MOUNTAIN PARK

Better Homes Week, April 28 through May 4, is almost here. There is much yet to be done before the closing of the year's work to improve local homes. Is it being given the attention it deserves towards making homes happier, healthier and more prosperous?

Some of the points to better living are first, the cleaning and repairing of homes, planting native or nursery shrubs, to light homes better if electricity is available, and to paint homes if the owner is financially placed so that it can be done.

The campaign in the Mountain Park club will close on May 3. The contest is not limited to club members, but includes members of the community and of the Mountain Park, Rocky Ford and Zephyr churches, all of whom are represented in the club membership. Much interest is being shown in the contest.

Prizes will be awarded to winners on the evening of May 8, in the Mountain Park school auditorium.
