SOCIETY

Mrs. Freeman Elected President of Woman's Club; Mrs. Lott Reads "Idiot's Delight"

Members of the Woman's Club were privileged to hear Mrs. H. Stokes Lott of Winston-Salem, read Bob Sherwood's Pulitzer prize play, "Idiot's Delight," at the open meeting Tuesday afternoon at Hotel Elkin. Mrs. P. M. Greene, chairman of the Department of Literature of the club, was in charge of the program and introduced Mrs. Lott. The play, which is a strong attack on war, is in keeping with the Peace program outlined by the club for the year's study. Other features of the program were vocal solos by Mrs. Parks Hampton and Miss Josephine Paul and a piano solo by Miss Carolyn Lillard.

During the business session the following officers were presented by the nominating committee to serve during the 1939-40 term: President, Mrs. R. C. Freeman; vice-president, Mrs. Mason Lillard; secretary, Mrs. H. C. Salmons; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Hatch. The officers were unanimously elected.

Other routine matters and reports were heard.

Prior to the meeting Mrs. Paul Gwyn, president of the club, and local chairman of the Tax Consumers League, held a meeting for interested parties in hidden taxes. Papers were presented by Mesdames Joe Bivins, C. H. Brewer and R. C. Freeman regarding these taxes.

Similar meetings will be held before each open meeting with the hope of bringing to light various hidden taxes and their ultimate repeal.

The meeting was well attended Tuesday and a number of visitors were present.
