PROF. TRIPP'S GRAND DESCRIPTIVE SERIES.
"France and Europe, Since 1848."
A graphic portrayal of the marvelous political transformations and thrilling dramatic episodes, with vivid delineations of the prominent actors, including the momentous Eastern question, past and present, with the latest developments, threatening the peace of Europe, illustrated by large colored maps; the fruit of more than thirty years' research, largely from personal and original sources, and combining the fascination of romance with the rarest historical knowledge; extensively delivered before brilliant audiences in the principal cities in twenty-five States, from Maine to Texas, in California and Canada, and emphatically indorsed and commended by eminent authorities in Europe and America, including ex-President Porter, of Yale College; late President Sears, of Brown University; Bishop Huntington, of New York; late Bishop Haven, of Michigan University; Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati; Rev. Dr. Palmer, of New Orleans; Gen. Sir P. McDougal, of Halifax, N. S., and more than ten thousand others among the most distinguished, cultured and discriminating minds in all parts of the country. (Particulars hereafter.) apr30dit

LOCAL RIPPLES.

—No telegraph markets were received today, on account of Father George's celebration.
—The commission house of Tardy & Walker has been moved to the Buford Hotel, Fourth street entrance.
—The first game of ball of the season will be played at Baseball Park Thursday afternoon between the Charlottes and the Charlotte Juniors.
—The grandmother of engineer Gruber and musician Gruber helped to strew flowers in Washington's pathway on the occasion of his inauguration in New York, one hundred years ago.
—Mr. H. Baruch was heard to remark today that the goods turned out by Jones & Lockwood's knitting mills are the best he has ever handled. He has handled lots of brands, and this is a compliment to a Charlotte factory worth having.
—The meeting of the Philharmonic Society last night was quite largely attended, and arrangements were perfected for the entertainment at the opera house next Friday night. The opera house will be beautifully decorated and a splendid treat is in store for our people.
—Among the opinions handed down in the Supreme Court yesterday were: State vs. Weddington, from Mecklenburg, no error; State vs. Hinson, from Mecklenburg, no error. The State vs. Massey, from Lincoln, was argued by the Attorney General for the State and W. J. Montgomery and W. A. Hoke for the defendant.

Work Commenced.
Ground was broken today for the addition to the Buford House. The addition is to be a three-story brick structure running back on Fourth street, and it will just double the capacity of the house. The addition and improvements will cost $30,000. Mr. Josiah Asbury has the contract.

A School Teacher's Bereavement.
Miss Maggie White, of White Oaks, S. C., who has been teaching school in Crab Orchard township, this county, yesterday received a telegram from her home requesting her to announce a vacation and return home. She answered that she would take vacation on Friday. Yesterday her brother arrived here for her. Her father had dropped dead, but they did not want to send this shocking news to her by telegraph.

Golden Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Rudisill today celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage, and the congratulations of their many friends will be showered upon this estimable couple. Mr. Rudisill was married in Mt. Mourne, and he tells it as one incident of his bridal trip that he had to ride horseback all the way to Charlotte to secure a buggy for himself and bride, as there was no buggy in all that region in those days.

Personal Notes.
Col. John E. Brown, Solicitor of the Criminal Court, left today on a business trip to Mobile and Texas. He will be absent for a week.
Mr. James Oates and family returned to the city today.
Mr. B. F. Tipton, editor of the Mt. Holly News, is at the Central.
Mr. S. S. Wolfe and Mr. W. C. Wolfe, of Monroe, are in the city today.
Mr. S. M. Howell left today for Columbia to visit relatives and friends.
Dr. Jos. H. Gibbon returned home from Philadelphia today, where he has been attending lectures in the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania.
Miss Minnie Burks, of Virginia, is visiting friends in Charlotte, the guest of her sister Mrs. Terry, at the Central.

And Don't You Forget It.
That the Unique Entertainment will be again open tonight at 8.30 sharp at the Academy of Music. Change of programme—preserving the salient features of the former.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

THE DAY IN CHARLOTTE.

Business Suspended and All Take a Holiday.—Services at St. Peter's.

Charlotte, the birthplace of American Independence, celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of Washington's inauguration in a quiet but becoming style. Those of our people who couldn't go to New York took a holiday. Nearly all the stores were closed throughout the entire day, and it looked very much like Sunday in town. There was no formal celebration in the city, but services commemorative of the event were held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church at nine o'clock in the morning, conducted by the rector, the Rev. Jos. Blount Cheshire, Jr. A very large congregation attended, among the audience being representatives from all the churches of the city. The services were of the form prescribed for the occasion, and were very impressive. Mr. Cheshire read an appropriate Psalm and then spoke for fifteen or twenty minutes upon the questions that concern our country. He spoke of Washington as a religious soldier, president, and man, and referred to Mr. Harrison as a prototype in this regard. Referring to the Constitution of the United States, Mr. Cheshire said that from its wording one could not tell whether it were framed by Pagan or Christian minds, and that the attention of the religious world had been called to this fact time and again. Mr. Cheshire touched also upon the proper observance of the Sabbath, temperance, and other points. His address was one of deep interest, and, though brief, was just what was needed for the occasion.

