THE DAILY NEWS.

VOLUME 1. CHARLOTTE, N. C., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1889. NUMBER 121.

CRAYON PORTRAITS. Call and see how Fine and Cheap they can be had.

LOCAL RIPPLES.

Postmaster Brady got his papers from Washington to-day.

Mr. C. A. Dixon, of the firm of C. A. Dixon & Co., has gone North to lay in another supply of new goods for his house.

Every industry in Charlotte is booming. The new knitting mills has orders for goods already that will require six months time to supply.

Rev. J. F. Triplett, son of Rev. T. L. Triplett, will fill the pulpit at Church Street, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, next Sunday at 11 A. M., and at 7:45 P. M.

The New York Herald, received today, says that Mr. Cleveland denounces the Goldboro Headlight interview as grossly inaccurate and misleading.

The entertainment at the Academy of Music, tonight, will be one of the sort to please. It will be for the benefit of the Home and Hospital, and should be greeted by a big crowd.

Dr. E. R. Stitt, of this city, who was recently appointed surgeon in the United States Navy, has been ordered to report for duty at Washington City, where he enters the bureau of medicine and surgery.

Capt. E. M. Hayes, who was formerly in charge of the recruiting station here, is in command of a division of the troops in the Oklahoma district, and from all accounts, he is doing good work.

Charlotte will very probably secure the Lutheran seminary. The committee is to meet at the office of Dr. Geo. W. Graham, at 12 o'clock to-morrow.

Passengers who came in on the Carolina Central train today report that there was a big hail storm about Lincolnton yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Jennie Whittington, of Atlanta, who was visiting her brother-in-law, Mr. W. P. Whittington, in this city, died late yesterday afternoon, at Mr. Whittington's residence on Second street.

The friends of Rev. Sam Jones will be interested to learn that his usage against the wickedness of a Francisco appears to have had the effect. People went to hear the Georgia revivalist as they would go to circus, and they laughed even when he roundly abused their city and named it a modern Sodom.

Washington's original hatchet is hanging in a conspicuous place in the news office. The New York committee has unavailingly implored to forward it to the Loan Exhibit. That relic is too precious to risk a great distance from home.

Death of a Young Man. Mr. Douglas, son of Mr. D. Theodore, died at the home of his father, in Steel Creek township, at 10 minutes to three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Personal Notes. Mrs. Mamie Vance, of Greensboro, S. C., is on a visit to H. C. Ward. Mrs. Alberta B. Jones, of Ward Mine, is visiting Mrs. W. Bailey.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Meeting at the Hall Last Night—The Lutheran Seminary, Shoe Factory, Etc.—Resolutions of Thanks—Mr. Tiddy and the Matter of Publication.

At a meeting of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce last night, Mr. C. Duls, upon invitation of the Chamber, informed the members of the particulars of a proposed Seminary to be erected by the Synod of the United Lutheran Church, South, embracing the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, and parts of Virginia and Florida.

The building will be of a high class and the buildings will cost about $50,000, and if the citizens of Charlotte will take $10,000 stock in the enterprise the buildings will most likely be located here.

After hearing Mr. Duls a resolution was adopted that the Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the proposition, and that a committee be appointed to act with the Lutheran Church committee, of which Mr. Duls is a member, to obtain subscriptions to the stock of the company and to report to Capt. T. L. Seigle not later than Wednesday of next week.

The committee consists of Dr. Geo. Graham, W. M. Wilson, J. S. Spencer, W. B. Nisbet, and M. P. Pegram, Jr. Mr. Duls stated that the subscriptions would not be called for until a site is secured and ground broken.

Mr. John VanLandingham stated that the proposed shoe factory in Charlotte is an established fact; that the capital stock would be $50,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $200,000; and that 185 shares had been taken, not over forty of which are owned in Charlotte.

The following resolution in regard to the new passenger station in Charlotte was adopted: "That this Chamber acknowledges and appreciates the efforts made by the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company in building such an ornament to Charlotte and caring for her welfare and the comforts of her traveling public, by the building of the handsome passenger depot, and we as a body return our thanks for the same."

It was also resolved "that this Chamber returns its thanks to the Richmond & Danville and Seaboard Companies for their concession of low rates of travel to our celebration on the approaching 20th and 21st of May."

