

CENSUS TAKERS NOW IN FIELD

Expect To Complete Job In Surry County By the End of This Month

ENUMERATORS LISTED

In case of a visit just any time now by someone who asks a lot of questions and writes down the answers, don't get excited, for chances are it will be the census taker on official business for Uncle Sam.

With another decade departed, census takers in Surry county have taken the field to see how many folks there are, how many are working, how much money they make, etc., etc., etc.

Paul B. Fulk, of Pilot Mountain, is in charge of the census enumerators for both Surry and Stokes counties, with headquarters in Pilot Mountain. Three types of census are being taken at the same time—population, agriculture and housing. The manufacturer and business census began in January. The population counters will tabulate the age, sex and location of every person. They will also list the individual incomes from wages up to $5,000, location five years ago, education, citizenship employment status, marital status, and occupation. In the agricultural census will be questions about value, type and size of farm and farm buildings, nature and acreage of crops, mortgage indebtedness and number of workers.

Enumerators taking the housing census will ask questions about the value, type and size of structures, mortgage indebtedness and whether occupancy is by owners or tenants. A report must be made to the President by December 1, this year, on population figures for the nation. The Surry-Stokes census is expected to be completed by the first of next month, it was said.

Census enumerators for Surry county now working under the direction of Mr. Fulk, are as follows:

Elkin township — Miss Ophelia Paul, and Mrs. Alma S. Brookshire; Mount Airy—James Edgar Riddle, Thad J. Daber, Edgar G. Webb, Chris Binder, Jr., Roy Kirkman, Hampton Collins, Roscoe Stewart, Miss Pearl Campbell, Jesse G. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Grace Laughridge; Bryan township—Lana Haynes and Scott Nixon; Dobson—Wilson S. Comer, Sheppard B. Gillespie, Vestal Edmonds, and Thomas H. Snow; Eldora—Charles W. Haitt and Curtis Harbour; Franklin—Charles D. Haynes; Long Hill—Savannah L. Norman; Marsh—Marshall Phillips; Pilot—Lewis Taylor and Richard W. Reid; Rockford—Braxton Burrus and Wilbur O. Taylor;

Shoals—Perry G. Scott and John A. Allen; Siloam—George Jones; Stewart's Creek—Tommie O. Hill, Samuel D. Cooke and Claude Ramey; and Westfield—Raymond Snoddy and William B. Blair.

MRS. MORRISON PASSES FRIDAY

Widow of Late C. L. Morrison Had Had Long Illness Result of a Fall

FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Mrs. Fannie Feimster Morrison, 81, widow of C. L. Morrison, of Jonesville, and a member of a prominent family, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Weaver Hinson, near Hamptonville, Friday afternoon, from a lengthy illness resulting from a fall at the home of her son, Charlie Morrison, in Jonesville, about a year ago, in which she suffered a broken hip. Her husband died about five years ago and since his death she had made her home with her children. Mrs. Morrison was a daughter of the late William and Eliza Morrison Feimster of Iredell county, and was a member of the Bethel Baptist church. She is survived by four sons, Feimster Morrison of Lewiston, Idaho; James, William and Charlie Morrison of Jonesville; one daughter, Mrs. Weaver Hinson, of Hamptonville; nineteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Jonesville Baptist church. The rites were in charge of Rev. D. G. Reece and Rev. Richard Pardue. Interment was in the Jonesville cemetery. Grandsons of Mrs. Morrison were pallbearers.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR ELISHA THOS. ISAACS

Funeral services for Elisha Thomas Isaacs, 72, widely known farmer of the Dobson community, were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from New Bethel Primitive Baptist church. Mr. Isaacs passed away in a Winston-Salem hospital.

For the past 30 years he had been a member of the Primitive Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife, four sons, A. L. Isaacs, Harvey T. Isaacs, Columbus W. Isaacs and J. J. Isaacs, all of Winston-Salem; six daughters, Mrs. William Mayes, Mrs. Otis Snow, Mrs. Dewey Smith, Mrs. Wesley Simmons, all of Dobson; Mrs. Jesse Britt, and Mrs. Abe White, Johnson City, Tenn.; two brothers, A. C. and Kirby Isaacs, and six sisters, Miss Betty Isaacs, Mrs. Samuel Moore, Mrs. Hardin Smith, Mrs. Gene Combs, Mrs. Richard Mayes and Mrs. Rachel Wolfe.

Two Are Killed In Races Sunday

Two auto racers were killed Sunday at Salisbury before the eyes of 3,000 people, several from this section, when the wheels of their racing cars became locked on a curve, throwing them over a high bank and into a row of parked cars, four of which were badly damaged.

Those killed were Ernie Rushing, 29, of Winston-Salem and Al Pruden, about 30, of Charlotte. Pruden had a badly crushed head and died instantly while Rushing died at a hospital 30 minutes later. A spectator was injured by flying glass but not seriously. A couple was sitting in one of the parked cars smashed into by the hurtling racer, but escaped serious injury.

Rushing was North Carolina dirt track champion in 1939. He was employed by Hanes Hosiery Mills in Winston-Salem and known by many Yadkin people.

WELL-KNOWN FARMER PASSES ON APRIL 3RD

Adolphus Jennings, 65, well-known farmer of the State Road section, passed away at his home Wednesday night of last week. Funeral services were held Friday from Walnut Grove Baptist church. Interment was in the church cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Robert, James and Claude Jennings, of State Road; four daughters, Mrs. Charles O. Pitts, Oakwoods; Mrs. Nellie Wilson, State Road; Mrs. Granville Church, Blowing Rock, and Mrs. Albert Elmore, Roaring River. One brother, Pressley Jennings, of Oakwoods, and one sister, Mrs. Grant Elledge, of North Wilkesboro, also survive.

"Fighting 69th" To Show At Elk Monday, Tuesday

The Elk theatre's attraction next Monday and Tuesday will be "The Fighting 69th," action-packed story of the fighting, brawling Shamrock regiment, with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and George Brent topping the cast. The picture will run continuously Monday and a matinee will be held at regular hours Tuesday in addition to the night showing.

Tough guy Cagney plays a cocky young buck private in "The Fighting 69th," and George Brent is cast as "Wild Bill" Donovan, heroic colonel of the regiment, a real-life character. O'Brien impersonates Father Duffy, beloved chaplain of the 69th. Jeffrey Lynn plays the role of the wartime poet, Joyce Kilmer, and various other men of the famed New York regiment are portrayed by Alan Hale, Dick Foran, Tom Kennedy, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Henry O'Neill and dozens of others.

Much of the rousing comedy of the story is provided by the standing feud between Private Cagney and Top Sergeant Alan Hale, which culminates finally in a knock 'em down and drag 'em out battle in which small but wiry Cagney knocks out big but windy Hale. A candid picture of life in a military training camp, it is full of human interest situations, and critics who have previewed the film in Hollywood report that it is the most rousing, excitement-crammed entertainment of the year. To quote the Film Daily it is: "Truly a brilliant example of screen craft, this 'The Fighting 69th.' Motion Picture Daily calls it 'A striking piece of dramatic entertainment.' Showmen's Trade Review classifies it as 'real red-blooded entertainment for all Americans.'

LONGTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Parks Shore had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bell and son, of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shore of Hamptonville, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Long and son, and Mr. Ralph Jones and Mrs. Clarence Key.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Reinhardt and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Steelman of Booneville Saturday night.
