LOUIS MITCHELL

The Gab Bag, in presenting many of Elkin's business men to all nine of its readers, takes great pleasure this week in introducing Louis Mitchell, the man who supplies Elkin and this section with movies.

Mr. Mitchell, a big hearted fellow if there ever was one, is almost always in the lobby of the Lyric theatre whenever you are going in or coming out. And it pleases him immensely if patrons, provided they like a show, pause long enough after it's over, to tell him so. He likes to give people what they want to see.

"Louie," as he is known to everyone, was born in Greece, coming to America when he was a boy. He has been in the theatre business here for many years and is one of Elkin's respected business men. When it comes to doing somebody a favor, whether it's contributing to some worthwhile civic project, or lending his theatre, he's always on the job.

Another of Mr. Mitchell's virtues is that of tending strictly to his own business and letting other people attend to theirs. He's unmarried and they say he walks with very step each leap year.

"Louie's" weakness is olive oil. He prefers olive oil to butter or lard when it comes to cooking, no matter what. Says olive oil is healthier than fats and can recite recipes that will make your mouth water. We've never asked his opinion on castor oil.

When it comes to running a movie theatre, Louie demands the very best in sound equipment. Ever so often he discards sound heads that he equipped his machines with only a short time before, in favor of something newer and better. He figures if pictures have got to talk, they've got to talk naturally as possible.

The last sound equipment he installed not only improved the sound tone of pictures, but also cut to a minimum the danger of fire in the projection booth.

You can depend on Louie to give you the best movies the market affords. And you can also depend on him to do his part when it comes to worthwhile civic projects.

For Bad Feeling

Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lefe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

running themselves to death for his benefit.

Personally, although there are rats in the basement at home, we don't care to have one of the traps, because we might get in it and wouldn't we be a pretty thing out running ourself to death. But if you want one at your house to put by the edge of your mother-in-law's bed, we are sure Abe will fix you up—and guarantee the job.

If case we ever take a notion to write up any other important inventions like the above, we are going to run it under a "Public Service" head.

You've heard jokes about doctors with their satchel full of saws, hammers, etc. Well, we were sort of wandering at random through the local hospital the other day and while on tour made an inspection of a case of surgical instruments. And, believe it or not, the case contained among other things, a saw, a brace and bit, a chisel and a hand drill.

Of course they weren't the type to build a house with.

Surgery must be terribly fascinating. Come over and let us saw on you sometime.
