Here Are More Scenes of Elkin Flood

The pictures above are from the large collection of photographs made by The Tribune photographer of the flood last week. Upper left was made from the new bridge and shows the huge black column of smoke which soared high into the heavens when a gasoline storage tank exploded and burned at the Chatham ball park. Photo at top, right, was made at the height of the flood from the roof of the Sydner-Spainhour building, and shows the Southern depot deep in the muddy flood waters. Lower left, also made from the new bridge looking east, was made before the river had reached full flood crest. At left is the Elkin Roller Mill, at right the "old mill" of the Chatham Manufacturing Co. Lower right is pictured "Shorty" Collins, of Surry Hardware Company, filling an order for a bag of lime from the company's warehouse located at the rear of the store. A short while later, had Mr. Collins attempted to wade out, the water would have been over his head.

ville, and Ernest J. Baker, of Elkin, by the bride's mother. The ceremony was solemnized in Independence, Va., with Rev. F. L. Funk, pastor of the Friends church, officiating.

For her wedding the bride wore a dress of navy sheer, with harmonizing accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Baker is the daughter of Mrs. J. L. Chappell and the late Mr. Chappell, of Jonesville. Mr. Baker is the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Baker, of this city.

How True

The pupils were asked to construct a sentence containing the word "amphibious." As quick as a flash the son of a fisherman gave out the following "Most fish stories am fibious?"

BETHEL

The annual revival began here at Bethel church the second Sunday. Rev. B. F. Peeler, of Taylorsville, preached fine sermons until Tuesday when the continued rain and the flood caused the meeting to close. It will be resumed Sunday evening, August 25, at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Peeler has promised to come back and assist the pastor, Rev. R. J. Pardue.

We who live along the Yadkin river and the creeks have suffered a great loss from the flood. The fine crops that looked so prosperous, where much toil and labor has been done, have been swept away. As Job of old: "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh." He blesses us in many ways yet for all we should feel grateful to Him.

Misses Ruby Pardue and Julia Bell Hemric, who were patients at the Hugh Chatham Memorial hospital, have returned to their homes, their many friends will be glad to know.

Mr. T. N. Green has been confined to his home for the past week with illness, we are sorry to note.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gilliam and small sons, Charles and Bobby, attended the home-coming service at White Plains church, near Roaring River last Sunday.

Mrs. Clyde Walker and little daughter, Linda, of High Point, visited her parents here last week, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Green.

Hugh G. Green, of Winston-Salem, spent last Sunday here with his mother and family, Mrs. J. B. Green.

We are glad to learn that Blake Caudill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Caudill, of near here, is improving rapidly at the Wilkes hospital where he is being treated for injuries he received in a bicycle accident.

Two families were forced to move their household furnishings during the flood in this section. Messrs. J. T. Stroud and Nelson Caudill. The former moved his to the upper story of the home where the water did not reach.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Roberts and daughters, Misses Helen and Edith, visited friends here last Sunday.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jester, who recently moved to this community, died last Tuesday. His twin brother died about three weeks ago. The body was taken to East Bend for burial.

Golf was played in Scotland as early as 1457.
