Mrs. Chatham Is Club Hostess Tuesday

Mrs. Raymond Chatham delightfully entertained the Thursday Morning Bridge Club at her home on East Main street Thursday with a full membership attendance. Mrs. Alex Chatham was a special guest, playing in place of the hostess. Colorful autumn flowers were used in the living room, where two tables were placed for the games. At the conclusion of the progressions the high score award went to Mrs. James Pindexter. Luncheon was served at one o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Entertain Fortnightly Club

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Allen delightfully entertained members of the Fortnightly Bridge Club at their home on Church street Friday evening. Three tables were placed for the games in the living room and dining room. An attractive arrangement of autumn flowers made a pretty setting for the tables. Dinner was served at 7:30.

In the games the club award for high score went to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gwyn. Mr. and Mrs. Van Dillon, Sr., special guests, were given a lovely gift.

Bill Wellborn Is Host at Stag Dinner Saturday

Bill Wellborn, who will leave the latter part of the month to resume his studies at the Tulane University Medical school, New Orleans, was host at a stag dinner Saturday evening at his home on Bridge street. Covers were laid for thirteen. The table was centered with a silver bowl filled with pink roses and snapdragons.

The guest list included Dr. Charles Sikes and Herbert Graham, Jr., of Pilot Mountain; Dicky Wellborn, of Independence, Va.; Charles Neaves, Jimmy Harrell, Edwin Royall, Sam Neaves, Herman Sale, Alexander Smith, Alex Chatham, III, Claude McNeill and Dr. W. R. Wellborn.

Mission Circle Meets Thursday Evening

Circle number four of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Young on Elk Spur street, with Mrs. T. H. Shugart associate hostess, with 19 members and one visitor present.

Mrs. Max Boyles, circle chairman, presided over the meeting and conducted the devotionals. During the devotional period Miss Mayme Blackwood played softly a medley of favorite hymns.

The missionary topic, "Planting the Gospel in Mexico," was discussed by Mrs. Herman F. Duncan, Miss Mayme Blackwood and Mrs. Jones Holcomb.

A delicious refreshment course was served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. McNeer Honors Bride and Visitor at Party

Honoring Mrs. Tom Ring, of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting in Elkin and Statesville for several weeks, and Mrs. Fred C. Page, Jr., of this city, the former Miss Barbara Weedon, of Detroit, and a bride of the summer, Mrs. E. F. McNeer entertained at a lovely morning bridge and luncheon Thursday at her home on Church street. Autumn flowers in brilliant colors were used in the living room, sun room and dining room, where the guests were received. The guests were invited for 10:30, and bridge was played at four tables. Mrs. R. B. Harrell won the high score award at the conclusion of the progressions.

Mrs. McNeer presented gifts to Mrs. Ring and Mrs. Page, hon-

Good News for Women

Every day women are finding their headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pains, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI. Main way it usually helps is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice; so aiding digestion, helping build up users. Periodic distress is also eased for many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

orees, and to Mrs. Augustus Raymer, Mrs. John Reich and Mrs. Louis Bowles, of Statesville, and Mrs. C. A. Crews, of Henderson, out-of-town guests. Two additional friends, Mrs. Turner Carter and Mrs. C. H. Leary, came in for luncheon and in drawing for the prize Mrs. Carter was the fortunate winner.

Miss McNeill is Hostess at Informal Tea

Miss Elizabeth McNeill entertained at an informal tea at her home on Bridge street Friday afternoon to honor a number of friends who are leaving this week to enter various colleges. The home was decorated throughout with asters in delicate colors. In the dining room the table was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a bowl of white and orchid asters. The guests were greeted by the hostess and directed to the dining room, where Mrs. C. A. McNeill and Miss Louise Laffoon served a prettily appointed collation.

Miss Betty Spainhour of Hickory and Miss Wilda Mae Mathis of Washington, D. C., were presented remembrances.

Twenty-eight friends enjoyed the hospitality of Miss McNeill.

Mrs. Stewart Is Hostess at Dinner Thursday Evening

Mrs. L. M. Stewart entertained at a lovely dinner party Thursday evening at her home in Sunset Park to honor her husband on his birthday anniversary. Sharing honors with Mr. Stewart were Mrs. Glenn Lewis and Jack Caudill, whose birthdays fall on the same day, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliam of Long Beach, Cal., the former a brother of Mrs. Stewart. Covers were placed for twelve and the places of the guests were marked with handpainted place cards.

A three-course dinner was served. The appointments of the table were in red and white and the colors were repeated in the flowers which were used in the dining room and living room. A three-tier birthday cake, inscribed with the names and birth dates of the honorees was used as a centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliam and each of the honor guests were presented gifts, and Mrs. Joe Gilliam, a bride of the summer, was given crystal in her wedding pattern.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gilliam, Jack Caudill and Miss Ethel Gilliam.

Mrs. Hayes is Hostess to Two Parties

Mrs. Errol Hayes entertained at two lovely parties the latter part of the week at her home on Church street.

