with any of the local churches are urged to attend their choice of the several churches here where a warm welcome will be waiting.

The pastors of the various churches who are heading the campaign hope that church attendance during March may be materially increased, and that in the months to follow attendance will continue to be above the present average.

IS PRESENTED TO COURT BY ALLEN

Dumont Eskridge Administered Oath At Yadkinville

Dumont Eskridge, of Elkin and Jonesville, who recently passed the state bar examination at Raleigh in a highly creditable manner, was presented to the court and administered the oath early Monday morning at Yadkinville before Judge W. F. Harding, who is presiding over the current criminal session there.

Mr. Eskridge was introduced to the court by W. M. Allen, local attorney under whom he had prepared himself for law. Mr. Allen also administering the oath. A warm welcome to the profession of law was then extended by Judge Harding.

Although he had only been studying law a little under two years, Mr. Eskridge was high among the comparatively small group of approximately 30 who successfully withstood the recent examination. Approximately 50 applicants, many with the advantages of a college course, failed to pass.

Mr. Eskridge continues to be associated with Mr. Allen at his office here. His plans for the future have not been announced.

Mrs. J. P. Parker, of Rich Square, spent the week-end here the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. W. Ring, at her home on Terrace Avenue.

Surry Man Asks Governor of Maine To Act As Cupid

Perhaps figuring he could get a better wife far afield than in Surry county, a Shoals citizen who wrote to Governor Louis J. Brann, of Maine for aid in securing a wife, preferably "over 40, and of a type rather stout," now has in his possession the photograph of an attractive Maine woman who is willing to mate provided the Shoals man proves satisfactory to herself.

Governor Brann did not handle the affair personally, but turned the matter over to one of his secretaries, who, in turn, made a selection from the hundreds of applications received from Maine women after the news of the Shoals man's request had been published throughout the state.

The woman selected, whose name was not given out, was described as a childless widow and a highly respected citizen of Fort Fairfield, Me. Upon sending her photograph and an outline of her history to the Surry county man, she requested similar information from him.

Rusty, a native Siwash malamute in the cold bleak stretches of the far North, never had much of a chance in life. Fate seemed always to plot against him... Yet that same fate made Rusty an unsung hero in as tense and thrilling a drama as the West and Northwest ever knew.

Rusty crossed the path of Speed Malone and Ed Maitland... He lurked in the far shadows of their campfire long enough to prove himself the key to a mystery which had baffled man. You never get to really know Rusty. But you will look back with favoring eyes on her, when you have read the concluding lines of our new serial story!
