LOW QUALITY DOWNS PRICES

Slump on Floors of Four Tobacco Warehouses in Georgia Market

Adel, Ga.—Appearance of lower quality tobacco leaf on the warehouse floors caused prices to slump on at least four markets yesterday.

Only Nashville and Adel markets held prices above 20 cents a pound on Tuesday's trade.

Tifton warehousemen attributed a two-cent-a-pound drop in prices Tuesday in comparison with Monday's market to poor grades including leaf from high on the stalk. Tuesday's average was 18.43 cents a pound, which on 794,894 pounds, brought $146,425.

Prices at Nashville fluctuated yesterday between 4 cents and 28 cents, with most trading within 16 and 25 cents. Frank Park, sales supervisor, said Wednesday's market average 20.17 cents on sale of 795,972 pounds, good for $160,549.67.

Tuesday was Adel's biggest day of the season. Sale of 386,932 pounds for $19,557.21 averaged 20.56 cents. The market yesterday opened firm.

First Class Mail And Papers All Coming Through

In spite of the floodwaters, all first class mail and newspapers have been delivered to Elkin as usual, with the exception of the mid-morning and afternoon mail which comes by train. However, no parcel post or other types of mail have been received since Tuesday. F. W. Graham, postmaster, contacted postal officials by telegram from Statesville Thursday morning requesting that a temporary arrangement be made with Winston-Elkin Motor Express to deliver all mail to Elkin until regular service could be resumed by railroad. It is believed that the postal authorities will agree to this arrangement and that normal service will be restored by Friday and at the latest by Saturday of this week. It was also requested that the local office be permitted to dispatch registered mail by this route, this class of mail heretofore being handled only by train. First class outgoing mail is dispatched twice daily.
