Woman's Club in Departmental Meetings Tuesday
The first departmental meetings of the year of the Elkin Woman's Club were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the following homes:

The Department of Education met with Mrs. Fred Neaves on Gwyn Avenue, with 23 members present. Mrs. E. C. James, department chairman, presided over the meeting. Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, chairman of the adult night school, which is sponsored by the club, reported that a total of 50 had been enrolled in the school to date; thirty students at Camp Hancock, and 20 students in the three day class centers at Chatham Park, Chatham Heights and North Elkin. The day classes have added instruction in sewing in addition to the classwork, the materials for sewing being furnished by local merchants.

In observance of Book Week, each member of the club was asked to give a book or the price of a book to the public library.

The program on "Appreciation of American Homes," was in charge of Mrs. Errol Hayes. Mrs. Hayes pictured the home as a refuge from the difficult and complex modern life and stressed the value of home life to each member of the family. She also brought out the benefits of music and other cultural arts in the home.

The Garden Department met with Mrs. L. G. Meed, Sr., on West Main street, with 27 members present.

Mrs. J. Walter Darnell, program chairman, introduced Lieut. Owen G. Huff of Camp Hancock, who spoke on "Conservation of Souls and Soil." His talk was highly enjoyed. In keeping with the topic, Mrs. Fletcher Harris sang Joyce Kilmer's "Trees."

During the business session, the last week in November was designated as clean-up week for the entire town, and the cooperation of all citizens was urged.

The Junior Department met with Mrs. Earl M. Hodel in West-over Heights, with 35 members present.

Mrs. Clyde Eller, department chairman, was in charge of the business session. The department decided to take as a project for the year the improvement of the playground at the elementary school. In order to finance the work the department will sponsor a Christmas dance, the dance to be invitational.

Miss Alice Dixon was guest entertainer for the meeting and she read excerpts from Loretta Carroll Bailey's play, "Job's Kinfolks." Miss Bailey is a member of the Carolina Playmakers and is a native of Winston-Salem, the setting for the play is laid in Winston-Salem.
