Parent-Teachers to Meet; Will Hear Dr. Key L. Barkley

The monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the elementary school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, October 22, at 3:30. Dr. Key L. Barkley, of the faculty of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, will be guest speaker.

All members are urged to attend and the public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Booher Is Club Hostess Monday Afternoon

Mrs. James Booher delightfully entertained members of her bridge club at her home in West-over Heights Monday afternoon, with two tables in play. In the progressions the high score award went to Mrs. R. M. Ogburn.

Mrs. Edwin Harris was the only guest in addition to the club members. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the games.

Ohio Couple Are Married Here Saturday

Miss Florence Barber and Henry Wagner, both of Geneva, Ohio, were married here Saturday afternoon at the home of Rev. L. B. Abernethy, on Hospital Road, with Rev. Abernethy officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple returned to their home in Ohio.

While vacationing in North Carolina last year Miss Barber and Mr. Wagner were so impressed with the state that they returned here for their marriage.

Carrie Woodruff Circle Meets Monday Evening

The Carrie Woodruff circle of the W. M. U. of Elkin Valley Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Misses Opal and Helen Hayes, with 17 members present. Miss Grace Lawrence, president, presided over the meeting and conducted the devotions.

An inspiring program on "Tithing," was presented by Miss Bertice Bates, assisted by Misses Mable Davis, Coleen White, Ruby McCain, Jean Martin, Grace Lawrence and Mrs. Nell Collins. Doughnuts and coffee were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. Wellborn Is Hostess to Thursday Book Club

Mrs. W. R. Wellborn delightfully entertained members of the Thursday Book club and three additional friends at her home on Bridge street Thursday afternoon. Autumn flowers, in yellow and bronze, were used in the living room and dining room. Progressive games were played during the afternoon with the prize, a blue hobbain vase, going to Mrs. J. G. Abernethy, at the conclusion of the play.

A beautifully appointed collation in two courses was served during the afternoon.

Guests in addition to club members were: Mrs. E. F. McNeer, Mrs. H. P. Graham and Mrs. E. G. Click.

Woman's Club Parties Are Widely Attended

Ten tables were in play in both the afternoon and evening for the Woman's Club telephone party on Monday. The tables were made up in various homes of the town, and the scores telephoned to Mrs. Franklin Folger, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the club, at the conclusion of the progressions, which were set to a limited time. In the afternoon the high score award in bridge went to Mrs. T. A. Redmon, and the runner-up prize to Mrs. Seth M. Beale. The high score prize in rook went to Mrs. H. B. Holcomb.

In the evening the scoring honors for high in bridge went to Miss Anna Atkinson and Clyde Eller and the consolation prize to Mrs. John Sagar.

Robert Burns Is Subject of Study Club

An interesting program on the life of Robert Burns, national poet of Scotland, was the topic for study at the meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Study club at the home of Mrs. Hugh Royall on West Main street Wednesday afternoon. The program was presented by Mrs. Howard Hatch, who gave a sketch of the life of the famous poet and read two of his best known poems, "A Man for a Man for a That" and "To Mary in Heaven," concluding with a humorous poem, showing the versatility of the poet. Current events were presented by Mrs. R. C. Freeman. Refreshments in two courses were served during the afternoon. The lovely home was attractively arranged throughout with dahlias in rich autumn colors.

Osborne-Boles Wedding Is Solemnized in New Jersey

The wedding of Miss Willie Belle Osborne of Jonesville and Transou Boles of Hoboken, N. J., was solemnized on Saturday evening at Hoboken, at the home of Rev. C. F. Peterson, Methodist minister, who officiated, using the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Evans of Hoboken, were the only witnesses to the ceremony.

Mrs. Boles is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Jack Osborne and the late Mr. Osborne of Jonesville, and was educated in the Jonesville schools.

Mr. Boles is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boles of Jonesville. He is a graduate of Jonesville high school and attended Guilford College. He holds a position in Hoboken, and the young couple are making their home there at 826 Garden street.

Legion Auxiliary Meets Monday Evening

The Woman's Auxiliary of the George Gray Post of the American Legion met Monday evening at the home of Miss Effie Crater, on Gwyn Avenue, with Miss Mattie Mae Powell and Mrs. Ruth Byrd Crater associate hostesses, with twelve members present. The meeting opened with the ritual with the vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Graham, presiding.

During the business session it was voted that the auxiliary give sweaters to patients in one ward at the Veterans' Hospital at Oteen, and also that American flags be supplied for the individual classrooms of the city schools. Other routine business was dispatched.

The program was presented by Mrs. Ruth Byrd Crater, assisted by Mrs. Fred McNeely and Mrs. Fred Colhard, and consisted of newspaper and editorial comment regarding the twenty-second national convention of the Legion and Auxiliary held last month in Boston.

Refreshments were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. Freeman Compliments Guests At Party Thursday

One of the most widely-attended social affairs of the autumn season was the bridge-luncheon given Thursday at Hotel Elkin by Mrs. R. C. Freeman, to compliment her guests, Mrs. A. D. Folger, of Mount Airy, and Mrs. J. N. Freeman, of Winston-Salem. The private dining room of the hotel, where the guests were entertained, was adorned with a colorful array of autumn foliage and flowers.

The guest list included thirty-six friends who were invited for bridge and twelve additional friends for luncheon. Among the luncheon guests Mrs. E. F. McNeer drew the prize. In the bridge progressions the high score award went to Mrs. Chas. G. Ashby and the consolation prize to Mrs. J. R. Poindexter.

The honorees were presented lovely gifts and Mrs. Julius Hall, Mrs. Van Dillon, Jr., Mrs. Hartley Lord of Wellesley Hills, Mass., the former Miss Emalene Neaves of this city, and Mrs. Van Dillon, Sr., brides of the summer, were also presented gifts. Mrs. Harold Groth of Litchfield, Minn., guest of Mrs. E. M. Hodel, was also presented a remembrance.

Miss Violet Pardue Is Bride of Kermit Mackie

Of cordial interest to friends here and elsewhere in this section is the marriage of Miss Violet Pardue of Arlington, and Kermit Lee Mackie of Elkin and Yadkinville, which was solemnized at the home of Rev. James M. Hayes, a former pastor of the bride, in Winston-Salem, on Saturday morning, with Rev. Mr. Hayes officiating, using the ring ritual of the Baptist church.

For her wedding the bride wore a becoming suit of soldier blue wool, with accessories of wine. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Mackie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Pardue, and was educated in the city schools. She made her home here until a short time ago when the family moved to Arlington.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J. W. Mackie of Yadkinville, and the late Mr. Mackie. He was educated in the Yadkinville schools and Guilford College and for several years has been with Chatham Manufacturing company here. He is a member of the Chatham baseball team.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mackie went on a brief wedding trip, returning to Elkin Sunday. They will make their home here.

Poultry-improvement work under the National Poultry Improvement Plan has expanded steadily since the launching of the cooperative Federal-State program in 1935.
