SECOND LINK IS ABOUT COMPLETED

Bugaboo Creek Structure Nearly Done on Ronda-Roaring River Road

COTTON MAY BE USED

Contractors have almost completed work of grading, stone surfacing and bridges on the 41-2 mile link of highway 268 between Roaring River and Ronda.

Engineers are enthusiastic in their praise of that link of highway because of its even grade and the absence of dangerous curves. Bugaboo Creek near Ronda is spanned with a unique type structure said to be the only one of its kind in the state. It is an arch culvert with retaining walls holding the dirt on the roadway. Concrete and steel were used in its construction.

When the structure is completed in a few days the approaches will be filled and stone surfaced. The surface treatment will not be applied until spring of next year, in the meantime allowing the grade to become completely settled.

It is understood that engineers have recommended that the link of highway have a cotton fabric layer similar to that used in the highway between Elkin and Ronda.

The highway now lacks approximately eight miles of being completed between Elkin and North Wilkesboro, the unimproved section being between North Wilkesboro and Roaring River. Citizens in the communities along the route and others interested in a shorter route are hoping that contract for the North Wilkesboro-Roaring River link can be let soon.

THREE INJURED BY HIT-RUN DRIVER

Miss Lucy McBride, of Near Ronda, Sustains Slight Skull Fracture

OFFICERS SEEK DRIVER

Miss Lucy McBride, of near Ronda, sustained a slight skull fracture and other injuries, and her brother, Ray McBride, 16, and Garnie Brown, 22, of Jonesville, suffered minor injuries when they were struck on the highway in the outskirts of Jonesville Saturday evening by an automobile, the driver of which has not been identified.

The car which struck and knocked them down on the pavement, was said to have been attempting to pass another machine on the highway, along which the trio was walking with the Brown home near Jonesville as their destination.

The three injured were brought to the local hospital and have recovered sufficiently to be permitted to return to their homes. In the meantime, officers who are said to have learned the number of the license plate of the car, have been making a concerted effort to apprehend the owner and operator of the car.

Some people sour when they are unable to mix with the cream of society.

Political timber frequently needs white-washing.

LATENEWS from the State and Nation

LA GUARDIA IS RE-ELECTED

A victory for Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, of New York, in his re-election battle against Tammany Hall topped early returns from yesterday's scattered state and municipal elections.

With scarcely a third of the ballots counted, La Guardia, Republican-Fusionist candidate had amassed such a commanding lead that Jeremiah T. Mahoney, his Democratic opponent, conceded defeat in a telegram congratulating the victor. The returns indicated La Guardia's margin of victory would be 400,000 or more.

F. D. R. TAKES PART IN RALLY

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt, participating in a local Democratic victory rally at his home tonight, replied to a question about a third White House term by noting that the Hyde Park supervisor must make a race again a year before the presidential election.

After a torchlight parade in front of the Roosevelt home and a brief speech by the President, someone among several hundred gathered before the home's front step called out: "How about 1940?" "Elmer here has to run in '39," the President answered.

WINDSORS TO BE ENTERTAINED

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will be entertained at the British embassy at dinner on Friday evening, November 12 by Sir Roland and Lady Lindsay, the embassy's social secretary announced today.

Presumably they will come here almost immediately.

Elks Defeat Cleveland Here Monday By 32-0

Making a savage come-back against Cleveland here Monday afternoon following a 19 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Mount Airy Bears last Friday, the Elks of Elkin Hi are pointing toward the game to be played here Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:45, with Mocksville.

Friday's game will mark the second game in five days for the Elks, but the squad came through Monday's encounter, in which Cleveland was defeated 32 to 0, in good condition, and barring injury through practice, every man should be ready to go in the action against Mocksville.

Monday's game saw the Elks sweeping all before them, the second and third squad men seeing action. Although fighting gamely throughout each quarter, Cleveland was unable to stem the tide of the smoothly working Elk attack.

CROP CONTROL PLAN OPPOSED IN COMMITTEE

First Proposals Meet Instant Opposition

CONCERN CORN CONTROL

Suggest Market Quotas For States, Counties and Individual Farms

CONGRESS MEETS NOV. 5

Washington, Nov. 2.—The first proposals submitted by an administration official to the House committee considering new farm legislation met instant opposition today.

They embraced a compulsory corn control program to be written into a general farm bill for presentation to the special session of Congress on November 15.

Representative Coffee (D), Neb. agriculture committee member from the wheat and corn country, challenged legal and practical aspects of the plan and countered with suggestions for voluntary marketing agreements.

Claude R. Wickard, AAA director for the north central division, represented the Department of Agriculture at an executive session of the House committee. He suggested that Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska be designated as "commercial corn" areas for special application of a control program.

In those states, where production averaged 10 bushels per tiller acre for an entire county, he proposed to make government corn loans and soil conservation benefits available to all farmers who co-operated with the federal program.

Marketing quotas, he suggested, should be designated for states, counties and individual farms. Once in effect, they would be enforced by a penalty of tax of 25 cents a bushel on all corn the farmer marketed in excess of his quota.

CHINESE DEMANDS NEW OBSTACLE TO BRUSSELS PARLEY

Firm Stand Taken for Japanese Evacuation

NO TERMS ACCEPTABLE

Delegations, on Eve of Conference, Hold No Hope for Japanese Acceptance

NO SOLUTION IS SEEN

Brussels, Nov. 2.—A new obstacle to settlement of the far eastern situation arose tonight on the eve of the Brussels conference when China declared she would consider no peace terms which did not provide for Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.

There was serious doubt among the delegates that Japan could be induced to give up her position in North China and inner Mongolia.

Efforts to find a formula to bridge the abyss between the two countries went ahead, however, in a series of hotel room talks with Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, as the central figure.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and his associates spent three hours with the American delegation. Immediately afterward Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, arrived to consult Davis.

Davis, it was learned, declined an unofficial bid to preside at the conference, which will be opened tomorrow morning with a speech by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Spaak. Speeches by heads of the various delegations will follow.

A Chinese spokesman asserted there was no sense in attempting any formal peace talks except with the understanding that they would consider no terms which did not provide for Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.

The spokesman said China would welcome conciliation, but only with the understanding that it added the Chinese would welcome Japanese representation at the Brussels conference.