The only decoration noticed about town was at the mint building. The flagstaff, which was blown down by a storm over a year ago, has not yet been replaced, but the national colors hung in festoons from the front of the building.
Picnic parties, fishing parties, and strolling companies of dudes, were the order of the day.

Just a Glimpse.
"Charlotte seems to be growing a little," said a visitor to a NEWS reporter today.
"Correct," replied the reporter. "In addition to the new residences going up, and the new depot, knitting mills, and factories just completed, let me tell you a thing or two. Work is now progressing in this town on the following—
G. W. Bryan's storehouse, $7,000
The public building, $10,000
Oil and fertilizer works, $200,000
Burdock House, $25,000
Refrigerator works, $5,000
Central Hotel, $10,000
Oil refinery, $25,000

"Just think of that! But that is not all. Building enterprises, in addition to the above, amounting to $115,000 are already looked for in Charlotte for the present year." Verily, Charlotte continues to move.

A Rare Literary and Historic Treat.

As may be seen by advertisement, Prof. Alonzo Tripp, of Boston, the widely known traveller, author and lecturer on Europe, may be expected to give shortly in Charlotte a course of three of his descriptive series on the latest great epochs of French and European history, with personal reminiscences of the prominent actors, including the momentous Eastern question, past and present, with the latest developments threatening the peace of Europe, illustrated by large colored historic maps.
Prof. Tripp has made his grand theme a life work. He has visited Europe three times, and resided abroad. He was an eye witness of the great Paris revolutions of February and June, 1848, and was in the Chamber of Deputies the second day of the revolution of February in the private box of Minister Ruch. He has lectured the present season at Rutgers and Princeton Colleges and Plainfield, N. J., and in North Carolina at Raleigh, two courses, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Salem and Winston, and at the University at Chapel Hill, with numerous votes of thanks from his audiences. The productions have attained wide celebrity, and are emphatically indorsed and commended by eminent authorities in Europe and America, including, in our own State, such distinguished gentlemen as Chief Justice Smith and Dr. Grimsom, of Raleigh, and Rev. Dr. Charles Phillips, of Chapel Hill.

Looks Like Abe Lincoln.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, of Shelby, who went to Boston and is now in charge of a large church in New York, is the talk of the papers. Some one has discovered that he bears a remarkable resemblance to Abraham Lincoln, and the papers are handling him about. The current account reads: "Mr. Dixon is a tall, gaunt man, six feet in height, with a slight stoop. Long-limbed, hollow cheeked, and sunken-eyed, with black, dishevelled hair falling over a broad forehead, he is a typical Southerner, and his appearance is very striking. Well known people of his native State and of Boston speak of his pulpit oratory in the highest terms. He impresses everybody by his intense earnestness, which carries conviction with it. Many of his recently published sermons have excited remark, and, although sensationalism is far from his thoughts, he is likely to be charged with it. His work in Boston was remarkable, and he succeeded in gathering a great congregation around him, scores of people, young and old, having joined his church during his short pastorate. The Twenty-third street church members only half as many as the congregation he has left, and is with a special prestige. Mr. Dixon feels in this its attractiveness, and hopes to make the church a centre of Baptist activity in the city. His striking resemblance to Abraham Lincoln will aid in making this a prominent character in the life of New York."

EXTRAORDINARY SALE
Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, & Hats Begins Today.

EVERYTHING MUST BE SOLD.

Ladies and Gentlemen,
LISTEN—Our store in the Central Hotel building, as familiar to you as your own homes and firesides, is to be remodelled, improved, enlarged and fitted up in palatial style. The work will be begun right away, just as soon as we can dispose of the stock. We've an enormous large stock, and as remodeling will be general, we must sell it; can't do anything else. So today we will begin a
SLAUGHTER SALE
—OF—
OUR * ENTIRE * STOCK.
A sale such as has never been seen in this city. Not a garment of any description will escape. We've made reductions that will wake the State. We want to put these facts into your head and we want 'em to stick there. The goods we are compelled to sacrifice now are new goods of this season. Reliable, Staple CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS such as we have always kept. As our entire store will be remodelled and improved, we can't keep any goods in any nook or corner, so the compulsion to sell is very great. The stock to be sold is simply enormous, and the time very, very short. To empty the store in the shortest possible time we've boiled prices and values down to such a consistency as will pack our store and keep it packed till every dollar's worth of stuff under our roof is gone. Be punctual.

HERE'S A BONA FIDE SACRIFICE.

CREAM. CREAM.
I have recently added ten fresh cows to my herd, which enables me to deliver sweet Cream at 25 cents per quart—proportionately for smaller quantities. I will also sell a limited quantity of milk partially skimmed for 15 cents per gallon. This is delicious sweet milk and I can highly recommend it to dyspeptics, invalids and children.
My Lactone and clover gives my milk a beautiful color.
Very respectfully,
M. D. WATKINS.
