Draft Quota Given For Yadkin

One hundred and nine men will be called to the colors for a year's military training from Yadkin county between now and June 30, 1941, it was announced by Governor Clyde R. Hoey last week.

Troy Martin, clerk of the local draft board, said that the first quota for the county had not been announced, but it was thought that it would not run over perhaps a half-dozen men. North Carolina's quota for the draft has been placed at 15,613 men.

The task of mailing the nine-page questionnaires to prospective draftees, for the purpose of classification and finding out the county's eligible manpower, was begun Tuesday when fifty were sent to those whose names were near the top of the army's order list.

Meanwhile, five persons have been appointed by the Governor to serve as an advisory council to the draft board. The duties of these are to assist the draft registrants in their locality in filling out the questionnaires.

Members are F. D. B. Harding, Yadkinville, who is chairman; M. C. Dobbins, Cycle; T. A. Chipman, Booneville; Lila Swaim Woodruff, Jonesville; and Henry Davis, East Bend. They may be contacted at the above addresses.

Mr. Martin, in the following paragraphs, issues information which may prove interesting to registrants:

Claims for Deferment: "The registrant shall be entitled to present all written evidence which he believes to be necessary to assist the local board in determining his proper classification. Such evidence should be included in or attached to the questionnaire, and may include any documents, affidavits, or dispositions. The affidavits and dispositions shall be as concise and brief as possible."

"Any person other than the registrant who has cause to claim that the registrant should be deferred may obtain Form 42 from the local board, make out the claim, and file it directly with the board. Such claims must be filed within the time allowed for the registrant to return his questionnaire. The person so claiming that the registrant should be deferred shall be entitled to present evidence in support of his claim. Such evidence should be included in or attached to Form 42."

Classification not permanent: "No classification is permanent. The deferment of any registrant is subject to (See Copy) whenever the basis for such deferment ceases to exist. Every registrant shall notify his local board of any change which would require his reclassification. (In case of the death of a dependent, etc.) The local board shall reclassify a registrant whenever it receives new information warranting such action."

There will be no "blanket" deferment of married men, it was said, but each case will be considered on its own merits by the local board.

HOLLY
Oregon Experiment Station workers have found that defoliation of holly sprays and wreaths during shipment at Christmas time may be prevented by dipping the holly in a naphthalene-acetic acid.

No Danger
Little Jane, delighted over the arrival of a baby brother, asked her teacher to come and see him. The teacher replied: "Thank you, but I will wait until your mother is better."

After a moment's pause Jane said: "You needn't be afraid, it's not catching!"
