Winston-Salem Fair to Be Held October 7 to 12

Although the dates of the bigger and better Winston-Salem and Forsyth County Fair are not until October 7th to 12th, the management is already going ahead at full steam making arrangements for this annual event. Never before have such lavish preparations been announced so far ahead and it is evident that the management intends this year's fair to eclipse all previous efforts to give the people of Piedmont North Carolina an exposition of which they can well be proud.

To avoid the congestion that has prevailed the past few years there will be two children's days this year, Tuesday being given over to Winston-Salem school children and Wednesday to the pupils and teachers of schools outside the city. Invitations are going forward now to all schools in Forsyth and adjoining counties, inviting the schools and the teachers to be the guests of the fair management on Wednesday.

The premium list of the big Winston-Salem fair is now in the hands of the printers and will soon be ready for distribution. Those desiring to compete for the handsome premiums or otherwise interested are invited to write the Fair association at Winston-Salem for a free copy which will be mailed just as soon as issued.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown us by friends in this community and the Mitchell's Chapel community, during the illness and death of our mother. Also for the beautiful flowers.

THEY'LL TELL YOU ...

"IT'S THE GREATEST TIRE EVER BUILT"

Yes, sir, the public that buys tires certainly has proved to its full satisfaction that Goodyear scooped the industry when the famous "G-3" All-Weather was introduced. That great detective, Inspector Faurot of the New York Police, clinched the case with evidence he gathered across America — and our "G-3" customers here have since supported his findings with plenty more proof. Yet this thoroughly Public-Proved "G-3," although a costlier tire to build, continues to sell at no extra price because more people buy it than any other tire in the world. Don't fail to see the "G-3" — and hear all about it — before you next buy tires!
