ARE REMODELING 5 AND TEN HERE

Graham & Click's to Boast New Front and Modern Fixtures Throughout Entire Store

Graham & Click 5c & 10c Store is now in the midst of remodeling activity, and will not be open for business until Saturday at the earliest. However, there is some doubt that the store will be ready to resume business on that date, Claude Farrell, the owner, said Tuesday.

A new and modern front is being installed and complete new fixtures throughout the entire store will make it more attractive, more convenient and far roomier. The stairway which formerly led up from the street to offices upstairs, has been torn away, thus giving room for a wider front and more inside space.

When once completed, a formal opening will be staged, date of which will be announced through this newspaper. In observance of the opening, many unusual values will be offered.

COOL SPRINGS

There were 177 at Sunday school Sunday, with several visitors, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Fisher and children, Lynn, Kathryn and John, of Battleground, Ind. Mrs. Fisher was one time a resident of the Cool Springs community, and her many friends will remember her as Flossie Burcham. They will return to Indiana Tuesday. "Uncle Charlie" Carter was also back with us after a long period of sickness. We are very glad that Mr. Carter was sufficiently recovered to come back again. Rev. J. D. Luffman and Mrs. Luffman came back, as they expressed it, "Back home," Sunday. Mrs. Jay Myers, who has been for some time a patient in the Statesville hospital, was a much appreciated visitor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newman and children visited Mrs. Newman's sister, Mrs. Conrad Holcomb, and Mr. Holcomb, at Mooresville, Sunday afternoon.

The Sunday evening service was in charge of A. C. Wall, in the absence of Mrs. Paul Newman.

An interesting evening of singing by the Young People's chorus, interspersed by special numbers by the Holcomb Brothers' Trio, were much enjoyed.

Prayer service was held at the home of R. C. Harris Saturday evening, honoring Mr. Harris' father, J. P. Harris. This is the second of a series of services to be held with all aged ones of this community, who are no longer able to attend church service. Looking about and thinking this over we find that so far as we know every one of our aged people here are devout Christians, and their warm "God Bless You" is a Heavenly benediction resting over Cool Springs.

A series of meetings are to begin here Sunday evening and continue through next week. Rev. Grant Cothren will assist the pastor in these services. All who know Rev. Cothren know him as a plain country preacher for plain country people.

Prayer service will be held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reckford Wishon.

A cordial invitation is extended you to come and worship with us here.

Good Business

The customer gazed pensively at the barber. "I say," he said at last, "isn't it unusual to see a barber with long hair and whiskers like yours?"

The barber nodded. "Yes," he replied, "but it's good business. Every man who sees how they look on me, asks for a haircut and a shave."
