Raleigh, Feb. 21. — Millions of robins are roosting near Ronda, in Wilkes county, John D. Chalk, state game commissioner, said today.

The birds, he added, are feeding in the fields of Thurmond Chatham, which were seeded for game birds, and every effort is being made to protect them from persons who believe robins are a delicacy.

"We have in Wilkes county, near Ronda, a robin roost similar to the one located in Orange county last winter," Chalk quoted H. Grady Farthing, district game protector, as saying. "It seems that all of the robins in the southland must be assembled there."
