LOCAL WOMAN SUFFERS SLIGHT BURNS IN FIRE

Mrs. W. M. Cundiff, 80, narrowly escaped suffocation and received slight burns early Sunday morning at her home on Bridge Street, when a couch on which she was sleeping ignited from a spark from an open grate.

Mrs. Cundiff retired to her room on the second floor early in the evening, but returned to the living room about midnight when she was unable to sleep and kindled a fire in the grate. She fell asleep on a divan in front of the fire and was awakened about 3 o'clock with the room filled with smoke from the burning couch and quilts. Neighbors were aroused by her calls for aid and came to her rescue. The fire was extinguished and the damage was very slight.
