Elkin club, held in the Kiwanis room at Hotel Elkin.

The speaker stated that the club was built on personal service. During his discourse he stated that the Elkin club is leading the division, and possibly the Carolinas district, in membership gain during the year.

Kiwanian W. S. Beddingfield, chairman of the club's music committee, was in charge of the musical program, which was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Beeson. It consisted of piano solos by Peggy Royall and Mabel Cathey Leeper, and vocal solos by Misses Kay Lee Walker and Elizabeth Beddingfield.

During the business session it was voted that the club meet with the Yackville Civitan club at Yackville Tuesday, June 11, at 7:00 p.m.

Kiwanian Mose Kiger, of the Greensboro club, was a guest. Henry Dobson, of Elkin, was the guest of Franklin Folger; L. F. Walker was a guest of Walter Combs, and H. G. Howitt of Greensboro, was the guest of Hugh Royall.

Broughton High Man In Seven-Way Battle

the nomination for governor, Broughton leading with 1,342, Horton second with 1,309 and Maxwell third with 1,257. The other four candidates received a small vote.

In Elkin township Horton polled the highest vote in the race for governor, getting 365 votes. Maxwell was second with 120, and Gravelly was third with 109. Broughton, high man in the state, received 103 votes.

In the race for lieutenant-governor, R. L. Harris received a clear county majority, garnering 2,159 votes as against 795 for W. Erskine Smith, whom he will have to face in a second primary, according to state returns.

In the Republican primary, G. "Buck" Wall was low man in the four-way race for county commissioner. Mr. Wall received 208 votes, I. N. Greenwood 209 votes, P. G. Wall 216 votes, and Hennis 239 votes. In Elkin township G. "Buck" Wall received 44 votes, Greenwood 76, P. G. Wall 52, and Hennis 49.

In the Republican race for governor, McNeill was given 254 votes in Surry and 65 in Elkin precinct, with Hoffman and Pritchard each receiving less than 50 votes each. Whitten and Leavitt ran neck and neck in the county with votes of 133 and 134 respectively.

Pou, for state auditor, Scott, for commissioner of agriculture, and Boney, for insurance commissioner, all won commanding leads in Surry over their opponents.

No vote was taken in the primary on Democratic candidates for Surry commissioners, Republican and Democratic candidates for register of deeds, and other county offices in which there was no party contest. These candidates will be voted upon in November when K. W. Lawrence, Democrat, will face Elmore Albert, Republican, for register of deeds, and M. Q. Snow, R. P. Jones and S. M. Smith will face Republican nominees of Saturday's primary for county commissioners.

State returns in the primary indicated that J. M. Broughton will face Lieutenant-Governor W. P. Horton in a second primary. R. L. Harris will also face opposition in the second primary against W. Erskine Smith, for lieutenant-governor.

A. J. Maxwell was third in the contest for governor. Unofficial returns gave the following standings of other contestants for state offices:

Auditor, 1,642 precincts—Charles W. Miller, of Asheville, 106,123; George Ross Pou, incumbent, 224,146.

Secretary of state, 1,624 precincts—Thad Eure, incumbent, 230,993; Walter (Pete) Murphy, of Salisbury, 120,296.

Insurance commissioner, 1,625 precincts—Dan C. Boney, incumbent, 226,790; William B. Oliver, of Fuquay Springs, 100,729.

Commissioner of agriculture 1,642 precincts—W. Kerr Scott, 214,419; C. Wayland Spruill, of Windsor, 128,636.

TOWN IN FAVOR OF WATER SYSTEM

Boonville Votes 3 to 1 for $30,000 Bond Issue; Gentry Thanks Voters

WORK TO START SOON

Citizens of Boonville voted nearly 3 to 1 in favor of a proposed bond issue of $30,000 to construct a water system and sewage disposal plant for the town. The election was held Tuesday and 120 votes were cast in favor of the bond issue and 51 against.

Mayor Harvey Gentry issued a statement immediately after the tabulation of the votes thanking the citizens for their support of the project, which will get under way as soon as men can be secured to do the work. The system will be constructed as a PWA project with the town of Boonville as the sponsor.

The WPA will provide $42,873 of the funds and Boonville will furnish $30,000. Mayor Gentry pointed out that bonds would be issued as funds were needed and that in the event that the project cost the town of Boonville less than $30,000 only the amount necessary would be financed through a bond issue. The cost of the entire project is estimated at $70,138.

