DEMOCRACY'S FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

This newspaper prints the local news. It could not exist if a dictator had the right to censor its columns. It gives you facts, the truth. There are thousands of community newspapers like it in these United States. If the millions of readers of these newspapers didn't know what is going on, they couldn't form sound opinions... Now are you beginning to realize why The American Newspaper is Democracy's First Line of Defense?

The United States has something precious in these thousands of community newspapers. Be alert against fifth columnists or misguided persons who would rob YOU of this Free Press. If you don't think this is important remember that the first act of the dictators of Europe in moving toward war was to black out the newspapers of every community.

You have a right to truthful information, discussion of opinions and exchange of ideas. Community interest in affairs, local as well as national, is an effective weapon against war hysteria. Uncensored expression of opinion through a Free Press is a foundation of Liberty. You need the truth to keep you free.
