Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt Speaks To Girl Reserves

After a brief business session Friday afternoon November 17, Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt talked to the Girl Reserves on Chinese characteristics and customs. This talk was one of unusual interest and inspiration.

Following this address, the cabinet members were asked to stand at which time the work of each was described by the advisor, Mrs. A. B. Scroggs. The cabinet consists of the president, Mary Thompson; vice-president, Thelma Quesenberry; secretary-treasurer, Alma Couch; chairman of program committee, Grace Myers; chairman of the social committee, Susie Mathis; chairman of social service, Eloise Cummings; chairman of membership committee, Carmel Finney and chairman of arrangement committee, Mozelle Kimmer.

The Girl Reserve Council members were guests for the program; The members of the council are as follows: Mesdames L. S. Weaver, Harvey Madison, Dwight Mullis, R. G. Boles, Ed Wall and Miss Bertha Adams.

At the close of the program, the special committee served refreshments consisting of punch and cakes to the council members, school faculty and members of the Girl Reserves.

Rev. J. P. Davis Honored At Banquet Friday Evening

The Rose Marlowe and Della Woodhouse circles of the Baptist church honored Rev. J. P. Davis, their pastor, with a banquet at the church Friday evening.

The guests were received in the auditorium by Mrs. J. L. Brandon and Mrs. Mag Price where each was given a program. Then the guests assembled in the new Sunday school rooms where the tables were elaborately decorated, carrying out the Thanksgiving motif. In the center of the table was placed a large pumpkin with turkeys attached on strings. Rev. D. G. Reece led in prayer before the guests were seated. After the first course, Misses Virginia Lineberry and Evelyn Arnold rendered a duet "Lead Thou Me On" by Marion Roberts and R. M. Stults, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ivory Johnson. Mr. F. A. Lineberry gave a toast to Mr. Davis and Mr. Davis responded. After the second course, Mr. Leon Martin rendered a solo, "Be Still" by Benjamin S. Ferrall and Alfred Wooler, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ivory Johnson. Mrs. Johnson also rendered several classical piano solos during the evening. At the end of the program, Miss Bertha Adams gave a short talk on "Thanks" after which the guests were led in prayer and adjourned. Thirty-four guests enjoyed the event.
