Miss Katherine Safrit Weds John Conrad in Private Ceremony

News was received here this week of the marriage of Miss Katherine Sarah Safrit, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Safrit, of Winston-Salem, and John Thomas Conrad, son of Mr. James T. Conrad, of East Bend, and the late Mrs. Conrad. The ceremony took place at the home of Rev. J.

Seeks Governorship

OGDEN, Utah... Mrs. Ada Quinn, of Ogden, who for years has operated a successful garment manufacturing business in Utah, and who is seeking election as an independent candidate for Governor of the state.

S. Hiatt, in Elkin, Saturday morning, October 5, at 11 o'clock. For the ceremony, the bride wore an attractive suit of soldier blue with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lineberry in Jonesville, with only a few intimate friends present. The bridal table, covered with a lace table cloth, was centered with a three-tier cake and at the bride's and the bridegroom's places, were placed small bags of rice, tied with blue satin ribbons.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Asheville and various other places of interest. At the present they are residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lineberry.

Della Woodhouse Circle Meets Tuesday Evening

The Della Woodhouse circle of the Baptist church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. W. J. Brown, with nine members present.

Mrs. F. A. Lineberry was in charge of the program, "Unchanging Stewardship," and was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Brandon, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. D. G. Reece and Mrs. Will Holcomb. Miss Bertha Adams was in charge of the devotionals.

Routine business was transacted during the business period. Refreshments were served during the social half-hour.

Kimmer Reunion Held Sunday at Calahan

On Sunday, October 6, the four sons and one daughter and their families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kimmer at Calahan for the fourth reunion where a happy day was spent and a delicious lunch was served picnic style at the noon hour. Mrs. W. T. Rights and her entire family were not present, due to the serious injury of their youngest son, Gilmer Rights, who was injured in an automobile accident near Elkin Thursday night, along with three other companions.

A unique feature of the reunion was the four sets of twins: Mr. E. D. Kimmer, of Spencer, and Mrs. Addie Kimmer Hendrix, of Fork; Mrs. Lillie Kimmer Robertson and Miss Willie Kimmer, of Winston-Salem, daughters of Mr. Will Kimmer; Glenda and Blenda Kimmer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kimmer, of Thomasville. Mrs. G. S. Kimmer, a twin, was present, but her sister, Mrs. J. F. Barnhardt, was unable to attend.

Mrs. Montgomery Casstevens, who is a resident here, and who attended the reunion Sunday, reported quite a coincidence—all sets of twins were her cousins, ranging as follows: two sets were her first cousins, one set her second cousins, and one set her third cousins.

All reported a good time and goodbyes were said in the late afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Hyden Honored on Birthday

A birthday dinner was given Sunday, October 6, in honor of Mrs. Carl Hyden at the latter's home. Mr. Hyden invited only a few intimate friends and covers were placed for Miss Pernie Jester, Miss Frances Baker, Mrs. John Jester and Mrs. I. J. Jester. The honoree received a number of lovely and useful gifts.

Good Borrowers

Teacher: We borrowed our numerals from the Arabs, our calendar from the Romans, our banking from the Italians. Now, can anybody think of other examples of the same sort?

Willie: We borrowed our lawnmower from the Joneses, our hand rake from the Browns, and our baby carriage from the Smiths.

GIRL'S CORPSE IS KEPT BY MAN

Keeps Lifeless Form in Bedroom in Vain Attempt to Restore Life

ARRESTED BY POLICE

Key West, Fla., Oct. 7—An aged, unemployed X-ray technician related to police today that he was driven by hopeless love to keep the corpse of a young matron in his bedroom for seven years while trying to restore her to life.

The man, Karl Tanzler van Cosel, 70, was charged with removing a body from its grave without permission.

He was arrested yesterday at his home—part of a dirty, ramshackle warehouse—where the life-like body of the young woman, reconstructed and preserved in wax, lay in bed.

"I tried many experiments to restore her to life," van Cosel told Deputy Sheriff Ray Elwood and newsmen. "I still hope if I live long enough to bring her back."

When he first removed the body of the woman from its crypt more than seven years ago, van Cosel said he slipped it secretly into the Key West marine hospital, where he had been employed as an X-ray technician, and kept it there a week while he used available chemicals to restore decomposed portions.

Then, hiding the corpse in an old airplane he had purchased, he had it carted to his makeshift home on the outskirts of this island community.

Police reopened the crypt in which the young woman had been buried and found it empty. A medical examiner said at least part of a human body remained in the now largely wax image that remained.

Van Cosel, a native German with degrees from Leipsitz university, told his story in a calm, well-educated voice, his English somewhat broken. Although ill-kempt when arrested, he made an impressive figure after a change of clothing. Tall and erect, he sported a well-trimmed Van Dyke beard.

The prisoner said he hoped to keep the outer tissue of the body sculptured to its original likeness with beeswax and reactivate the inner cells through X-ray treatments.

Pie's Middle Name

"What kind of pie are you making?" asked Teddy.

"Lemon meringue pie," said mother. He went out to play, returning some time later and exclaiming breathlessly:

"Mother, what did you say is the pie's middle name?"
