Junior Class Fetes Seniors of Jonesville

A Mexican Festival was the theme of the setting for the annual Junior-Senior banquet of Jonesville high school held Friday evening in the banquet hall of Hotel Elkin and attended by approximately sixty guests.

The list included members of the two classes, the high school faculty; Mr. J. H. Swaringer, Miss Betty Miller and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Scroggs; members of the Jonesville school board and their wives; also L. Stacy Weaver, superintendent of the school and Fred C. Hobson, superintendent of public schools of Yadkin county.

The banquet represented a typical scene of Old Mexico, with brilliant pottery and Mexican fruit along the walls and miniature bulls in simulated fights along the tables. The place cards were in the form of a Mexican sombrero with the program and menu tucked inside.

Miss Mary Thompson, president of the Junior class, presided as toastmistress. Toasts offered by Miss Mary Frances Apperson, Miss Mary Holcomb and Mrs. A. B. Scroggs, junior class advisor, were responded to by Eugene Martin, president of the senior class, Miss Betty Miller of the faculty and Miss Evelyn Swain. "Ferdinand The Bull" was read by Lott Mayberry while the bull fight was dramatized. A group of musical numbers was rendered by Misses Ruth Brown, Juanita Ray and Mrs. L. S. Weaver; a duet, "Estrallita" by Misses Opal Ingool and Ruth Brown and a vocal solo, "Mexicale Rose" by Leon Martin were all enjoyable numbers.

County superintendent, Fred C. Hobson, spoke briefly and in conclusion, L. Stacy Weaver superintendent of the school, addressed the student groups.
