

Prof. Dixon Day
Sunday, July 17

Being born on February 29, his birthdays are few.

For almost twenty years he conducted the Yadkinville Normal School from which a large number of boys and girls went out into the world to make their living. This grand old man left his mark on all of them even though he did not give all of them diplomas. His students now fill important places in many lines of business and professions.

During the active life of Professor Dixon his work has been in and around Yadkinville, having been principal of the Yadkinville, Jonesville and Elkin schools, during this entire time.

To pay tribute to this grand old man it has been thought very fitting and proper to have a home coming in his honor at Yadkinville on Sunday, July 17. Since it is to be Professor Dixon Day in Yadkinville all of the former pupils and friends of Professor Dixon are invited to spend the day with him.

It is proposed to let all who wish, bring basket lunches, tables for which will be provided, and spend the day picnicking and visiting on the Yadkinville school grounds. If there is anything that

MEETING IN PROGRESS AT RONDA BAP. CHURCH

A meeting of unusual interest and results is now in progress at the Ronda Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. Grady Burgess, being assisted by Rev. Charles C. Holland, of Taylorsville. Up to Tuesday night there had been nine additions to the church, all of whom came as candidates for baptism.

Services are being held twice daily, at 2:00 and 7:45 p. m., and will continue throughout the week.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

CANS FOR FILLING FOR MILLS HOME RECEIVED

Cans for filling for Mills Home, Thomasville, have been received by the Yadkin Baptist Association and may be secured from the following places: Mackie's Store, located below Yadkinville; Davis' Store, East Bend; Hubert Evans' home, near Jonesville, and W. N. Ireland's home, near Brooks Cross Roads.

Any church in the association filling as many as 25 dozen cans may leave them at their church or any convenient place where the truck from the orphanage will pick them up, but a church filling less than 25 dozen cans must return them to the central place from where they were collected.

It is urged that Sunday School superintendents assume the responsibility of getting the fruit jars to their churches. The cans may be filled with any fruits or vegetables, tomatoes are especially desired.

Men's Cars, Liquor Taken by Patrolman

Two automobiles, two men and two small loads of white, non-taxpaid liquor have been taken here this week by state highway patrolmen, who turned them over to federal officers for trial.

Sunday night Patrolman Lee Phillips and Thomas Jordan, Jr., overhauled a 1932 Ford with 15 gallons of the contraband, and occupied by three negroes. The occupants got away when the car was headed in at a filling station in East Yadkinville, but thro license numbers the officers traced Edward Mack, negro, and caught him in Winston-Salem Monday. Monday night Patrolman Phillips and Boonville constable Arthur Mathews, caught a Packard car with 10 gallons of white liquor between Yadkinville and Brooks Crossroads, which was driven by Harvey Shore of Marler, who was accompanied by his wife and child.

Both were given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner M. W. Mackie and bound over to federal court at Winston-Salem next November. Shore gave bond immediately, but Mack has not. Both cars were confiscated.
