FSA FAMILIES ARE IN LEAD

Doing Excellent Job in Food Production, Conservation, Preservation

IN SPITE BAD WEATHER

In spite of the adverse weather conditions existing in Surry county the farm women are doing an excellent job in food production, conservation and preservation, Miss Rheta Hyatt, Home Management Supervisor for FSA states.

Women are canning an unusual amount of berries and beans to take the place of the fruit shortage. Even though vegetables cannot be substituted value for value for fruit these women realize that it is better to have something in their jars than to have them sitting around empty. Miss Hyatt is urging the canning of all the green food possible so that as many vitamin foods can be carried on the table throughout the entire year as possible. A turnip patch should be grown by every family throughout the year, especially in the winter. This supplements other that is probably most carbohydrate in structure.

Most of us realize, states Miss Hyatt, that war naturally means more diseases and a larger percent of our population victims. We should strive to be in the best physical and mental condition possible in order to give our best services in the war effort.

Our canning quota in this county for FSA families is 100 quarts per person. For instance a family of three sees that there is at least 300 quarts on their shelf this fall; a family of 9 must have 900 quarts on their shelves. This sounds like a lot of jars and it is, but we did it last year and FSA families will do it again this year with the limited variety of food.

The planting of a fall garden is in the minds of everyone and I want to urge you to do this at once, for many of our jars will be filled from this fall garden, says Miss Hyatt. Food at home for our families will mean more food for our boys overseas and in the fighting forces everywhere.

CORN
To help the feed situation, the Commodity Credit Corporation has recently purchased 6 million bushels of corn. Some of this corn will go to war industries.

The War Food Administration says that civilians will get about 7 out of every 10 eggs produced during the coming year — about 3 1-2 billion dozen eggs.

They GIVE their lives — You LEND your money!
