5 TIMES AS MUCH LIGHT

...for the same money!

The cost of light produced by a lamp depends upon three factors, namely, cost of current to operate the lamp, efficiency or amount of light produced per watt, and the cost of the lamp. Since 1907 the initial light output of the 60-watt Mazda Lamp, for instance, has been increased over 75 per cent. At the same time, in the face of general increases in the cost of living, the price of the lamp has been reduced from $1.75 to fifteen cents.

This improvement in efficiency and reduction in price plus a decreased cost of electricity mean that today a dollar will purchase more than five times as much light as it did thirty years ago.

A penny's worth of light may conserve priceless eyesight—did you know that it costs as little as one cent to operate the 300-watt filament in an I.E.S. Floor Lamp for one hour and 40 minutes?
