LATE NEWS from the State and Nation

NAME CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED TEAGUE

Carl Thomas Durham, Chapel Hill, pharmacist, a member of the Orange county board of commissioners, was selected as sixth district Democratic nominee for Congress late yesterday afternoon by the district congressional committee, which had been deadlocked here for two days.

The executive committee indicated that Mr. Durham was selected after its members saw it was virtually impossible for them to agree upon a Guilford or Durham county nominee. His name had not been prominently mentioned for the post, and a member of the committee revealed that it was not placed before the group until yesterday morning.

Since there is no Republican candidate, the committee's selection of Durham was tantamount to election. His name will replace on the district ballots that of Judge Lewis E. Teague, of High Point, who died last Thursday.

WOULDN'T CRY—BUT DIED

Chicago, Nov. 1—Nine-year-old Barbara Courtney died today of the Hallowe'en burns she felt she was too big to cry over.

Barbara winced a little when playmates beat out the bon fire flames that flared in the colonial maid dress she had worn to a gay Hallowe'en party last night but she held back her tears.

This morning Barbara first felt dazed, then lost consciousness and died. Physicians explained shock, and the fact the burns, although not deep, covered a large area, caused death.

FOREST FIRE IS UNDER CONTROL

Asheville, Nov. 1—A forest fire that for the second time within two days threatened the city's North Fork watershed was brought under control again today after approaching within a quarter mile of the watershed.

Tonight 15 regular city employees kept close tab on the fire as it began apparently to burn itself out on the western slope of Walkertown ridge adjacent to the watershed.

Approximately 150 men—city workers, CCC boys from the Marion camp and WPA workmen—fought the fire Monday night after it gained considerable headway Monday morning and shortly after midnight Monday thought they had it under control.

Boy and Girl Scouts Gather to Honor Dr. Jenkins

As a mark of respect to a man who has taken a great interest in the Scout movement here, Dr. Wm. A. Jenkins, pastor of the Elkin Methodist church for the past three years, the entire Scout organization, including Troops 46 and 48 and the Girl Scouts, attended services in a body at the Methodist church Sunday morning, Dr. Jenkins' last service before going to his new charge at Marion. The picture above, made following the church service, includes the Scouts and a number of Scout officials, in addition to Dr. Jenkins, who may be seen at left. The other men, standing in the immediate rear and slightly above, are Dr. C. E. Nicks, scoutmaster of Troop 46; J. L. Lillard, Rev. L. B. Abernethy, and J. Mark McAdams, all of whom have taken an active interest in the movement here. Dr. Jenkins is scoutmaster of Troop 48. Mrs. J. Mark McAdams, standing directly in front of Dr. Jenkins, is head of the Girl Scouts. Since the movement was inaugurated here about two years ago, five of the Boy Scouts have attained Scoutdom's greatest honor—that of Eagle Scout.—(Photo by W. F. Burgess.)

Fine Response Of Subscribers Is Appreciated

The wonderful response by subscribers to the Elkin Tribune during the "Cash Offer" campaign now in progress is greatly appreciated by the publishers. It is indeed heartening to know that The Tribune is so well accepted in the many homes in The Tribune territory and especially ready response from the hundreds of our old subscribers who have so readily and promptly renewed their subscription and settled any back accounts that were due.

It is gratifying to know that we have such a sterling class of people on our mailing lists. There are still a few who have not as yet settled up their accounts and renewed their subscription, but we feel sure that before the present subscription campaign comes to a close all renewals will be in.

We are proud of the fine organization of workers in the campaign. They are doing a splendid job and the special prizes offered this week and next for the collection of renewal and extension subscriptions will no doubt spur them on to greater efforts in getting every good subscriber on the Tribune lists renewed and in good standing, and that their efforts will be met accordingly with the same hearty response from those few who are still in arrears with their TRIBUNE subscription.
