

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY CAPITAL

The Dobson Woman's club met Thursday evening in the club house. Mrs. Carl Folger, the president, presided.

After singing the club song, the entire club repeated the State Collect, followed by one verse of America. Mrs. Clyde Forrest, vice-president, stated the subject of the evening program, "Health and Community Service." Reports were given by the various committees and departments, and approved.

Miss Elizabeth Norman, in a few happy remarks, introduced Dr. Roy C. Mitchell, of Mount Airy, who brought to the club a fine discourse on "Public Health in Any Community." Dr. Mitchell's talk was timely and intensely interesting and beneficial, and the club considered it very fortunate to hear this splendid treatise on health. During a social hour, refreshments were served by the following committee: Miss Elizabeth Norman, chairman, Miss Emma Comer, Mrs. Edwin Reid, Miss Routh Dixon, Mrs. W. M. Jackson, Miss Louise Michael, Mrs. Maude Freeman, Mrs. E. L. Taylor and Mrs. J. J. Douglas.

An acrobatic entertainment was held in the school auditorium Saturday evening. Daring feats of acrobatic stunts were very skillfully put across. A small admission fee was charged for the benefit of the school.

Mrs. Emma Mock was hostess to her bridge club Friday evening. An extra table for visitors was added to the club list. Mrs. Will Hollingsworth, Mrs. Jesse Hogan and Mrs. A. D. Folger, of Mount Airy, and Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Carnog, of Dobson, the latter filling in. At the conclusion of the progressions Mrs. P. B. Folger was found to be the winner of high score prize. Mrs. A. P. Cobb was runner up and Mrs. Hogan won the visitor's prize. During a social hour Mrs. Mock served her guests a salad course, sandwiches and Russian tea.

Rev. R. L. West preached Sunday morning at the Baptist church. Miss Mary Cooper, of W. C. U. N. C., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Cooper.

Mrs. C. L. Folger entertained the D. W. C. Council at her home Monday evening. A Brunswick stew dinner with accessories and desserts was served at the club house Saturday evening, sponsored by the Woman's club. Bingo was an attraction of the evening. Proceeds went to the Woman's club.

The Intermediate class of the Baptist Sunday school conducted the prayer service at the Baptist church Wednesday evening. Mrs. Blanche Norman and children, Mary Sue and Thomas, spent the week-end in Sparta with relatives.

DEMOCRACY VS. DICTATORSHIP

In the city of New York — where the European war is being fought — one will hear every side of every question, in every gathering. One side of our question is that old rubbish about Democracy not being able to compete with a one-man military type of government.

Since when? It certainly competed successfully in the "First World War," and in fact has done so ever since it was re-discovered by our forefathers one hundred and fifty odd years ago. Since that memorable time, it rose to the top of the heap and became virtual master of the world.

Then it got rich and fat, and at the moment is suffering from a bad case of dyspepsia superinduced by a gall stone named Hitler. Democracy may be "down" for the moment, but it is about as much "out" as Jack Dempsey was, away back yonder when Firpo knocked him through the ropes.

You remember how Jack, the old Manassa Mauler, came back with his knees wobbling, and terminated the fistic ambitions of Firpo, the wild bull of the Pampas? Dicto-Democratically speaking, the same thing will happen this time. A century and a half trial of government by multiple brain power has proven conclusively that the one-brain variety cannot successfully compete.

In the days before Democracy, every nation was under one-man rule, and the competition between these men was equal. But when the democratic form of multiple thinking entered the game, the nations which adopted this new policy forged rapidly ahead of the others.

Britain became master of a quarter of the earth's dry land, and all of its seas. She became the great center of banking and commerce, and the economic arbiter for us all. France dug herself in at home and built up an empire beyond her borders which was only surpassed in immensity by that of Great Britain. The United States grew from a narrow stretch of territory along the Atlantic Coast to the most potentially powerful nation the world has ever known.

In the wake of these leaders followed the Scandinavian nations and the entire continent of South America. China has been struggling along the same path; even Germany and Russia made a try for it, but missed on their first attempt. The Dictators recognize the existence of this universal urge, and are attempting to combat it by instilling the doctrines of totalitarianism in the youth of their countries. For the moment they are being successful and have imbued certain elements of their populations with a sort of mystic exaltation.

We must re-acquire a commonsense exaltation. We must stop taking Democracy for granted and "go to work on it." We must rally 'round the banner of Freedom with our hearts and souls, for without this freedom they would die. We must defend America, the greatest stronghold of Democracy, and we must brook no interference from within our own borders.

We must seek out those who would destroy us and kick them out of our country. There is plenty of spare room in Germany for our Nazis, and in Italy for our Fascists. There is plenty of room in Russia for the most sinister and dangerous of them all — the Communists. It may be too late if we delay much longer.

Autocracy's agents have been talking "Dying Democracy" in this country ever since we won our independence. They almost burst into song during the last Great War. They now attempt to prove that their war successes in Europe demonstrate that Dictatorship is more effective than Democracy.

But those who are intelligent know that Democracy was simply caught napping; that it is now wide awake and is beginning to surge ahead in this country with a force so irresistible that no power on earth can stop it — and no Dictatorship can equal it when it gets fully under way.

Intelligent people know that this "surprise attack" of Totalitarianism cannot succeed against this country; and in the end, must fall in Europe and Asia, just as have the conquests of all others whose principals have been opposed to that ever-growing and irresistible force — the passion for freedom which we call Democracy.

Hanes Supports Merchants With Large Campaign

The P. H. Hanes Knitting company of Winston-Salem, has always been a firm believer in the sales-power of newspaper advertising. They have found that it reaches prospects and customers directly and quickly. Many times sales are made the same day the advertisement appears.

This season marks the 29th consecutive year of Hanes Underwear advertising. Appearing in The Tribune and in 869 other newspapers, it is easily the largest newspaper campaign in the underwear field. The total circulation used reaches 20 million.

Hanes Winter Sets, which have gained in popularity so much in the last few years, are being featured in this Hanes advertising. These middleweight garments provide indoor comfort with outdoor protection. . . . just the weight for modern winter heating, both in offices and at home.

Hanes Winter Sets have the Hanesknit crotch — guard which gives gentle athletic support with the convenience of a buttonless vent. Hanes Heavyweight Champion and other union suits are also included in the advertising.

The advertisements themselves are breezy in tone with the light, humorous touch that readers like. Such headlines as "Now I'm unaware of underwear" and "I turned freeze into ease" supported by humorous illustrations, win attention and invite a reading of the entire advertisement.

Patronize Tribune advertisers.