The subject of making publication of the proceedings of the Chamber of Commerce was brought up and was quite animated. Mr. M. C. Mayer proposed that a committee consisting of the president, secretary, and Gen. T. F. Drayton, should meet after the adjournment of the Chamber and select such parts of the action as they deemed advisable and have them published.

The secretary, Mr. R. N. Tiddy, declined to remain after the adjournment of the Chamber, which was sometimes very late, for any such a purpose.

A call was made for the reading of the action of the Chamber at a previous meeting on the subject of publishing the proceedings.

Mr. Tiddy read from the minutes of the meeting of January 5, 1888, as follows: "The secretary was instructed to furnish for newspapers in the city of Charlotte such information in regard to our proceedings as might seem advisable."

A motion to repeal this action of the Chamber was lost.

A proposition to admit reporters of Charlotte newspapers was not pressed to a vote.

The secretary stated that on the days following the meetings he would make up a synopsis of the proceedings, so far as they ought to be published, and hand it to the press, or that came out first afterwards, and from that the other papers could copy.

It was stated in the Chamber that the publication of any other matter than from the secretary would be regarded as a breach of faith.

Gen. Drayton gave the secretary emphatic warning that he would be held responsible for all publications of the proceedings, and that he must be careful of what he allowed to be printed.

Messrs. Elliott & Marsh, furniture manufacturers, were unanimously elected members of the Chamber.

Let the Tall Policeman Pull the Bell Rope.

On the morning of April 30, 1889, at 9 o'clock, it has been arranged that the church bells all over the country shall ring to celebrate the event of one hundred years ago, when the church bells throughout thirteen States rang out to call the people together to pray for the success and prosperity of the country under Gen. Washington, that day inaugurated President of the United States.

A call is made from the committee having charge of these arrangements that in every church in the land service be held to implore a continuance of the favor which has been shown the nation since its birth.

It would be appropriate for Col. L. A. Blackwelder, Charlotte's tall policeman, to put on his Mexican veteran badge and do the bell ringing act in Charlotte on the morning of the 30th.

The Municipal Outlook.

The registration books for the municipal election closed yesterday at sundown. There was but little new registration, as the same books are used as in the mayor's election two years ago.

The whites have a majority in each ward, except perhaps in Ward 2, where there was a very heavy registration of colored voters two years since.

A great many of these have moved away, while others were "floaters," who will find it difficult to float again, judging from the registration; the re-election of Mayor McDowell is a foregone conclusion.

But safe as he appears, the Democrats of Charlotte should remember that his safety depends upon their votes, and all should turn out. With a full Democratic vote, nobody can beat McDowell, but there is danger in indifference, or over confidence.

Brother Munday.

The Statesville Landmark says that "the Concord Times jumps on the Charlotte News for comparing Jo Munday to Sam Jones. We are very much obliged to the brother for relieving us of that job. Joey is a native of Statesville and we were just fixing to jump on the News for the same thing."

Possibly THE NEWS did not make its meaning clear enough for the brethren. It was not our intention to hold up Brother Munday as a second Sam Jones. What we desired to make plain was that he endeavored to preach after Sam Jones' style; in other words, that he aped Sam. Sheath your swords, brethren. By the way, maybe we don't catch on to the Landmark's meaning.

Struck by a Train.

The Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta passenger train and a bulky team came into a collision at the Trade street passenger station at noon today. The train was backing through the yard, and just as it was nearing the crossing a team belonging to Mr. Jim Sims stalled in the middle of the track.

There was a man and a boy in the wagon, and their danger became known to the engineer none to soon. The speed of the train was very materially reduced when it struck the wagon.

The wagon was overturned and one wheel was shattered to pieces. The man escaped unhurt, but the boy was painfully cut about the head.

Bishop Held in Asheville.

Bishop Held is visiting in Asheville, and will hold services in St. Lawrence's Church at that place next Sunday. He will administer the rite of confirmation upon several postulants at the close of the eleven o'clock mass, in which he will be assisted by Rev. Father White, rector of St. Lawrence's, and seven visiting Roman Catholic clergymen now in that city.
