

YADKIN TEAMS WIN TOURNAY

Boonville Boys and Yadkinville Girls Win to Carry Off Top Honors

ALL-STAR TEAMS NAMED

The Elkin 4-County Basketball Tournament came to an end Wednesday night of last week as three Yadkin county teams and one Wilkes team battled out for the championship.

Champions in each division were the Boonville boys and the Yadkinville girls, winning over Yadkinville boys and the Ronda girls, respectively. Scores were: Boonville 16, Yadkinville boys 10; Yadkinville girls 37, Ronda 24.

Trophies were presented at the end of the games by Frank Spencer, sports editor of the Twin-City Sentinel, of Winston-Salem. Attractive medals were also presented to the players making the girls' and boys' All-Tournament teams.

The teams were made up of the following players: boys — Joe Transou, forward, Elkin; Bill Green, forward, Yadkinville; Howard Wilmoth, center, Dobson; Ralph Swaim, guard, Jonesville, and Graham Stinson, guard, Boonville.

Girls' team: Ruth Tharpe, forward, Ronda; Rose Wagoner, forward, Sparta; Katherine Wilkins, forward, Yadkinville; Hazel Spillman, guard, Yadkinville; Nannie Woodruff, guard, Boonville, and Odessa Martin, guard, Copeland.

Elk Theatre To Observe Birthday All Next Week

The Elk Theatre, owned and operated here by Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Reeves, is next week observing its third anniversary with a week of special pictures.

Showing a steady growth in popularity since its opening here three years ago, the Elk will celebrate all week with four good photoplays, featured by "South of the Border," starring Gene Autry, who wrote the theme song of the play.

"South of the Border" will be shown next Monday and Tuesday. Monday the picture will show continuously, starting at 12:30 p. m. and running until 11:30 p. m. Tuesday the regular matinee will be observed.

Wednesday, matinee and night, the Elk will feature "Chasing Trouble" with Frankie Darro. Thursday, matinee and night, the Dead End Kids will be offered in "Dress Parade," and Friday and Saturday, matinee and night, fun-loving theatre patrons will see Laurel and Hardy in "The Flying Deuces," in a rib-rocking comedy.

Rescuers had to remove the injured through the rear of the car, tearing out the trunk. They were immediately rushed to the Elkin hospital by ambulance and private car. Young Barnett died shortly after reaching the hospital. The Groce girl died about 12:30 Sunday night.

It is understood that no charges have as yet been preferred, as authorities await the recovery of those deemed responsible.

Funeral services for the two accident victims were held Tuesday. The Barnett services were at 2 p. m. at the Elkin Valley Baptist church in charge of Rev. R. E. Adams. Burial was in the church graveyard. He is survived by his parents, five sisters and five brothers, and by the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Barnett, of State Road.

The funeral for Miss Groce was held at Swaim's Baptist church, Yadkin county, at 11 a. m., in charge of Rev. Clete Simmons. Burial was in the church graveyard.

Surviving are, in addition to the parents, three sisters, one brother and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holcomb, of Yadkin county.
