AGED WOMAN PASSES AFTER USEFUL LIFE

"Aunt Sally Ann" Vestal Lived in Five Generations and Four Major Wars

QUAKER FOR LIFETIME

Funeral rites were conducted at Forbush Friends church Thursday morning for Mrs. Sallie Ann Williams Vestal, 92, who died at the home of a son, Hampton Vestal, East Bend, route 1, late Tuesday, after an illness of several months, due to the infirmities of old age. Her condition was serious for four days. The last service was in charge of Rev. Charles H. Hutchens, and Rev. E. C. Norman. Burial followed in the church graveyard.

Mrs. Vestal was one of the oldest and best known women in Yadkin county. She was the widow of the late Jesse Monroe Vestal, who died July 28, 1872. She and Mr. Vestal were married September 26, 1872 and lived together for 52 years before his death. She had been a member of Forbush Friends church for 65 years and was an active and faithful member in church and Sunday school work until her health failed. She was a daughter of the late Mr. J. Lacey Williams and Mrs. Williams and was born near the last home where she had spent her life. She was the last one of a large family of children.

Survivors include three sons, John J. and Hampton Vestal, of near Forbush Friends church; Sanford Vestal, of Union, Iowa; two daughters, Mrs. Gurney Norman, Yadkinville, route 2; and Mrs. Leona Hutchens, Lake Crystal, Minn.; also 35 grandchildren and 50 great-grandchildren. "Aunt Sally Ann," as she was known to hundreds of young and old, will be missed in her section. She had lived through five generations of people and through the greatest age of development known to man. She was a grown girl when the war between the states was in full blast; she was a grandmother when the Spanish-American war began; she was a great-grandmother before the world war. Every war from the civil war, except the present one, took some member of her family.
