HANCOCK TO VISIT ALL THE COUNTIES

Will Wage Campaign for Senate in Each County of His District

TERMED "ENERGY BAIL"

Oxford, N. C., April 21.—Frank Hancock will take his senatorial campaign into those counties of North Carolina that time has not yet permitted, it was revealed in his office here today.

The Fifth district Congressman, never a loser in a political campaign, spends each week-end in the state and an occasional day during the week when he is able to be away from Washington without neglecting his duties there.

With hundreds of letters pouring into his offices in Washington and Oxford since his candidacy was announced last October, the mail has more than quadrupled since he opened his campaign with two radio addresses to the citizens of the state. Those letters are bringing the very favorable news that Mr. Hancock is hearing in every section he visits.

Termed "a ball of energy" in a mass meeting of enthusiastic supporters held in his native Granville county Saturday night, Mr. Hancock has shaken thousands of hands in more than two-thirds of the counties of North Carolina in the past few weeks and wherever he goes, his radiant smile, engaging personality and sincerity are winning new admirers.

ing personality and sincerity are winning new admirers.

If "procrastinate" means to "put off," we're telling the world that hereafter we'll at least read the weather forecast before we "procrastinate" our long un's!