On Friday she entertained at a morning party and luncheon with six tables in play. The guests were invited for 10:30 and bridge was played until one o'clock, when a beautifully appointed luncheon was served. In the bridge progressions the high score award went to Mrs. Paul Gwyn. Mrs. Fred C. Page, Jr., a bride of the summer, was presented a lovely gift. Six additional friends came in for luncheon and among these Mrs. W. W. Whitaker and Mrs. E. F. McNeer drew the prizes.

Mrs. Hayes was hostess again on Saturday to honor her guest, Mrs. James Shore of Winston-Salem, and Mrs. Van W. Dillon, Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Harris, Mrs. William B. Harris, Jr., Mrs. Julius Hall, Mrs. Wilbur Carter and Mrs. Van W. Dillon, Sr., all brides of the summer. Bridge was played at seven tables with the high score award going to Mrs. James Shore at the conclusion of the games. Mrs. Shore and each of the brides were presented with lovely gifts.

On each of the occasions the home was attractively arranged with pink and yellow flowers. In the living room and music room pink gladioli and dahlias were used, and in the dining room yellow snapdragons and shasta daisies were attractively arranged.

Legion Auxiliary Meets Monday Evening

The Woman's Auxiliary of the George Gray Post of the American Legion met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Royall on Church street, with Mrs. L. E. Aldridge associate hostess, with 16 members present.

Mrs. Joe Bivins, president, presided over the meeting, which opened with the ritual, with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Fred Colhard. The meeting was devoted to business, this being the first meeting of the new year. Plans were discussed for the year's work, committees appointed, and other routine matters dispatched. It was voted that the Auxiliary donate draperies for Camp Hancock here, in appreciation for the splendid service rendered the town by enrollees of the camp in the recent flood. It was also decided to make Mrs. Fannie Salmons, War Mother of the unit, and Mrs. Anna Graham, honorary members of the auxiliary.

Mrs. George Royall told briefly of the state convention of the Legion and Auxiliary held in High

N. C. Highway Deaths Jump 40 Per Cent.

Washington—Violent deaths in North Carolina resulting from accidents at highway and railroad grade crossings shot up by 40 per cent. during the first quarter of 1940, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported yesterday.

During that period, the I. C. C. stated, 14 persons in North Carolina lost their lives through such accidents and 29 were seriously injured.

Simultaneously, a warning was sounded for the need of increased care in approaching grade crossings by the Association of American Railroads, which stated that the 1940 record for such accidents to date was the worst in nine years.

While the number of dead may not appear to be a high figure for three months duration, it was pointed out that for the same period in 1939 only 10 lives were lost in North Carolina and but 22 injured.

Unless accidents were far reduced in the second period, North Carolina's ratio of grade crossing deaths will be about 55 per cent. above the national average. The I. C. C. said the second quarter study for the state is not yet completed, but pointed out that 41 per cent. of the number killed in the Tar Heel state from grade crossing accidents during 1939 had already met death during the first three months of 1940.

In 1939, 35 persons were killed in this manner in North Carolina and 60 injured.

The national state average of grade crossing deaths for the first half of 1940 is 18, the commission said. On the basis of population North Carolina's six-months quota was 24. Thus about 60 per cent. of the quota was disposed of in half the time.

Although better driving weather in the second quarter usually reduces the number of killed, last year's record in North Carolina was the reverse. The 10 killed and 22 injured in the first 1939 quarter increased in deaths to 13, but fell off in injuries to 10 for the second period.

RESERVE HAS 22 IN SURRY COUNTY

There are 22 Surry county citizens now in the United States army reserve corps, all of whom would be subject to call if the reservists are ordered into active service this fall. Peter Bondurant, of Mount Airy, is the county's official representative in the state organization.

The reservists are residents of various points in the county, although most of them live at either Mount Airy or Elkin. The list includes 12 from Mount Airy and eight from Elkin.

Those subject to call include Peter Bondurant, Homer Rector, Philip Woolwine, Grover Dobson, Greer Blackburn, William Davenport, Guthrie Williams, Luther Parker, William Eckenrod, James Martin, Paul Newman and Glenn Burcham, of Mount Airy.

Paul Young, Winfred Stanley, John Swaim, Boyd Sheppard, Thomas Hendren, Roy Chappell, Paul Reece and W. F. Stanley, of Elkin; Sam Lynch, of Pilot Mountain, and Elmer Harbour, of Thurmond.

ANNUAL WINDSOR MEET TO BE HELD SEPT. 15

The annual Windsor family reunion will be held Sunday, September 15, at Windsor's Cross Roads in Yadkin county, it has been announced by J. R. Windsor, of this city, chairman. A picnic dinner will be served at 12:30. All relatives and friends of the family are cordially invited to attend the reunion.

Point in June, and Mrs. Fred McNeely told of the district meeting held in Winston-Salem recently. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Bless America" by the group.

Mrs. Ruth Byrd Crater, retiring president, was presented a lovely gift.

A delicious refreshment course was served during a pleasant social hour.
