4-H Girls' Room Improvement School Is Held

Basic steps in home and room beautification were outlined to some 60 women attending the 4-H girls' room improvement school—the first ever held in this section—at Yadkinville Saturday.

Mrs. Tuttle and five Forsyth 4-H Club leaders participated in the all-day school conducted by Miss Mammie Whisnant, assistant specialist in house furnishings and home management, for leaders from the counties of Davie, Yadkin, Surry, Stokes, Wilkes and Forsyth.

Preliminaries in any room-improvement project, Miss Whisnant declared, include an inventory and study of floor plans and aims, detail planning and the securing of approval from the mother, the club leader and the home agent.

Actual improvement should start with work on storage space and backgrounds—floor and wall finishes. Then comes work on the individual units—sleeping, wash, study and dressing units. After the accessories of curtains, chairs, rugs, screens, etc., have been planned, the arrangement of each individual room should be effected.

It was pointed out that the study was especially beneficial to the Forsyth leaders since room improvement is to be the major project for this county's 4-H club girls during the next two years.

Among those attending from Surry county were: Mrs. Grace Pope Brown, home demonstration agent, Hazel T. Endman, Josephine Hudson, Mrs. Grover Wood, Peggy and Ruth Wood, Hazel Key, Jessie Snow, Faye Southern, Louise Banner, Eva Kidd and Della Long.

The following patients have been admitted to the local hospital during the past week: Jettie King, Elkin; Herbert Caudle, State Road; Mrs. Ruby Benton, Jonesville; Henry Vestal, Jonesville; Mrs. W. E. Sale, Elkin; Garvey Wood, Elkin; Elizabeth Chesney, Bristol, Va.; Rex Cockerham, Elkin; Mrs. Wanza Carter, Roaring River; Mrs. Faye Whitaker, Sparta; Mrs. Maizie Davis, Boonville; Helen Simmons, Thurmond; Sam Neaves, Elkin; Noah Wagoner, Ronda; Frank Adams, State Road; Mrs. Ruby Hamby, Elkin; Mrs. Beulah Eckenrod, Elkin; D. Edgar Hayes, Elkin; Mrs. John Masten, Elkin; Betsy Ross Ashby, Elkin; Chas. Ashby, Jr., Elkin; Billy Smith, Rusk.

Patients dismissed during the week were: Rossie Dezern, Rusk; Wm. A. McIlwee, Elkin; Mrs. Margaret Cockerham, Elkin; Mrs. Bessie Amburn, Mt. Airy; Mrs. Elva Settle, Elkin; Mrs. Collie Martin, Elkin; Mrs. Reba Chapell, State Road; Fred A. Sale, Elkin; Mrs. W. J. Thurmond, Elkin; Mrs. Mae Vestal, Elkin; Mrs. Ella Church, Yadkinville; Mrs. Sarah Lee Cockerham, Traphill; Mrs. Myrtle Cockerham, Traphill; Mrs. Margie Lawrence, Elkin; Mrs. Vena Wood, Dobson; Henry Vestal, Jonesville; Sam Neaves, Elkin; Helen Simmons, Thurmond; Mrs. Maizie Davis, Boonville; Mrs. Mary Alice McKellar, White Plains; Rex Cockerham, Elkin; Mrs. Floyd Carter, Elkin.

North Oak Ridge Baptist church members enjoyed a big day at the church last Sunday when they celebrated a homecoming day with many interesting features, which included a sermon at 11 o'clock, a picnic dinner and good quartette singing.

Rev. Clete Simmons, the pastor, was the 11 o'clock speaker. A large crowd enjoyed the dinner on the grounds and the afternoon was devoted to singing.

Among the quartettes singing were the following: Arlington, Oak Grove, Doby Sisters, Nance's, Yadkin Valley, Pine Hill, Pine Hill Juniors, Harmony Grove; the Elkin Valley trio, Wall children trio, and Avery Wall, soloist.

Neutral Zone—Pa, what's a neutral zone? Pa—The kitchen, son, when your mother is fussing over a hot stove!

Alford—So your father says that the way we behave we should be in an institution? Nancy—Yes, dear, the institution of marriage.

SOCIETY

Miss Boles, Bride-Elect, Is Honored Tuesday Evening

Mrs. Glenn Bailey and Mrs. Fred Shamel entertained at a lovely party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bailey, on Gwyn Avenue, to honor Miss Catherine Boles of Jonesville, who will be married late in June to D. Philip Wilkins, also of Jonesville, and brother of Mrs. Bailey.

Bridal green and white were used in the appointments of the home and of the six tables, where bridge and hearts were enjoyed. The bride's table was centered with a graceful bouquet of sweet peas and fever few against which was placed a miniature bride and bridegroom. A dessert course, consisting of green and white ices, individual cakes, mints and ginger ale, was served upon the arrival of the guests.

In the games the high score award in bridge, a pottery bowl, went to Mrs. Max Boyles, and in hearts the prize, a pottery vase, went to Mrs. Alton Boles. Miss Boles, honoree, was given crystal in her wedding pattern. Nougats of old fashioned garden flowers were presented each guest.

Allen is speaker before T.C.U. club

A talk by Attorney Marion Allen on the American Flag was a feature of the weekly meeting of the T. C. U. club at the club house Monday evening. Mr. Allen spoke on the meaning of the flag and contrasted the privileges of Americans to those of citizens of other nations of the world. His talk was timely and enjoyable.

During the business session it was announced that on the evening of June 26, the club would meet in a dinner session with Carl Goerch, of Raleigh, editor of the State Magazine, and departmental superintendents of the plant will be guests of the club at the special meeting, which will be held at the club house.

Only one marriage license was issued by Surry County Register of Deeds, Kermit Lawrence during the past week, it being to James Cook and Ruby Viola Tucker, both of Winston-Salem.
