ONE MORE SURVEY FOR POWER NEEDS

Rural Communities Not Included In First Survey To Have Chance

Those rural communities not included in the original survey of potential rural electric power lines will have one more chance to have their conditions studied for possible action by the Rural Electrification Commission.

"All communities which were not studied in the original survey now have one more opportunity to be included on the same basis as those previously studied," says David S. Weaver, agricultural engineer at State College. "This is the last chance and we are hopeful that interested individuals and communities will secure the necessary blanks which have been furnished to county agents and will fill these out as quickly as possible and mail them to my office at the College. As soon as the completed forms have been studied here, we will send a trained person to the county to meet with the community leaders and others."

Weaver says 677 communities in 78 counties were surveyed in the original study but since that time a number of individuals and community leaders have reported that they did not know about the survey and would like to have their situation considered. Additional funds were secured from the ERA to make this further study but it is extremely doubtful if any more funds will be available for this purpose. Therefore, the engineer urges that prompt action be taken by those communities where no survey has been made. "Secure forms from the county agent; hold a community meeting and decide on the territory to be covered; fill in the forms and mail to me, and we will send a man to the community as quickly as possible," Weaver says. The engineer will be sent only to those communities where the establishment of a power line appears to be feasible, he concluded.

MOONEY FRIENDS MEET

San Francisco, July 28.—Defenders of Tom Mooney rallied at a mass meeting here today on the 19th anniversary of his imprisonment and shouted approval when speakers described him as a martyr to the cause of organized labor.

TO ORGANIZE BANDS IN SURRY, WILKES

J. Guy Womble, of University of N. C., to Teach Both Wind and String Instruments.

J. Guy Womble, of the University of North Carolina, has recently moved to North Wilkesboro. With that city as his permanent headquarters, he will organize Brass Bands in both Surry and Wilkes counties. Mr. Womble, in addition to teaching band instruments, will also give lessons on the various string instruments to those desiring them.

Anyone interested in taking lessons on either string instruments or on a horn, should write Mr. Womble at North Wilkesboro or else send their letters to him here in care of The Tribune, in order that he may be seen personally.—Adv.

LET'S BRING DOWN THIS COST, MR. FARMER!

Replacements of their machinery, automobiles and implements cost U. S. farmers approximately $400,000,000 annually. Poor lubrication is to blame for much of this cost. To help farmers reduce this expense, hundreds of farm equipment manufacturers recommend Sinclair lubricants—the lubricants we sell.

Let us tell you about it. We sell Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils, Sinclair Tractor Oils, Sinclair H-C Gasoline, Sinclair Cup and Axle Greases, Sinclair Opaline Gear Lubricant, Sinclair Super-Flame Kerosene, Sinclair Stock Spray, Sinclair P. D. Insect Spray and all Sinclair Farm Oils. Just phone or write.

Which... Do You Prefer? THIS —

Or THIS?

When sent to the White Swan, your laundry is washed in the most modern method—in individual nets. Can you be sure of as much when it goes to the washerwoman? No! Here your clothes are protected by every possible means of sanitation. They are not boiled but are completely sterilized. Can you be sure of as much when they go to your washerwoman? No!

Think it over. Even though you may save a few pennies by sending the laundry to someone's home for washing, is it wise economy? Are you positive your clothes are not mixed in with those of someone else? Are you positive they are washed under absolutely sanitary conditions? If not, you are, risking the health of your entire family! Is that wise economy?
