dinner session at Hotel Elkin. Dr. Ancombe was introduced to the Kiwanians by Attorney W. M. Allen.

In his talk he described the Russian-Finnish situation, citing the desire of Russia to dominate her weaker neighbor, in a most interesting talk. His talk was illustrated with maps of the two countries.

At 8 o'clock he conducted the second of a series of open forum meetings at the Methodist church and his subject was "The Relation of Rumanian Oil and North Carolina Tobacco." His talk showed intensive study of the conditions, not only in Rumania, which he described as the most important of the Balkans, particularly to Germany, as Rumania is depended upon by Germany to supply her oil in which to engage in the present war. He also brought about the question of the withdrawal of British buyers from the American tobacco markets, and the fact that Britain was now buying tobacco from Turkey, who had become one of her allies. He also pointed out the close relationship of the world, saying that a period of prosperity or adversity in any nation would affect the remainder of the world in some way, and so would a state of warfare.

An open discussion, with a number from the audience participating, was the final interesting feature of the forum meeting. Dr. Ancombe was introduced at the forum meeting by Stacey Weaver, president of the Elkin Kiwanis Club and principal of the Jonesville school.

At the Kiwanis Club, Thomas Phillips was the guest of Kiwanian C. N. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Folger Entertain to Honor Miss Cox and Mr. Harris
Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Folger entertained at a buffet supper at their home on Gwyn Avenue Friday evening to honor Miss Lucile Cox and William Bernard Harris, Jr., whose wedding will be the outstanding social event of the month.

The dining room table was overlaid with a white satin cloth and centered with a silver bowl of pink carnations. Blue candles in silver holders were used on either end of the table. Covers were placed for twenty-four at small tables, which were adorned with small pastel colored vases filled with pansies. In the living room the mantle was banked with peach blossoms.

Mrs. Folger was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. C. Cox, mother of the bride-elect, and Miss Carolyn Lillard. Miss Cox was given silver in her wedding pattern.

Legion Auxiliary Meets With Mesdames Allen and Gwyn
The Woman's Auxiliary of the George Gray Post of the American Legion met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Marion Allen on Church street, with Mrs. Paul Gwyn associate hostess, with ten members present.

The meeting opened with the ritual. During the business session plans were made for the annual observance of Poppy Day. Other routine business was dispatched.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Paul Gwyn and was a study of Child Welfare, one of the outstanding phases of American Legion and Auxiliary work. Mrs. Gwyn was assisted in the program by Mrs. Joe Bivins, Miss Mattie Mae Powell and Mrs. George Royall. At the conclusion of the program a round table discussion of local needs was engaged in by the members. Features of the program were a vocal solo, "A Little Bit o' Honey" (Bond) by Mrs. J. H. Beeson, and a piano solo, "Forest Dawn," by Miss Cynthia Allen.

During a pleasant social hour the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Miss Cox and Mr. Harris Are Honored by Miss Grier
Honoring Miss Lucile Cox and William Bernard Harris, Jr., whose wedding will take place the latter part of the month, Miss Louise Grier entertained at a lovely buffet supper Wednesday evening at her home on Bridge Street. The living room and library were decorated with jonquils and forsythia and in the dining room bridal green and white were used. The dining room table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a miniature bridal party. An archway of lily of the valley made a background for the wedding scene. The doll bride was dressed in white satin with a veil and train of white net and her attendants were dressed in similar gowns in pastel colors. The bridegroom doll and his attendants were dressed in formal evening clothes.

Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. E. C. Grier and Miss Maude Greenwood, mother and aunt of the hostess, and Mrs. W. C. Cox, mother of the bride-elect. Covers were placed for thirty-six at small tables in the living room, dining room and library.

Out-of-towns guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Voss, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Edwin Duncan, of Sparta.

Miss Cox was presented sherry glasses in her pattern in crystal.