Included in the plans is complete water and sewage system with a pump house, pumping unit and 75,000 gallon elevated tank. Two disposal plants will also be constructed.

Are To Hold Conference At Elkin Church

A conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Elkin District of the Methodist church will meet Thursday, June 6, at the Methodist church in this city for an all-day session. Mrs. J. S. Hiatt, of this city, district superintendent, will preside over the meeting.

Mrs. C. C. Weaver, of Charlotte, president of the Western North Carolina Conference of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church, will be one of the principal speakers. Other conference officers who are expected to attend are Mrs. J. W. Harbison and Mrs. G. W. Hoyle, of Shelby, and Mrs. W. J. Payne, of Waxhaw. Also present will be Miss Mabel Cherry, a missionary to Korea, who is on a furlough to her native home at Newton. In addition to talks and conference reports special music has been arranged for the program.

Luncheon will be served at the noon hour by women of the Woman's Auxiliary of the local church. A cordial invitation is extended all women of the church to attend the meeting.

CHATHAM LOSER OF TWO GAMES

Stirnweiss stole practically every base on the lot to come home and tie up the game.

The winning runs were scored in the 10th when Mathes, the Carolina right fielder, hit a three-bagger with Thompkins and Mallory on base, and scored later on Jennings' single to end the game.

Boles although allowing 13 hits, struck out 10 Carolina batters.

The Blanketeers jumped back into the winning column Tuesday when they defeated Hanes Hosiery, of Winston-Salem, by 3-0. Boles worked on the mound, turning in an excellent exhibition.

LOCAL A & P STORE HAS A NEW MANAGER

S. J. Pruitt, of High Point, has been transferred to Elkin to manage the local Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store, succeeding Fred Myers, who was transferred to Winston-Salem.

Mr. Pruitt has been with the company since 1924, and is married. He stated he plans to bring Mrs. Pruitt here as soon as he is able to secure suitable living quarters.

The store is now in process of being changed into a self-service store. The change-over should be completed within a short time, the new manager said.

JUNIOR ORDER TO HOLD MEETING HERE FRIDAY

An important meeting of the Junior Order will be held here Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Junior Order hall for the election of officers. Other business will be transacted. All members are urged to be present.

SURRY W. M. U. HOLDS SESSION

Is Attended by One of Largest Crowds in History of Organization

ELKIN VALLEY CHURCH

Attended by one of the largest crowds in its history the annual Surry county W. M. U. Association meeting was held Thursday with Elkin Valley Baptist church. Mrs. C. N. Myers, of this city, associational superintendent, presided over the meeting, which featured a talk by Mrs. W. D. Briggs, of Raleigh, state W. M. U. secretary. Mrs. E. C. James, of this city, superintendent of the Wilkesboro district, spoke during the afternoon session. Reports of various committees were heard. The young people's department of the association, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Transou, of the Elkin Valley church, gave a splendid report.

During the business session officers were elected for next year as follows: Associational superintendent, Mrs. F. G. Toler, of Mt. Airy; assistant superintendent, Mrs. C. H. Venables, Toast; Young People's Leader, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, Mt. Airy; mission study chairman, Miss Elizabeth Norman, Dobson; personal service chairman, Mrs. Glenn Hall, Westfield; training and Margaret Fund, Mrs. F. C. Norman, Mt. Airy; Stewardship chairman, Mrs. W. L. Reece, Dobson; Literature chairman, Mrs. W. J. Martin, Mt. Airy; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Alred, Mt. Airy.

The 1941 session will meet with Flat Rock church, two miles east of Mount Airy.

Thursday's meeting was an all-day affair, with a delicious lunch served at noon by women of the Elkin Valley church.

$5,000 BOND IS NAMED IN CASE

first ever to occur within the town of Elkin.

Ashley died in Hugh Chatham Memorial hospital here between 7:30 and 8:00 p.m. Thursday, several hours after receiving a fatal injury allegedly at the hands of Marlowe.

It was brought out at the hearing that although no one knew what the trouble was between Ashley and Marlowe, it was known in the shop that the two did not like each other.

