WESTERN FISHING SEASON EXTENDED

The fishing season for all species of fish except trout, in and west of Alleghany, Wilkes and Rutherford counties and west of Highway No. 18 in Burke and Caldwell counties, has been extended to April 1st, it was announced today from the Asheville office of the North Carolina division of Game and Inland Fisheries.

In view of the granting of this extension and the equalizing of the large and small mouth bass season, also the plans for a widespread public restocking program, the division earnestly requests that should any fishermen catch any of the various species of game fish which looks to contain roe or spawn, that they will wet their hands and carefully release these fish back into the water. Each fish released means the saving of some five or six thousand young.

Grocer: "Then you don't want any cranberries?" Customer: "No, I've changed my mind. I see your cat is asleep in those cranberries."

Grocer: "Oh, that'll be all right, I don't mind waking the cat up."

Presbyterian Notes

Prof. Z. H. Dixon will preach at the morning service in the Presbyterian church Sunday, April 2nd. Everyone is cordially invited to worship with us in this service.

Rev. O. V. Caudill will preach at Yadkinville Sunday morning and will be with Dr. E. E. Gillespie, superintendent of Home Missions in the Synod of N. C., at a service in the West Jefferson church Sunday night.

The pastor of the church took ten young people to Thomasville last Saturday to the Young Peoples' Conference. More than 100 young people attended this conference. Our young people were greatly helped by attending this meeting.

The Church Council met at the home of Rev. O. V. Caudill Wednesday night. Plans for the new church year's work was the subject for the evening. Every one was deeply interested in the program of the church for this year.

A number of visits was made by the pastor out in the field. A visit to Ashe county, with Rev. Luke on his field, an evening with the men of the church at North Wilkesboro, in their discussion of their building program, a service at Pine Ridge, and Stewardship meetings with several other places.

We extend to every one a cordial welcome to attend our Sunday school, morning church services and young peoples' program each Sunday.

Fresh orchids gathered in Venezuela will be shipped by plane to the New York World's Fair every other day.
