Boonville Seniors Hold First Party

Members of the Boonville Senior class enjoyed their first party of the season when they met in the gymnasium of the high school for the event.

Last year the senior class voted to hold one class party every school month of the year, and this year's class is adhering to that plan. The party was given by four seniors, Fred Coram, Winina Fleming, Ruth Kimmer and Thelma Renegar.

The program committee had a well arranged program for the evening. Games and contests were played, after which refreshments were served.

Miss Helen Coe Celebrates Birthday With Party

Mrs. J. E. Coe entertained several young children at her home in honor of her daughter, Helen, who celebrated her ninth birthday.

A variety of games and contests were played on the lawn. Contest winners were Arlis Nell Steelman and Marie Lyon. Mrs. Arlie Steelman assisted Mrs. Coe in the program arrangement and had charge of the games. Cake, lemonade and cookies were served to the group.

Rowan Motsinger Celebrates Birthday

Rowan Motsinger, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Motsinger, celebrated his 11th birthday Monday afternoon by entertaining a number of his young friends at a lawn party at his home here.

Only boys were present at the party. They played a number of outdoor games and contests. After the games Mrs. Motsinger invited all the guests to the dining room, where she served ice cream and birthday cake.

Boonville Home Demonstration Club Hears Talk

Miss Irene Brown, Yadkin home agent, met with the Boonville Home Demonstration Club and gave an interesting demonstration of canning vegetables. Miss Brown took up the various steps in canning vegetables and explained each step as she progressed with the work.

This meeting is a continuation of the work which was organized here in July by the assistance of Miss Brown. Like demonstrations have been given with excellent results in various other sections of the county.

Boonville Seniors Go To Chapel Hill

Tobacco Growers of State Faced with Critical Situation, Schaub Says

GOVERNMENT WILL AID

(This letter is addressed to all flue-cured tobacco growers in North Carolina, through the newspapers of the State, by Dean I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension Service.)

"We are faced with one of the most critical situations ever to confront the tobacco growers of North Carolina. The problem is, not what to do about 1940, 1941, or other future years, but how can we market at a fair price the 600,000,000 pounds of the 1939 crop still in the pack houses.

"The Federal government has offered to put from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 into this year's crop to sustain prices if growers will agree to restrict their 1940 crop. They want this assurance to avoid a repetition of a situation which resulted in 1929 when the old Farm Board pegged cotton prices, only to have a larger crop of cotton produced the next year, making it necessary to continue price-pegging.

"To have the government step in and help financially to sustain prices of this year's crop seems to be the only solution to our current problem. The Imperial Tobacco Company has informed Secretary Wallace that its buyers cannot return to the market under present war conditions. The remainder of the 1939 crop cannot be sold at a fair price, nor can it be handled, unless provisions are made to resume the normal purchases of the Imperial Company through the government.

"The domestic buying interests do not want the warehouses reopened until this problem is solved; they do not want to resume buying of the 1939 crop until growers have voted on regulated marketings for 1940. The Tobacco Association of the United States has made it clear that the government did not close the markets to force control in 1940. The buyers and warehousemen closed the markets in the best interests of the farmers and others concerned.

"There is no assurance that the war will cause tobacco prices to rise next year, or the next. We must think about this year's crop.

"The question is, do growers want to restrict their 1940 crop and obtain the help of the government in holding up prices of this year's crop? It is a question which calls for the serious thinking of every business man, as well as every farmer in the State."

Pleasant Ridge

At a business meeting of the church here Rev. Frank Peeler of Taylorsville was elected pastor of the church to succeed Rev. J. T. Murray of Winston-Salem, who resigned due to ill health. Other officers of the church elected were, B. W. Carter, superintendent of the Sunday school; E. A. Carter, church clerk; C. W. Luffman, church treasurer and Miss Irene Baugness, secretary. All of the teachers of the Sunday school were reelected for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Golden of Winston-Salem were visitors at the church services here Sunday. Mrs. Clyde Luffman honored her husband with a surprise birthday dinner at their home Saturday evening.

WE SUGGEST THAT YOU Tobacco Growers VOTE FOR CONTROL THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5th

We are faced with one of the most critical situations ever to confront the tobacco growers of North Carolina. The problem is, not what to do about 1940, 1941, or other future years, but how can we market at a fair price the 60,000,000 pounds of tobacco still in the pack houses. The Federal Government has offered to put from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 into this year's crop to sustain prices if growers will vote to agree to restrict their 1940 crop. To have the government step in and help financially to sustain prices of this year's crop seems to be the only solution to our current problem. The government and all other organizations will refrain from helping us unless the farmers vote for and assist in passing the referendum.