According to the evidence, Marlowe, by his own admission, struck Ashley with his fist. Witnesses testified that although they didn't see the blow struck, they did see Ashley stretched upon his back on the cement floor with Marlowe standing over him. Marlowe, it was testified, said: "I hit him with my fist."

It was also brought out that Ashley, upon gaining consciousness at the hospital, said: "He killed me," claiming that Marlowe struck him on the head from behind.

Ernest Ashley, a brother of the deceased, was the first witness, stating that his brother had been placed in a car for transit to the hospital when he reached the scene. He said he asked his brother what was the matter, but got no answer. He said he then turned to Marlowe, who, he testified, had a Coca-Cola bottle in his hand.

Roby Casstevens, an employee of the shop, stated that the first he knew of the occurrence was when he turned around upon hearing "an unusual noise" and saw Ashley stretched upon the floor. Rushing to him, he heard Victor Waddell, another employee, ask what was the matter. Marlowe, Casstevens testified, said: "I hit him with my fist." He also testified that Ashley was lying stretched out upon his back.

Victor Waddell confirmed Casstevens' testimony. He said that he was under a car when he heard an unusual noise. Crawling out, he found Ashley lying upon the floor. He testified that Marlowe told him he had hit Ashley with his fist. Ashley was bleeding at the mouth, he said. Both Casstevens and Waddell stated they did not know what the cause of the trouble was between the two men.

R. C. Freeman, owner of the garage, testified that he was at the hospital and heard Ashley say: "He killed me. I was bending over working on a fender when he hit me in the head." Mr. Freeman said Ashley was apparently in pain, mumbling his words and groaning.

Dr. C. L. Haywood, who made X-rays of Ashley's injury, was not present at the hearing, having been out of town at the time. Mr. Freeman said that neither he nor Dr. Haywood considered Ashley's injury as serious at the time of the examination. Ashley's death was said to have been caused by a skull fracture.

Attorney Parks Hampton, who appeared for the defense, is of the belief that Ashley struck his head against the cement floor when he fell, the blow resulting in a fatal injury, and that his death did not result from the blow struck by Marlowe.

Marlowe is the son of Larry Marlowe, a farmer of near Mooresville. He secured his job with the local firm after making a good record with the Surry CCC camp. He was at his father's home, in ignorance of Ashley's death, when he was arrested.

The deceased was a son of Mrs. Rose Ashley and the late Sanford Greene Ashley, of Boonville, route 1. He had recently moved his family from Jonesville to a country place two miles away.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Ruth Simmons Ashley; a one-year-old son, Kenneth; his mother, the following brothers and sisters: Paul, Clarence, Ernest, and Virgil, employees of Elkin automobile firms; Harvey, William, Dale, Misses Minnie Ruth, Pearl, Betty, Patty, Era Mae and Versa Ashley, at home; Mrs. Robey Garner, Winston-Salem.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 11 o'clock at Longtown Holiness church, of which he was a member.

CHEVY CHASE WINNER OF FURTHER HONOR

Chevy Chase, owned by Peggy Haywood, of this city, was chosen as reserve champion in the jumping events in the Winston-Salem horse show Friday and Saturday of last week, being second to the winner, Lady Durham, of the Mile-Away stables in Southern Pines.

The horse placed first in the local jumping class; first in the working hunter class, second in the open jumping, and third in the jumping stake.

Mrs. Fletcher Harris attended the graduating exercises at Greensboro College, Greensboro, where her sister, Miss Helen Harkrader, of Dobson, received her A. B. degree.

dustrial and military center of Lille, and the important channel port of Ostend, "sealing the fate" of the trapped northern allied army.

The German forces were smashing through the Artois gap following the capitulation of Belgian forces on orders from King Leopold despite admitted desperate resistance on the Yser Canal, north of Ypres.

The high command asserted that the "fate of the Artois gap has been sealed," meaning that allied forces trapped in Belgium and Northern France were faced with annihilation or surrender.

London, May 29.—The Allies have captured the Norwegian iron ore port of Narvik from German troops, seven weeks after its occupation in the German far northern blitzkrieg, the admiralty and war office said today, and authoritative British sources said that the British expeditionary force, trapped in Belgium and northern France, still was intact.

The admiralty and war office, in addition to claiming the capture of Narvik from stubborn German forces which had been re-enforced by parachutists and supported by the air force, said that Fagernes and Forneset, Norway, also had fallen to the Allies.
